

PENN STATE COLLEGIAN.

VOLUME 9 NUMBER 15

STATE COLLEGE, PA., JANUARY 15, 1913

PRICE FIVE CENTS

THE SERVICE CAMPAIGN

Y. M. C. A. Will Hold Series of Meetings February 4-9. Prominent Speakers to Take Part.

"Service" is the keynote of the campaign to be held here at State during the first week of the second semester, Feb. 4-9. Experts on different lines of Christian and social service will be here to discuss ways and means by which college men in cities, towns, mining and construction camps and country communities can help in this process of building a better civilization. The true valuation of any man's life will be based on the extent to which he has served humanity. Psychologists tell us also that a man's habits are pretty well set by the time he leaves college. If these things are true, it makes some difference as to what attitude a man takes to these questions on leaving college.

There is something for every man to do. This campaign will afford a rare opportunity to hear the whole field presented, and for each man to discover where his contribution can be made. The principles which should guide a man in choosing his life work will also be discussed, and the claims of some of the different fields of service presented.

The following are some of the leaders

Graham Taylor, the well known Chicago settlement worker and citizen, who was so well liked here two years ago; E. T. Colton, of New York, the associate of John R. Mott; Peter Roberts, the man who has directed the vast work now being carried out among immigrants in this country by the Y. M. C. A.; Henry Israel of the county work department of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A.; Dr. Joe McCracken, the old "Penn" athlete, now located at Canton with Groff, W. C. Campbell, the county work secretary of Pennsylvania.

Some other strong men representing varied forms of service will also be present.

These men will come to work and some can stay for only a day or two. All are invited to use this opportunity to meet these men and get their opinions. Personal interviews can be arranged through J. E. Platt at the Y. M. C. A. room.

Remember the dates—Feb. 4-9. Get some evidence.

The Soccer Situation.

The fact that Penn State has been able to maintain at least a small schedule of intercollegiate games in soccer has been largely responsible for the growing interest in the sport here. It is not generally known, however, that soccer is not self supporting, and that it has only been possible to put a team into intercollegiate competition by the continued support of a prominent alumnus of the college. The guarantee we were able to receive from the games played last season and the present season were not sufficiently large enough to cover the expenses of the team. Mr. J. G. White, of the class of '82 who is intensely interested in the development of soccer as one of our sports at State College very generously contributed a check for $100.00 for each of the seasons just past, making the trips possible.

Coming Basket Ball Games.

Captain Hartz's quintette leaves town this afternoon for a three game western trip which includes games with Westinghouse, Pitt and Carnegie Tech. Penn State has never before scheduled any of these teams in basket ball. Immediately following the game tomorrow night with the Westinghouse Club at 501 Pennwood Avenue, Wilkensburg, the basket ball teams, the Penn State Alumni and friends of the college will be entertained with an informal dance and reception. The entertainment is in charge of a committee chosen from the Penn State Alumni connected with the Westinghouse interests. The University of Pittsburgh team, which will be played Friday night at the Ties' Gymnasium, is light, one of its guards weighing but 115 pounds. The Pitt five is fast and decisively defeated Penn during Christmas week. The Carnegie Tech team will be State's opponents on Saturday.

Manager Bevan, eight players and possibly a coach will take the trip. The men most likely to make the trip are Hartz, Park, Binder, Craig, Hay, Walton, Wilson and Unger.

It is expected that much interest will be taken in the Lehigh game here next Wednesday night. Penn State closed its season last year in South Bethlehem by losing to Lehigh by the close score of 35 to 33. Lehigh has made an excellent showing thus far this winter and a hard game is anticipated. Remember the Lehigh game will be played next Wednesday night in the Armory and the admission will be only fifteen cents. The date of Carnegie Tech game, which will also be played in the Armory, is Jan. 25.

Miss Jane Addams.

Miss Jane Addams, who is called "the first citizen of Chicago", will be at the college over next Sunday, Jan. 19th. Her work there as founder and head president of the Hull House, along with her books have won her recognition as an authority wherever settlement work is discussed the world over. In the Progressive political movements of the country, her influence has also been felt and is today being extended by her articles in several of the magazines. She will have a message for State College.

On Saturday evening she will lecture under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., and on Sunday she will speak at chapel and at the Y. M. C. A. meeting.

Miss Addams will take the place of The Gales, on the regular entertainment course in the Auditorium, Saturday evening.

Thespian Trials.

Trials for positions on the cast of this year's production will be held Thursday, January 16, 1913 in the Old Chapel at seven o'clock. Copies of the play may be obtained at any time from A. M. Hooven at the S. A. E. House.

Trials for positions on the chorus will be held Friday January 17, 1913 in the Agricultural Building at 8:30 o'clock.

These trials are open to members of all classes and men will be chosen on their apparent ability. No previous experience on this line of work is necessary and it is hoped that a large number of candidates will report.

PENN STATE WINS INITIAL GAME

Pittsburgh Collegians Lose Cleanly Played Game—New Men Play Well—Final Score 48-30.

