

TWO VICTORIES FOR BLUE AND WHITE

Penn State Opens Home Season by Taking Two Games From Colgate. Miller Wins Second With Home Run in Ninth Inning.

Penn State auspiciously opened the local baseball season by taking two games from Colgate University on Friday and Saturday, respectively. The team showed much improvement over the games played earlier in the season. It hit the ball hard and timely and the fielding as a whole was fast and accurate for so early in the season and under such adverse conditions. To say the least, the whole team is playing good ball and there is no doubt but that a majority of the remaining games will result in victories. It is difficult to single out men who excelled in these games for all deserve credit for the victories, but one cannot help giving individual credit to the playing of Henderson and Miller and the all-round work of Liebert together with the generalship of Craig, who constantly keeps shaking the "pepper box".

The playing of Henderson alone is a treat for any lover of base ball. He is a great help to his pitchers, is alert at all times as shown by the fact that he had six assists in the two games and had only one stolen base credited against him. He is also setting the pace with the stick. Miller bids fair to soon occupy as high a position in base ball at Penn State as he does in football, when it comes to winning games. He covers a lot of ground in center, fields wells, is hitting, and a hard man to stop on the base paths. His home run on Saturday was a beautiful hit and could not have been more timely.

Liebert pitched a strong game on Friday and proved the "man of the hour" when sent to Wardwell's rescue in the seventh inning of Saturday's game. He completely checked the visitors hitting, holding them at bay until "Shorty" ended the suspense with his Herculean wallop to left field in the last half of the ninth inning.

Craig is covering the short stop position in fine style and his "pepper" is an invaluable asset to the success of the team. His hitting is likewise above the average and is especially timely. Of the new men Hittner is proving to be of much value to the team. He is playing a steady game around the middle station, while as pacemaker with the bat in last year's Interclass League, he is living up to his reputation. In Friday's contest he landed for a two bagger and three singles in five times at bat, which is not at all bad. Mason also made a good showing in his initial appearance on the varsity. In three times at bat he made a two bagger and a tripple respectively, and registered at the rubber three times. He likewise fielded his position faultlessly.

Friday's game proved an easy victory. The Blue and White hit hard and often while the visitors could do little with the delivery of Liebert, especially when hits meant runs. Two errors, followed by three hits, netted a brace of runs in the first. A base on balls followed by Crawford's home run added two more in the second. Hittner's single and steal with Liebert's single added the fifth run in the third. A base on balls, to Crawford, followed by hits by Henderson, Craig, and Hittner made the total eight in the sixth inning. Hits by McCarthy, Abell, Kingston and Johnson gave the visitors two runs in the fourth, but they were not strangers at any other time.

Hittner led with four hits, Henderson constituted three, Craig, Kern, and Liebert two each, while Keller and Crawford each added one, the latter hitting for the circuit. Score by innings:

Penn State	2	2	1
Colgate	0	0	2

Strike outs—Liebert 5, McLaughlin 4. Bases on balls—Liebert 1, Rich 1, McLaughlin 3. Stolen bases—Crawford, Henderson, Craig 2, Hittner 2.

Penn State started like winners in Saturday's contest. After Miller and Crawford were disposed of, Henderson walked and Craig singled, Hittner allowed one of Crokers shoots to catch his shirt and filled the bases. Keller hit a hard one at Johnson, who erred and two runs resulted. Mason's three bagger with Wardwell's sacrifice fly added another in the second, while in the third a base on balls to Crawford, Henderson's sacrifice, and Hammond's error on Johnson's assist of Hittner's grounder made the fourth count. Two resulted in the fourth. Komian was hit, Mason doubled and Miller singled, the first two registering, Crawford's hit, McLaughlin's error of Henderson's high fly, and Craig's sacrifice fly, admitted the seventh run in the fifth, while an error, steal, and an out admitted Mason with the eight tally in the sixth inning. During all this time Wardwell was having things quite his own way. Two hits coupled with an error counted McLaughlin in the third while Edgarton's scratch single followed by Kingston's two base hit admitted the second tally in the fourth. The score stood 8 to 5 until the seventh inning, when something happened. When Liebert finally went to the rescue of his brother Blue and White flinger, the score was 8 to 8, and the game was anybody's for Crocker seemed to get better as the game progressed.

Johnson started the visitors "lucky seventh" with a single. He advanced to second on Croker's out at first. Robinson almost knocked Wardwell off his feet with a hot smash. The ball rolled to one side and in his haste to get his man, Wardwell over threw first; Johnson counted and Robinson perched on second. McLaughlin scratched a single, admitting Robinson on a close play. The aggressive left fielder then stole second from where he scored on McCarthy's double to right field. A high fly was hoisted over the plate. But the wind fooled Henderson and he and Wardwell and Keller watched the ball drop safe about three feet in front of the plate. Edgarton fanned and Abell hit for two bases, scoring McCarthy and Hammond. Crawford erred Kingston's fly to right after a hard run, and Abell scored—Here Liebert stepped in and Henderson threw out Johnson from in front of the plate.

Conditions looked favorable in the seventh when Henderson opened with a two base hit to left. Craig sacrificed. Hittner drove a liner at Croker, who doubled Hen-

THE GLEE CLUB TOUR

Penn State Glee Club Meets With Overwhelming Success In Far West.

