THE DUNBAR BELLRINGERS.

Musical Entertainment Given Under Management of the Pharsonians Saturday Evening.

Last Saturday evening at the Auditorium the well known Dunbar musicians gave their always pleasing entertainment, under the auspices and management of the Penn State Pharsonians. The Dunbar company is well known in State College, and, needless to say, the performance was greatly enjoyed by the audience.

The program was entirely different from that given here last year. Besides the musical selections played on the wonderful chimes, cello solos, and cello and flute duets were played. The vocal numbers were very pleasing, consisting of quartettes and solos. Pleasing variations from the music were the comic readings given by Mr. Harry Dunbar in his inimitable style. The Pharsonian management is to be complimented in securing this sterling attraction.

Y. M. C. A. Lecture Course

Ross Crane, the well known cartoonist will be with us the next year, on Saturday evening, January 6th. Mr. Ross has made a specialty in the past years of entertaining his audiences, not only by means of cartoons and clay models, but also by rendering some very humorous little burlesques, and by reciting some little poems.

All the various phases of the program are achieved in such an incomparable manner, that one could not do otherwise than to recognize in this man, an artist, who not having been content with the mastery of a single art, has perfected himself in several. Everyone having come in contact with or having heard of Mr. Ross is looking forward to his entertainment with anticipation.

Every student, and in fact every person in State College, should make it a point, at least, to endeavor to hear and to see the performance of this remarkable man. It will be well worth your time and money.

Resolutions of Condolence.

Whereas, God in his infinite wisdom has seen fit to remove by death, the mother of our esteemed classmate Fred Gayton, be it resolved that the class of 1913 of the Pennsylvania State College extend its sincere sympathy to him and members of the family in their bereavement.

Furthermore, be it resolved that a copy of these resolutions be entered upon the class minutes and be published in the Penn State Collegian.

Be it also resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

Committee: Ira S. Nippes, Chas. E. Swab, Harvey P. Kocher.

Wilber in China.

The many friends of Rev. Francis E. Wilber, formerly General Secretary of the Penn State Y. M. C. A., will be pleased to learn that he is to be in temporary charge of the European Y. M. C. A. at Hong Kong, China, during this winter and next spring. Mail should be addressed to him at that place.

Sophomores Win Another.

In the most exciting interclass basketball game yet played this season, the seniors met their second defeat at the hands of the sophomores by the score of 38-35 on Monday night. One can readily realize that the game was hotly played when it is known that an extra five minute period was necessary to decide to whom the honor belonged.

Neither team showed a decided superiority over the other, although it must be said that the seniors excelled slightly in team work and in long distance goal shooting. Yet the sophomores were in the lead by three points at the end of the first half. It was only by some splendidly fast playing in the second period, that the seniors were able to forge ahead of their opponents and 1914 was fortunate to be able to tie the score. In the extra period which necessarily followed, 1914 won their second victory of this year.

Up to the present time the standing of the teams as shown below gives the sophomores first place with the juniors and freshmen tied for second and the seniors last.

	Won	Lost	Pct.
1914	2	0	100
1913	1	1	.500
1915	1	1	.500
1912	0	2	.000

Out of four games thus far played, three have been exceptionally good and of such a nature as should attract the attention of the lovers of this sport, almost, if not altogether, as much as the varsity games. The scores of three of these contests show also that the teams this year are very evenly matched and some more exciting battles will surely result in the future. Since this is an interclass league, each team deserves and is worthy of the earnest support of their respective classes. At these past few games the fellows have come out in disgustingly poor numbers and as yet very few tickets have been sold—in fact not enough to defray the expenses of the league. The freshmen, especially, have failed to do their duty toward their team which needs encouragement if they are to continue playing the game as they have been in their two contests. Remembering too that much of our varsity basketball material is developed in this league, let us all turn out for the remaining games, the schedule of which follows:—Jan. 9, '13 vs. '14; 16, '12 vs. '15; 31, '14 vs. '15; Feb. 5, '12 vs. '13; 7, '13 vs. '15; 14, '12 vs. '14; 17, '13 vs. '14; 20, '12 vs. '15; 23, '14 vs. '15; 28, '12 vs. '13; March 5, '13 vs. '15; 9, '12 vs. '14; 12, '13 vs. '14; 15, '12 vs. '15.

WE WONDER

If the interclass basket league does not need our support, considering the fact that much of our varsity material is developed there.

If, too, class spirit aroused by large numbers attending the games, would not lend worthy encouragement to those who constitute the league.

If our department of minor sports is not making some rapid progress.

If, however, it would not be well for its constitution to provide immediately for the management of wrestling.

How much happier all of us would be if our Christmas vacation were a week longer.

If we are not having some excellent college preachers of late.

If you will help to make the calendar a success.

If we shall ever tire of hearing the Dunbars.