A fair sized crowd witnessed the Pittsburgh Collegian-Penn State basket ball game last Wednesday, the latter winning by the score of 48 to 30. Richard Guy, Sporting Editor of the Pittsburgh Gazette Times, remarked at the close of the game that Penn State's team was fast and played clean ball. Haddow officiated the game in a capable manner and to the satisfaction of all. The floor proved a little slippery for both teams, but especially so for the visiting team which had heretofore played most of its games on rougher floors. Captain Hartz's excellent all-around playing, Park's work under the basket, Binder's floor work, Unger's work during the few minutes he played, Kummer's foul shooting for the visitors, and the aggressiveness of Captain Campbell for the Collegians, featured the opening basket ball game in State College. Park was easily the best shot of the evening scoring eight goals from field. Kummer for the visitors, excelled in foul shooting making 14 goals out of 17 attempts.

Lineup:
Penn State 48 Pittsburgh Collegians 30
Binder F. (Capt.) Campbell
Park F. Eisler
Hartz (Capt.) C. Dittenbaugh
Hay G. Cleeland
Walton G. Kummer

Field goals—Park, 8; Hartz, 5; Binder, 2; Walton; Craig, Davidson, 2; Wilson, 2; Unger, 2; Kummer; Eisler, 3; Cleeland; Campbell, 3. Foul goals—Binder, 2; Kummer, 14. Substitutions—Willard for Binder, Goeckley for Willard, Craig for Park, Davidson for Craig, Wilson for Hartz, Unger for Hay, Metzger for Walton, Savery for Metzger. Referee, Haddow, Penn State. Timekeeper, Mauthe, Penn State. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

Choral Society Cantata

The choral society, an organization composed of faculty members, students, and town people, has finished rehearsals and are planning to give an entertainment on Saturday evening January 25th.

The society is under the very able direction of Mr. Clarence Robinson, Musical Director of the college. The members have been faithful in rehearsal and a pleasing entertainment can be expected.

The society will give the sacred cantata, Ruth, founded on the Scripture story. The words of the cantata are by Edward Oxenford and the music by Alfred R. Gaul. This entertainment comes at a very opportune time as it will break the monotony of preparing for examinations. A large number of students will want to avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing it.

Wrestling Schedule.

The following schedule of wrestling is outlined. In addition to the four meets, dates are pending with Yale, Columbia, Penn, and Chicago. The schedule:

February 21, Central Y. M. C. A. of Philadelphia—here.
March 1, Cornell at Ithaca.
March 8, University of Indiana—here.
March 15, Lehigh University at South Bethlehem.

Clifford G. Roc, the Chicago lawyer who has done so much to disclose the white slave traffic, will be here Jan. 26th.

Dr. Holmes Will Lecture.

On Friday evening January 17th in the Auditorium at 8 o'clock, Dr. Holmes will deliver a lecture on "How Character is Bred." In his dissertation Dean Holmes will to a large extent dwell upon the new and fascinating subject of eugenics. Eugenics has been defined as the art of choosing a life partner. In his discussion he will touch upon the real significance of this broad and vital subject, and he will explain what the term really signifies.

Dr. Holmes will include in his lecture the history and the study of character, quoting both Emerson and Browning. He will give a sociological definition of character, and he will illustrate the value of character as regards the earning power of an individual. The law of similarity working through heredity will be illustrated by means of feeble-mindedness, and moral imbecility. The brighter side of the same law will be centered in a consideration of the Kallikak family and the posterity of Jonathan Edwards.

Modern eugenics was conceived in 1904 by Sir Edward Galton. In 1912 an International Conference met in London, composed of world famous physicians and scientists interested in the new theoretical science of eugenics.

It is safe to say that eugenics is in the air. One may hear the word whispered nearly everywhere, but usually not very decisive discussion follows because the human intellect has not been enlightened enough concerning it. Now is your opportunity, come and hear one who knows.

New Musical Magazines.

Prof. Robinson has had placed in the library "The Musician", "Musical America", and "The Harvard Musical Review" for the use of those interested in musical happenings of the country.

A TRIP TO THE COAST

Musical Clubs' Trip to be Taken at Easter Time. Will be a Big Advertisement for Penn State.

It is now an assured fact that the Penn State glee club is to have the opportunity of the most extensive trip even undertaken by a college organization. It is due chiefly to the efforts and influence of Mr. H. G. Hollister '11 that the Santa Fe Railroad has offered the club a trip from Chicago to the Pacific coast and return. The trip had been planned for Christmas vacation, but the technicalities of an Interstate Commerce Commission ruling made a postponement necessary. As matters now stand, the trip will include fifteen days at Easter time, and about forty members of the glee club will leave State College for Chicago shortly before the vacation.

It will be necessary to raise money to pay travelling expenses between State College and Chicago, and to this end a concert will be given here on February 14. Moreover about a hundred letters have been sent to prominent alumni of various parts of the country; and several other friends of the college may be expected to render some assistance.

This trip will do much in bringing Penn State before the eyes of the public in a favorable manner. Newspapers in cities as far away as Calgary, Canada, have already commented on the fact that our club has been the "fortunate" one out of two hundred and fifty applicants for the trip.
