

A PENN STATE VICTORY

St. Bonaventure Eleven Defeated by a 46-0 Score. An Entire New Team Scores 17 Points in Second Half.

In a rather onesided game last Saturday Captain Very and his remarkable football machine added another victory by defeating St. Bonaventure 46-0. The speed and spirit that was shown by our men clearly displayed that they had come out of the magnificent victory over Penn the week before in splendid condition. From the beginning of the game the play of the Blue and White was far superior to that of their opponents in every department. The line could not stop our backs and their ends were skirted almost at will for long gains, while, when St. Bonaventure had the ball, their offense was weak, the runner usually being thrown for a loss or no gain. The most spectacular play of the game came in the second period when Barrett threw a beautiful forward pass from our forty yard line to Very who ran the remaining distance to the goal for our fourth touchdown.

At the beginning Barrett kicked off to St. Bonaventure on their twelve yards. After making two yards around their own left end, St. Bonaventure lost the ball by having two forward passes fail. On the next play Engle made a brilliant 30 yd. run to our 4 yd. line. Barry carried the ball over for the first touchdown. Barrett failed to punt out.

The second score was made by Barrett, the ball having been advanced to our six yards line on plays by Barry who caught the kickoff and returned to the middle of the field, Very who ran twenty-five yares around left end, and by Miller who in running for a touchdown, stepped out of bounds on his own six yard line. Barrett kicked goal. Harlow went over for the next score and Very on a forward pass ran about sixty yards for the fourth touchdown. Barrett ran from the center of the field to St. Bonaventure's goal near the end of this period for the fifth touchdown.

St. Bonaventure showed her best football in the latter part of the second quarter. Clare on two successive plays broke up the interference and tackled the runner. In three tries our opponents made their only first down of the period, and then on an onside kick recovered the ball on our twenty-seven yard line. However at this stage of the game Wilson secured a fumble and Barrett immediately kicked the ball out of danger.

The second half started with a whole new Penn State lineup, excepting Barrett. The men who were sent in this period, under Hermann, played good ball and before the game was ended added seventeen points to the previous score of twenty-nine points, Tobin, Welling, and Berryman each getting a touchdown.

During the first half all the men played exceptional football considering the fact that so much energy had been used up in the preparation and the victory over Pennsylvania. From the regular lineup Mauthe was missed, but Barrett, who kicked in Mauthe's absence, got his kicks off well and scored four out of five goals after touchdown. Hansen has developed into a guard of the first order. Wilson played a consistent game at left end, breaking up most of St. Bonaventure's end rushes and himself getting away for an eighteen yard run around the other end besides recovering a fumble at the end of St. Bonaventure's only stand.

The work of the forwards in the second half was also very good, while the seventeen points scored demonstrated how clearly we can be congratulated for having two strings of brilliant backs.

Doctor Sparks' Home Coming.

It was gratifying to see how many men came out to meet Doctor Sparks last Sunday night in the Auditorium to hear about his four thousand mile trip through the Western college and Universities. He has much of interest to give us concerning the student activities of these centers of learning and how the life at Penn State is influencing them.

Doctor Sparks very happily yielded his place to Mr. Balmer and the Kaffir boys last Sunday night and his account of his trip has been postponed until this coming Sunday evening at 6:30 in the Auditorium. With our busy college life it is not often we have the privilege of meeting in a personal unofficial way our president and we trust a large number of the students will feel it their privilege to be present.

First Agricultural Special.

Last Saturday the first agricultural train sent out this year by the Pennsylvania railroad completed a three day's tour through the western part of the state. The heads of the various departments in the Agricultural school gave lectures at the following places along the line—Pitcairn, Greensburg, New Alexandria, Latrobe, Bolivar, Blairsville, Indiana, Saltsburg, Apollo, Freeport, Cabot, Butler, Fairchance, Scottsdale, Madison, Gratztown and Irwin.

INTERCLASS WRESTLING MEET

Sophomore and Freshman Wrestling Teams Have Been Working Hard.

Friday evening at 8.00 in the Armory the annual wrestling match between the two lower classes will be held. Manager Rishell, '14, has been working hard with his coaches to develop a strong team for the sophomores, while Manager Gleason '15, will lead a team on the mat that will be determined to win the first contest with respect to athletics between the respective classes. The coming event will do much toward getting an idea of wrestling material in the freshman class especially. On the varsity wrestling team this year there will be several new places to fill.

Pittsburg Alumni Enjoy Smoker.

An enthusiastic crowd of some seventy Penn State men gathered at the University Club last Saturday evening. It was the best attended smoker yet held in this vicinity, a pleasing feature being the large number of new members.

Considerable interest and enthusiasm was worked up in anticipation of the Pitt game here on Thanksgiving Day. There is general appreciation of the intention this year to keep the cheering section for men only. This will be of advantage in concerted cheering and of great assistance to the leaders.

Pittsburg men are looking forward to this game with a great deal of enthusiasm. It is their hope that the defeat of last year will be more than wiped out and in order that this may be are straining every energy in this direction. It was decided to hold a smoker at the Fort Pitt Hotel the night before the game. More particulars in regard to this event will be announced later, but the committee promises a celebration which will bring the spirits of Penn State men to the highest notch and send a strong supporting body of men out to the game the following afternoon.

