Another Athletic team from this college Venture to the realm of sports seems to be meeting with popular favor among students and alumni. In order for any athletic team to prove successful when making its initial appearance, it is almost necessary that two qualifications be fulfilled—firstly, that it make a creditable showing against teams of recognized strength, and secondly, that it hold up its own end financially. On its first trip, the team that went out from this college easily held its own, meeting one defeat and playing two tie games. The defeat was administered by a championship team and the tie games were played with two of the strongest teams in the east. Whether or not soccer football will be a successful venture here is yet to be discovered. If at the end of this season, or probably by the close of the next, the present standard is maintained, the taking of soccer under the protection of the minor sports has been deemed advisable by some. At the present, the game is a little too young at this institution to take hurried steps. It is an assured fact, however, that with the keen, growing interest and the support of the student body, soccer football has come to stay.

A Caution The following has been handed to the Collegian for publication, and since it expresses the real sentiments of the Collegian, we print it on the editorial page:

Recently two successive numbers of Scribner's Magazine at the Library had the frontispiece cut out by some reader. These magazines showed by the regular wear and tear that hundreds of students had read them, leafed them through and enjoyed their contents. But the missing leaf was a direct and personal injury to each one of those readers. The guilty individual can surely get no returns for such malicious thievery. It is in the power of the students themselves to make such acts impossible, and the Library and the Collegian wishes "power to that strong right arm."

Inventories too, show absences of books from the shelves, the Engineering alcove and others, without being charged. Some are secretly returned, and again disappeared for a time. Come men, play fair. All books (except specially reserved and reference) circulate, and it is unfair for any one even temporarily to purloin a book, keeping it from the use of others. A book uncharged or misplaced is a book lost, and a library can only serve all the College Body, by each playing fair according to the rules of the game.

More Feed Per Acre

The cost of producing meat or milk would be much less if it required less acres to produce the feed. Both the quantity and quality of the feed improve when the right plant foods are used to supplement the manure and clover. They improve enough to yield a handsome profit on the expenditure.

The right plant food includes enough in available form. Supplement the manure and phosphate with 50 to 100 pounds of Muriate of Potash, or 200 to 400 pounds of kainit, per acre, and you will raise big corn and fine clover after the grain and at the same time improve the fertility of the soil.

Try Potash salts alone on the swamp land pasture and note the clover and good grasses crowd out the wild hay. Write us for prices of Potash, one bag up.
