OHIO STATE TROUNCED

The Blue and White Play Brilliantly and Outclass the Scarlet and Gray in every Department of the Game.

Captain Mauthe's Blue and White team presented such irresistible scoring power and stonewall defense against Ohio State at Columbus on Saturday that the final score, nine minutes before the time for regular play was over, was Penn State 37, Ohio State 0. At this time Coach Richards led his men from the field for alleged unnecessary roughness and the official score resulted in a forfeiture to Penn State 1 to 0.

In less than five minutes after play had started everyone at the game realized the superiority of Penn State, for after getting possession of the ball, she put her wonderful scoring machine into operation, and started her first march goalward. From that time on, with the exception of the second quarter the Blue and White scored almost at will, while her own goal line was never endangered.

The Blue and White used a varied attack. Play followed play so fast that the Scarlet and Gray were bewildered and unable to put up but a weak defense.

The Ohio State spectators were rendered speechless with amazement at the fast and furious attack of the Blue and White, which carried all before it. Never had such open field running been seen on Ohio field as that shown by Snorty Miller, never such line smashing and defense as that of Mauthe, never such speed in covering punts and such deadly tackling as that of Very. They set the pace and the other Blue and White warriors pressed their leaders closely for honors every man getting into every play.

Ohio State had won the state championship one week before and earlier in the season had held Michigan to a 14 to 0 score. Her teams have had a reputation for having almost invulnerable lines. But not so on Saturday. In the first offensive play Berryman went through tackle for nine yards and from that time until the end of the game, when a few yards were necessary Mauthe, Berryman, Miller, Welty or Tobin hit the line, and generally made the required distance. On end runs the Blue and White were even more brilliant. Mauthe in his first attempt went around Cherry for 15 yards and Miller on the next play rounded Stover's end of the line for 25 yards. To add more variation, Miller now and then shot a forward pass to one of his waiting teammates. Mauthe's punts together with the fleetness of Very and Wilson in covering them, and Millers returning of McClure's punts provided another method of gaining ground for the Blue and White.

Penn State was equally strong on defense. Ohio State succeeded in making but three first downs during the contest. These were due to short gains through the line. At no time did an Ohio back get away for the semblance of a long run. Their forward passes were even more unsuccessful, as they failed to complete any of their trials. In the line Bebout and Hansen played especially strong games.

For Ohio State Briggs, McClure, and Ryan played the most consistent game. At the start of the game an exchange of punts found Miller in possession of the ball on Penn State's 10 yard line. Berryman then made 9 on a tackle play, Mauthe 15 on a fake kick and Miller 25 yards on an end run. An unsuccessful forward pass, and exchange of punts followed by gains by Welty and Mauthe dropped back to the 40 yard mark from where he kicked a goal from placement. Score: Penn State 3 Ohio State 0.

The next touch down came quickly on line plays by Mauthe & Berryman a pass to Wilson and two 15 yard gains by Miller. Mauthe failed at goal. Score 9 to 0. Immediately after play was resumed, a 15 yard gain by Miller with a 25 yard gain by Very put Penn State within striking distance. Mauthe failed at placement kick, the ball going out of bounds on the three yard line. McClure punted to Miller on Ohio State's 25 yard line. On the first play Miller rounded right end for a touch down. Mauthe kicked goal. Score 16 to 0. The quarter soon ended with no further scoring.

In the second quarter no score was made. Ohio braced and for a short time held the Blue and White at bay and succeeded in making two first downs. Very carried a forward pass 40 yards for a touch down but was called back and the score disallowed.

In the third quarter Penn State again was not to be denied. In less than 2 minutes of play Very had scooped up a punt fumbled by McClure and ran 35 yards for a touch down. Mauthe kicked goal. Score 23 to 0.

Soon after this Bebout was injured so that he had to leave the game for repairs. Vogel took his place. After Mauthe failed at field goal, punts were exchanged and then gains by Mauthe, Miller and Welty carried the ball from midfield over the line. Miller made the touchdown and Mauthe kicked goal. Score Penn State 30 Ohio State 0.

In the third and fourth quarters Ohio State made several substitutions in an attempt to stem the tide of battle, but to no avail. Soon after the fourth quarter started Penn State scored again on forward passes to Engle and Wilson, and gains by Miller and Mauthe the latter going over and then adding the goal. Score 37 to 0.