The meeting Saturday evening was marked by the large number of football men present, Hollenback and McCleary, coaches; Watson and Gray of last year's team, Heppenstall and Sweet of former years.

The Co-ed Show.

Great preparations are being made for the play to be given on the evening of November 18 by the women students of the college. A competent dramatic coach, Mr. G. Stuart Bradock, has been secured, and is conducting rehearsals. The auditorium should be crowded on the night of the "Co-ed Show."

We Wonder.

If there will be enough wood for the other bonfires.

If the "Coop" window isn't an excellent bulletin board.

Why all boarding houses don't celebrate football victories.

Why there was such serious objection to standing to cheer for the team last Saturday.

The chapel speaker for Sunday, November 12, will be the Rev. Samuel Semple, of the First Presbyterian church, Titusville, Pa.

Word from "Tommy" Fennell.

A recent letter from "Tommy" Fennell who coached the Penn State team several seasons says: "You will realize how much I am tied up when I state that, although I was elected Chairman of the Cornell Football Field Committee, I have been unable to be in Ithaca at any time before or during the present football season, except to take a hurried trip over in the auto the day Cornell played Penn State, and, by the way, it was a very fine game of football. Penn State certainly has a splendid football team and I congratulate you and the men in charge of the team on being able to produce such a successful team."

"I have just received word from Penn State that there is at present a slight misunderstanding with the Cornell authorities as to a wrestling meet and some other matters. I will take steps immediately to see what I can do to straighten the matter out.

"I believe you had better not count on my coming down to State to make a talk on any Sunday morning as I do not now see any chance of my setting a particular date and then being able to keep the engagement. I certainly would not want to set a date and then not be on hand. However, it might be possible for me to run down some time during the spring term on some occasion when you have a meeting of the student body in the evening of a week day, for some purpose or other. You may be sure that nothing would give me greater pleasure than to meet all my old friends at State College and to say whatever I was able to help the boys to follow the right path. There is no greater work, not even of the clergy itself, than that done by the college presidents and professors in starting young men out into the battle of life with the developed equipment to bring success and the character to make that success come with honor. You may be sure that I will always be willing to do anything I can to help you men in the great work you are doing."

Mr. Fennell is now a member of the law firm of Thurston & Fennell, at Elmira, New York.

Graham of North American will Visit College.

On Tuesday, November 14, Mr. Geo. Graham, sporting editor of the Philadelphia North American, will be at the college with a staff of photographers to prepare for a special illustrated writeup on the college and our football team. This article will appear in the Sunday supplement of the "North American" within the next few weeks.

Mr. Graham who is one of the very prominent sporting writers of the day, will address the student body in mass meeting on Tuesday evening on the subject "College Football". As Mr. Graham visits the majority of our colleges in the course of his work, we will suffer or gain according to the companions he draws. Let us turn out in full force to give him a true Penn State reception, and to show him the true position of the college.

Pittsburg on Thanksgiving Day.

Full details regarding all arrangements for the Pittsburg trip will be given at mass meetings before Thanksgiving time. Watch for the notices, and don't miss a mass meeting.

MUSICAL CLUB CONCERT

Pittsburg and Penn State Combine to Give Concert in Memorial Hall on Nov. 20.

One of the social events of the coming Thanksgiving season at Pittsburg will be the concert given by the Musical clubs of Pittsburg University and those of Penn State. The clubs of both schools have been working for the past four weeks in preparation for this event and it bids fair to be a contest for supremacy among the various clubs taking part in the program.

Immediately following the concert a large dance will be held in the ball room of the Schenley Hotel and every student of Penn State should aim to be present on this occasion with a partner. Special student rates of fifty cents, will be given for the concert, the regular charge being one dollar, each student having the privilege of buying one student ticket. The rates for the dance have not been definitely decided upon by the management but announcement will be made in a later issue.

Penn State will be represented by the Quartette, the Mardolin Club of fifteen men, the Glee Club of twenty men, and in addition to the numbers given by these organizations, each club will have several soloists. Pittsburg is coming out to make this concert a success financially and socially, and it is the duty of every Penn State man who is in Pittsburg at this time, to attend the concert and dance and make the occasion completely successful.

Pennsylvania Day.

Friday, Nov. 17 has been set aside as the date for the Pennsylvania Day celebration in 1911. Promises of attendance have already come from many prominent men of the state. The exercises of the day will consist of an address by The Hon. James L. Watson, of Indiana, who will be introduced by Governor John K. Tener, a review of the regiment of 1100 college cadets by Major General Thomas J. Stuart, Adjutant General of the National Guard of Pennsylvania; an inspection of the buildings, laboratories, shops and campus and a game of football between the teams of the sophomore and freshman classes. By this varied program it is hoped to give visitors a glimpse of the life of the seventeen hundred students now enjoying the benefits of an education provided largely by the munificence of the state. Special provision will be made to care for representatives of the press.