Our vocal representatives began their successful tour by giving a concert in Pittsburgh, which was well attended by alumni and Penn State enthusiasts.

The club gave its first concert under the auspices of the Santa Fe Railroad at Marceline, Mo., and from that time on successive concerts were given at Arkansas City and Dodge City, Kansas; La Junta, Col.; Ratan, San Marcial and Albuquerque, New Mexico; Winslow and Flagstaff, Arizona; Needles and Barstow, Cal.

The club spent a day in Los Angeles, and judging from late reports, it intended to pay a visit to the Grand Canyon of Colorado. The reports of the various members substantiate the fact that our musical organization encountered a multitude of pleasant experiences. Accommodations were provided for in Pullman cars, and the meals were served in the best of railroad hotels along the road.

The concerts, judging from the clippings of Western papers, have met with the greatest of success, and commendation and praise have been forthcoming from all sides.

Professor Robinson, who is responsible for the successful venture, seems to be well satisfied with the results and accomplishments produced by the club. One thing is very apparent, and that is that the name of Penn State was heard from coast to coast.

The Glee Club will give the same program as given on the road, in the Auditorium next Saturday at 7:45 p. m. The general admission will be $.25. There will be no reserved seats.

The Student Hospital.

Every effort is being made to break ground for our student hospital before commencement and to have completed by fall a unit of the proposed building that will answer our most urgent needs. The Hospital Committee of the Woman's Club, besides looking after the needs of the sick confined in the shack near the grand stand, has been active in arousing general interest in the erection of a suitable building and in raising funds for this purpose. Five thousand dollars have already been contributed by the students themselves. Substantial sums have been pledged by Senator Penrose and His Excellency the Governor of this commonwealth. The Hospital Committee in a recent social "benefit" cleared ninety-one dollars, and last year by a lecture "benefit" raised thirty dollars. About two thousand dollars are still needed before the college feels warranted to begin building.

The Hospital Committee wishes to convey its thanks to the following merchants for their generous donations to meet the present needs of the infirmary: Harry W. Sauer, J. C. Smith & son, L. D. Fye, Sheasley & Gentzel, C. W. Smith, Henry Meyers, Sim the Clothier, Leitzell Bros., Dr. R. D. Gilliland, and John O. Lawrence.

All of the experimental feeding steers were sold on Thursday to Messrs. Frank Endress and W. A. Mattern of Altoona.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Mr. Charles D. Young, Engineer of Tests, Penna. R. R., will speak in Room 202, Engineering Building, at 11:20 a. m., Friday April 11th. Some classes which include senior, junior and sophomore mechanicals will be excused to attend; others who do not have scheduled classes at that hour are invited. Mr. Young has risen rapidly in railroad engineering and is at the head of the best equipped and most thoroughly organized Department of Tests on any railroad in the county. He is now conducting a series of tests of special importance to engineers on Superheated Steam and on Braking Tests of Trains.

Mr. E. W. Bush, '92, President of the Penn State Alumni Association and one of the most prominent bridge construction engineers in the county, will visit the College on Friday, April 11th, and speak to the class in Jur. 7 composed of senior engineers.

Messrs. H. A. Hey and E. W. Calder, the former Office manager of the American society of Mechanical Engineers and the latter, a well known Consulting engineer, were here on Tuesday, April 8th, at which time they addressed the society of Electrical Engineers.

The accounts for the preceding month show a deficit for a large number as regards their chapel collection envelopes. It is urgently requested that all those who are delinquent arrange to bring their envelopes up to date.

Nearly 80 acres on the College Campus have been set aside for developing a forest arboretum. It is planned to have the plantings serve the use not only of the Forestry Department but also of the Department of Landscape Gardening and Department of Botany, by planting shrubs and vines as well as forest trees. All forest trees native to this county and hardy in this climate will be planted, and many foreign trees. The different kinds of trees will be planted in small groups and also as individuals. This will bring out the characteristics of the trees when planted

VARSITY TRACK TRIALS

Large Delegation of 1916 Men Respond to Call—New Men Promising Well.

In spite of the raw wind that was sweeping over New Beaver Field last Saturday afternoon an unusually large number of men responded to the first call of Track Trials.

The work of the aspirants was good considering the rather heavy track and the earliness of the season, some of the men showing surprisingly good form. From present appearances 1916 promises to supply the Varsity with some valuable men ere long.

Honor Roll.

The following men led their classes in the recent examinations:

Junior—Miles Horst, Agriculture. Prepared at the Millersville Normal School. Present holder of the John W. White Junior Scholarship.

Sophomore—G. W. Luerssen, Mining. Prepared at the Reading High School. Present holder of the John W. White Sophomore Scholarship.

Freshmen—Tie between V. L. Ayers, Mining (Harriman New York High School); F. H. Clay, Agriculture (Scranton Central High School); R. A. Love, Civil Engineering (Tyrone High School); and J. R. Mull, Agriculture first semester, changed to Civil Engineering second semester (Jeanette High School). Mr. Love has been awarded the McAllister prize offered by General Beaver.
