performances. Her friend "Emilie," was represented by Miss Sibyl Davis in a most pleasing style.

Probably the most difficult role of the cast was that of "Professor Walter Stern" which was enacted by F. C. Dose in a faultless manner. Mr. Dose filled his part so well and exhibited his many abilities in so skilled a manner that he never failed to please the audience.

The other members of the cast left nothing undone in contributing their share to the show. "Fritz von Brunnen" taken by C. R. Gerth; A. J. Helfrecht as "Ein Lohn-diener;" Elsie H. Ernst as "Ein Dienstmädchen;" Prof. Fehr "Ein Herr;" Mrs. Fehr as "Seine Frau" and Katheryn Etters and Martha Davey as "Ihre zwei Tochter" completed the cast.

Post Festum was a success especially when it is considered that there are more difficulties encountered in the production of an interesting German play than in any other. Thus the Verein is to be congratulated not only for this performance but also for those of previous years.

A Story Teller of Merit.

Rarely do we enjoy real happiness. Only when we assume the garb of childhood, when our mind is allowed to dwell in the "land of dreams" does our joy become intrinsic. Such was the pleasure of the privileged few, who heard Mrs. F. D. Gardner tell her "children's stories" of "Ephemeus and Pandora", of "The Cock, the Fox and the Hen", "How the Camel got Its Hump", "How the Elephant got Its Trunk", and last but not least one of "Uncle Remus" tales. We were again leaning on our mother's knee, looking straight into her face, listening intently and watching every every change in her mood. Our hearts were beating fast and our hope was far the happy outcome of the story. What seemed a perversion to stern wakefulness was the remark, "Did you get the moral?" Yes, our sincerest thanks to Mother Gardner.