Following the kick-off Coach Richards ordered his team from the field and Referee Means forfeited the game to Penn State 1 to 0. Whitney replaced Lamb in the second quarter and Tobin substituted during that time for Welty, who returned to the game in the third quarter. He was later replaced by Keller in the fourth quarter. Vogel took Bebout's place while the latter had his head bandaged. These were the only Penn State substitutions. Ohio State had no men injured but made many substitutions throughout the game. Some of her reputed best men were sent in during the latter part of the game, but no noticeable increase in the strength of the team resulted. The Summary:

Wilson	l. e.	Cherry
Engle	l. t.	Barricklow
Bebout	l. g.	Feldwick

Cross-Country.

The annual interclass handicap cross-country meet will be held on Saturday, December 7th. The course, a diagram of which is here shown, will be the same as used heretofore. The fact that the meet is a handicap event makes it possible for all men to enter with an even chance to win. In addition to the regular prizes donated by the merchants of the town, there will be a suitable time prize awarded.

All men who anticipate entering this meet are urged to hand in their names to Mr. Lewis at the Armory, not later than Saturday, November 30th, so that the handicaps can be arranged and posted. For further information see Mr. Lewis or Professor Wright.

The Rivals.

What promises to be a good amateur production is to be staged in the Auditorium on Saturday evening of this week, when the Liberal Arts Society will stage Sheridan's comedy, The Rivals. Professors Frizzell, Harris and Dye have labored diligently and long in drilling each member of the cast for his part. With a snug adjustment of each character to his part, and with the thorough mastery of the lines by the several actors, one can desire little more assurance that the play will be well rendered. Tickets for this production may be procured from Mr. Underwood and will be on sale at the Drug Store, Wednesday morning.

Pittsburgh Concert.

Sixty members of the combined Mandolin and Glee Clubs will make the trip to Pittsburgh on November 27th, on which evening they will entertain the members of the Pittsburgh Alumni Association at a smoker. On the following evening the State-Pitt Mandolin and Glee Club will render their program at Carnegie Hall. Fifty members of this organization will be vocalists, making this entertainment the largest ever produced in the city of Pittsburgh by the organization.

Reserved Seats.

Reserved seats for the Pitt game may be secured at the Athletic Store until next Tuesday. A good section in the Grand Stand has been reserved for our friends.

Vacation at Thanksgiving.

The Council of Administration granted excuses to those men who take the Pittsburgh trip from Wednesday noon to Sunday evening.

Mining Society Organization.

The Mining Society selection of officers for this year is President, R. E. Kirk; Vice President, R. F. Bigham; Secretary, Lindsey, '14.

INTERCLASS WRESTLING MEET

All Classes Will Participate in a Meet for the Interclass Championship.

Plans have been made by Manager Jarrett, Captain Shollenberger and Coach Lewis to hold an Interclass Wrestling Meet just before Xmas vacation, in order to get more men interested in varsity wrestling and to give all new men a better chance to gain in experience. Each class will be represented by a seven-man team and firsts, seconds and thirds will be counted, as is done in the Intercollegiate championships. Men in trying for their respective class teams will be given a chance to challenge men of equal experience, thus giving each man a better show and making the preliminary bouts in each class more interesting. Varsity men will be allowed to participate and without a doubt the meet will be an interesting one. All men interested in the success of Penn State's athletes on the mat this year are requested to get busy in their respective classes in an effort to help their class to win the championship. Further information may be secured upon request from the coach, captain, manager, members of the varsity or assistant managers. Manager Jarrett is arranging a hard schedule for the Penn State Varsity, so let's get busy and help to make this the banner year in wrestling achievements at Penn State.

Dedication of New Building.

The plans for an industrial parade, suggested by the School of Engineering in connection with the dedication of the new Mechanic Arts Building tomorrow morning, have been taken up enthusiastically, and each of the schools in college will be represented by one or more floats depicting its line of activity. The parade will form on Old Beaver Field at 9:30 a. m., proceed to East College Avenue, then up the avenue and to the Armory, where a reviewing stand will be occupied by some of the official visitors of the college.

At the dedication ceremony in the New Engineering Unit, taking place at 10:00 a. m., Governor Tener will preside, and will present the Keys of the building to Mr. J. G. White of New York. Mr. White, in behalf of the trustees of the college, will give over the Keys to the student representative, Mr. G. W. Barger '13.

The dedication of this new building marks the beginning of the proposed Engineering Group which, when completed, will afford the college a wonderful equipment along engineering lines. Every student should realize the importance of the event, and should witness both the parade and the ceremony itself. This appeal is all the more urgent because of the presence of influential state officials, who should be impressed by the interest which Penn State students take in the improvement and advancement of the college.

Smoky City Again.

The Pittsburgh Club of this college will hold a feed and smoker at the Fort Pitt Hotel on Saturday, December 30 at 8 p. m. Everybody will be welcome of course.
