Change of Officers. At a meeting on Monday night the Penn State Collegian Board held its annual elections. R. M. Evans, '13, was chosen Editor in Chief, to take office at once, while M. M. Grubbs, '13, was elected Business Manager, to assume office next fall. In resigning the management of the paper to these new men, we feel that they are fully able to assume the task, and to carry the work to a still higher plane than it has formerly reached.

In relinquishing the positions held since last Easter, the editor and assistant editor wish to thank all those who have rendered assistance to them in the work, and to express particularly their appreciation of the unfailing support of the men on the board, on both the editorial and business staffs. While discouraging obstacles have been met with from time to time, the work of publication of the college weekly has, on the whole, been a source of pleasure and enjoyment to the 1912 members of the board.

We extend to the new men our congratulations upon their election, and our sincerest wishes for a successful year, and for a greater and broader work of the "Collegian."

Keep On the Walks. At this time of the year it seems almost necessary that the annual appeal should be made to the student body to refrain from the practice of deserting the walks for the grass on the campus as soon as the snow melts. An attempt should be made to keep from wearing beaten paths on the grass because of the softness of the sod. A great amount of damage may be done and much grass may be easily killed for all summer with a little tramping at this time. A little thoughtfulness now on the part of many will show its good effects later on in the spring.

Hospital Benefit. The need of a student hospital has so long been apparent that no argument should be necessary to cause every man to buy a ticket for Friday night's entertainment. The lecture itself promises to be one of this season's best, but even if it is impossible for a man to attend, he should help the cause along by buying a ticket. Penn State needs the hospital and it is the affair of every student to help, if only in this small way, to obtain that end.

Call For Editorial Candidates. With the retirement of two members from the editorial staff of this paper a call must be made for three associate editors, one to be chosen from the sophomore class and two from the freshman class. It is desired that a large number of men compete for the places open on the staff. Selections will be made by competition and every man will be given an equal chance to show his ability along the line of reportorial work. It is urged that candidates, when submitting names to the new editor, give their college address and where they can be reached by telephone.

Altoona and Cleveland Alumni Organize.

On Thursday evening, March 14 the Penn State men of the Altoona district held a meeting at the University Club for the purpose of discussing plans for a permanent Penn State Alumni organization in that district. The following men were present: W. E. Mackey ex-'96, J. A. Bender ex-'97, J. M. Craig '01, A. H. Milan '04, R. W. Wharton ex-'05, R. C. Heyl '06, H. H. Kaufman '06, R. P. Graham '07, I. P. Goodman '07, C. W. Goodman '07, J. S. Romig, '07, I. B. Crilly '09, W. J. Madden '09, C. E. Byerson ex-'09, J. F. Mattern '10, J. C. White '11, H. H. Armsby '11.

I. B. Crilly was elected temporary chairman and J. F. Mattern temporary secretary. After the discussion of such an organization, a committee composed of J. A. Bender, J. M. Craig, R. P. Graham and J. F. Mattern was appointed to draft a Constitution and By-laws to be presented at the next meeting which was set for Friday, April 12, the place to be decided on later.

After adjournment the meeting turned into an "Experience" meeting and anecdotes went round that helped to bring back many memories of Penn State.

Mr. Rice Meets Engineers.

Tuesday afternoon, March 19, Mr. Calvin Rice, the well known, eminent engineer and secretary of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, spoke to the senior and junior industrial and mechanical engineers on the advantages of membership in the A. S. M. E. In the evening Mr. Rice addressed a general engineering assemblage on "The Relation of The National Engineering Societies to The Engineer." Immediately following the talk Mr. Rice and the engineers so-journed to the Engineering club room where refreshments were served.

Working Model of a Locomotive.

The loan for an indefinite period of a working model of a modern Pennsylvania type locomotive has been secured for use in class instruction and, for special demonstration in Railway Mechanical Engineering.

The model was made by a former fireman of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Mr. Frank Krumrine, and and took three years of work at odd times in its construction. It is complete with boiler, cylinders, valve, etc., and it is proposed to mount it on wheels and run it by steam from the boiler.

The annual dinner of the Chicago Alumni was held at the University League Club on March 18.

The Pittsburg Alumni will hold their annual dinner at the Pittsburg University Club on Friday, April 12.
