THE EASTERN TRIP

Team Plays Fine Ball and Wins Majority of Games—Minich Pitches No-hit Game Against St. John's.

Three out of five games were victories on the Easter trip made by the varsity. Dartmouth was "taken over" at Atlantic City 6 to 5, then rain prevented the game scheduled for Friday, April 14, with Manhattan, Brown beat us 6 to 2 on Saturday, we won from Springfield Training School 8 to 1 and from St. John's college 4 to 0, and then Princeton trimmed the Blue and White 8 to 3 in the final encounter of the eastern invasion. This was a fairly successful trip but none of our twirlers except Minich was in the best of form and our batters did not prove as formidable as was expected against the Brown and Princeton pitchers.

The victory over Dartmouth was won in the eighth inning after we had fought an uphill battle, Young was hit by a pitched ball in this round, Whitney sacrificed him to second and clean singles by Bub and Kelly netted us the two runs that gave us the our fine triumph over "the Green" nine. Brown won its game when Reilly smashed out a triple in the fifth inning with the bases full, Conzelman proved very effective while the Providence batters got a total of only six hits off Klepfier and Minich, but the latter proved more opportune than our five singles.

The Springfield Training School game proved to be a rather loosely played affair and an easy victory for Captain Kelly's team. Blythe was hit on the head with a pitched ball before the game began, while "Jack" Eberlein was incapacitated in the fifth inning when shortstop Keyes laid him low on an attempt to catch a runner at the plate. Bub became ill on the way from New York and did not play in either the Brown or Springfield game.

Jay Minich did not allow a single hit by the St. John's college batters—probably the first time this feat has ever been accomplished by a Penn State pitcher. Eight men were fanned by the former class-league twirler and only one "pass" handed out. On errors, Burchell got to second base in the seventh inning but he died there and no others got as far. Our scores came on timely hits by Blythe, Haddow and Young.

Minich started to twirl the Princeton game on the day following his great St. John's victory, but Coach McCleary took him out in the sixth inning when he began to weaken. Kelly knocked in all three of our tallies on hard smashes, while Prescott's triple with the bases full in the seventh squelched our hopes for a victory over the Tigers. Greenbaum pitched an excellent game—but we wish we had another chance to down Princeton this season! The scores of the Easter Week Trip follow:

THE SOUTHERN TRIP

Team Wins Two Out of Three Swamps Navy 10-1. Eberlein Stars at Bat, and Craig on Bases.

After winning from Bellefonte Academy on Old Beaver field, in the opening game, our nine left the next day for its annual southern jaunt. On Wednesday, April 5, the game with Virginia was prevented by rain, then we won two out of the remaining three contests on the journey.

With "Bruno" Klepfier on the firing line Washington and Lee was easily beaten on Thursday 7 to 1. The following day the Lexington college "got back" at us 3 to 2, although Whitney twirled splendidly. This game was lost, because the usual Penn State "pep" was very little in evidence, probably on account of the southern sun; our men did not hit with men on bases, nine being left on the circuit. Jay Minich pitched a great game against the the Midshipmen on Saturday, April 8, and the best victory of the trip was won. Eberlein hit well on the jaunt and Craig proved to be fast on the bases. It is to be regretted that the University of Virginia game could not have been played but it is possible that the Blue and White will meet the Virginians here on June 12, of Commencement week.

TRACK NEWS.

All eyes will be centered on Franklin field this coming Monday when the best eastern colleges will compete in the annual relay races. All the men selected to represent Old State, with the exception of one, have already demonstrated their running ability to the student body. "Jim" Leyden, being a freshman, has had no chance to demonstrate his ability but in recent trials he has proved himself capable of producing the goods. The team which will go to Philadelphia this Saturday is composed of Miller, Fisher, Leyden, Chubb and "Bill" Hoskins. The men will run in the order given, this order having been determined by trials held on New Beaver Field. Miller being the senior member of the team will act as Captain.

On May 20, a Novice meet will be held on New Beaver Field which will be the first meet of this kind ever held at State. Mr. C. W. Heppenstall an old time football player who is at present a prominent and successful iron man in Pittsburgh, has donated the metals for the intercollegiate and discuss events. There will be fourteen events in all. Mr Heppenstall is interested in the development of the student body as a whole and wants to stimulate the interest in all around athletics to those students who are not now interested. It is assumed that a meet of this kind will not only be a great benefit to the mass of students who are at present taking no active interest in athletics, but that it will also be a means of developing men for our varsity teams. The importance of the minor sports should be realized by the students. Last year the minor sports work developed a sufficient number of men, the majority of whom were unaware of their athletic ability, to defeat Dickinson 77 to 33 in a dual meet at State while the first team met Navy at Annapolis on the same day. THE CLIMATOLOGERS

Thesians Annual Production a Big Hit Both at Home and Abroad. Longest and Most Successful Trip Ever Attempted By Any Dramatic Organization of the College.

On Friday evening, April 7, the Thesians produced the Climatologists to a large and appreciative audience in the Auditorium. The play was of special interest here, owing to the fact the scenes were of local color and that the play was written especially for the Thesians. To Mr. Charles Leon Downing, of Philadelphia, who wrote the play and coached the men to perfect form, not enough credit and praise can be given. His splendid work showed itself very plainly in the perfectly staged and well executed play.

Every character of the show was well portrayed and the work of the chorus was exceptionally brilliant. H. P. Armstrong as "Bob. Janey", a student, contributed greatly to the success of the show by his usual characteristic and entertaining vocal numbers. The wealthy widow, "Mrs. Payne", who was finally forced to yield to the forces of Climatology, was represented in a most able manner by E. E. Ludwick. Mrs. Payne's niece, "Dora Manning", was portrayed by Alexander Gray, third. The astounding mysteries of Climatology were unraveled by Mr. Hassler, as "Dr. Knowlittle" and his wonderful science saved the entire company from destruction, "Mary Knowlittle", the Doctor's daughter, was played in a splendid manner by R. F. Hemingway and with E. F. Tanguy as "Si. Archie Montgomery", scored a big hit in "College Sights". Alexander Gray as the Scotch Chauffeur, "Donald McLavish", created a hit in the "Scotch Fling" which received much applause. The rather amusing role of the bashful Freshman, "Ephaniah Hibbs", was taken in perfect style by R. T. Gheen, Mr. Guthrie filled the part of "Tillie Tuttle" in a manner not to be criticised. The chorus consisted of the following as girls:—C. M. Breiting, P. G. Salam, E. F. Glock, C. E. Cronemyer, E. F. James, C. P. Trotter, and L. C. Barton Jr. As men: E. C. Turner, A. M. Hoover, B. A. Darragh, K. S. Stevenson, D. W. Lloyd, W. R. Murphy, and J. M. Snyder.

The company assembled at Lancaster on Monday, April 17 and after a rehearsal produced the show to a good house. Afterward a dance was tendered them by the Iris Club. The next day they left for Harrisburg and showed there to an exceptionally good audience. Among the notable persons attending at this performance were Mrs. G. K. Tener, Dr. Sparks and H. Walton Mitchell, one of the trustees of this College. At Shamokin, the next day, a fair house awaited them in spite of bad weather and they were entertained at a dance after the play. Clearfield gave them a very good house and also a dance after the show. The audience at Punxsutawney was the smallest of any, yet it was very appreciative. On Saturday night, April 22, the last show of the trip was staged at Bellefonte to a very large crowd.

The show took exceptionally well everywhere and according to the
