Push Ball Rules.

Following are the rules for the regularly scheduled push-ball scrap:

Article 1.

This scrap shall be substituted for the picture scrap between the sophomore and freshman classes, and shall be a regularly scheduled contest.

Article 2

The scrap shall be held on the second Saturday afternoon following the opening of the college year.

Article 3

Sec. 1. The scrap shall be held on some suitable field which shall be so chosen and so laid off as to give neither side the advantage.

Sec. 2. In laying out the field a center line shall be drawn across its entire width, with parallel lines every five yards to each goal line.

Sec. 3. The judges shall choose the field and fix the boundaries making them as extensive as practicable. They shall also superintend the laying out of the field.

Article 4

Sec. 1. At the start of the scrap the ball shall be conveniently located on the center line of the field.

Sec. 2. A picked team of five men from each class shall group themselves about the ball.

Sec. 3. The classes shall arrange themselves on the five yard lines from the center line.

Sec. 4. The first choice of sides shall be determined by lot but the contestants shall exchange sides for each period.

Article 5

Sec. 1. At a preparatory signal, the picked teams shall raise the ball and poise it in the air.

Sec. 2. At the report of a pistol the scrap will begin, and shall continue for three periods of ten minutes each, the object of each class being to push the ball into the enemy's territory.

Sec. 3. The judges shall announce the end of each period by means of some previously arranged signal.

Sec. 4. If the ball is pushed out of bounds, the referee shall put it in play twenty-five yards inside the boundary line, and place the classes in a similar manner to that at the start.

Sec. 5. When the ball touches the ground, it shall be declared dead by the referee, and both classes shall withdraw from the ball immediately.

Sec. 6. The referee shall then put the ball in play at the point at which it was declared dead by placing the classes in a manner similar to that at the start.

Article 6

Intermission between periods shall continue for five minutes.

Article 7

Sec. 1. A goal shall score two points.

Sec. 2. At the end of each period, the side that has the ball in the enemy's territory shall score one point.

Sec. 3. The class that scores the greater number of points shall win the scrap.

Article 8

Sec. 1. The referee shall be a member of the faculty, or an alumnus of the college who has been graduated at least three years.

Sec. 2. The judges shall consist of the senior and junior class presidents, and one other (a member of the faculty or an alumnus) chosen by them. Aside from choosing and laying out the field, the judges shall have charge of construing these rules, and making temporary rules to cover unforeseen circumstances.

Sec. 3. The judges shall select ten members from each of the upper classes to oversee the scrap, and to enforce fair play.

Article 9

Sec. 1. Athletes in training may, or may not, enter the scrap, as they, the coach, and the physical director decide.

Sec. 2. All men participating in the scrap must wear tennis shoes.

Bible Study Educator Coming.

Norman Richardson, Professor of Religious Psychology and Pedagogy in the Boston Theological Seminary will visit Pennsylvania State College next Saturday and Sunday. He is here to help plan the Bible study of the college for the present school year. Professor Richardson is a graduate of Lawrence College, the University of Wisconsin and Boston Theological Seminary and has also done post-graduate work in the University of Berlin under Professor Paulsen and other great German philosophers and educators. His popularity is shown by the fact that out of 200 students enrolled in the seminary, 130 elected his course. Every week through his teachers training classes he trains 1600 Bible leaders in the city of Boston.

John R. Mott, the leader of the student movement in America, chooses Professor Richardson to train the secretaries in the summer conferences of the Y. M. C. A. which are held every summer. All the Penn State men, who heard Prof. Richardson at the conference at Estes Park this last year, are very enthusiastic in their praises.

This year the Y. M. C. A. is co-operating with the churches of the town in an attempt to interest more students than ever before in Bible study. The opening meeting of this Bible study campaign will be a supper gathering at the Methodist church on Saturday evening, September 27 at 5:30. All students and faculty members, who are interested in teaching Bible groups are invited to be at this dinner. Professor Richardson will speak at this dinner and afterwards teach a class in Fosdick's book "The Manhood of The Master".

On Sunday, September 28, Professor Richardson will have charge of all chapel services and meet training classes at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:30 in the evening. The usual 6:30 Y. M. C. A. meeting will be given over to a grand Bible study rally at which meeting opportunity will be given to sign up for Bible classes. These classes will be organized at once and put under the leadership of faculty members and upperclass men. A teachers' training class for the benefit of the leaders is to be organized. This class, which is under the leadership of Chaplain Reed, will meet once a week and study in advance the course to be taught.

Those in charge of the freshman Bible class report an attendance of 409 at the first meeting of the year, held last Sunday.

THE WHOLE FAMILY

can drink our delightful soda without any fear of consequences. Flavored with absolutely pure fruit juices or chocolates, it is as wholesome as it is good, and that is saying a whole lot. Bring the youngsters and treat them to a glass. They'll be as good as pie with such a reward in prospect.
