SONGS AND MOVIES

An Interesting Program for Lincoln's Birthday by Hampton Students—Major Morton Will Speak.

A reel of motion pictures entitled "John Henry" and a program of plantation and labor songs will be given on the evening of Lincoln's birthday in the Auditorium by students of Hampton Institute.

Hampton Institute was founded after the Civil War with the object of solving the ever present race problem by giving Indians and negroes a thorough education and industrial training. The hundred and fifty buildings, the thousand acres of land, the fifteen different courses, and the eight hundred students give some idea of the size to which Hampton has grown.

This entertainment is one of a series that is being held in Pennsylvania, New York and New England, to create fresh interest in the training of Indian and negro youth for efficient living. Major Robert Morton, for twenty odd years commandant of cadets at Hampton, will be the principal speaker. He will tell of the results of the Institute's work.

Penn State is already related in a way to Hampton. Charles B. Randall, who is supported by Penn State in his Y. M. C. A. work in Brunswick County, Va., is a Hampton graduate. Hampton's eight thousand graduates cover the south and are accomplishing much in improving conditions.

A general admission of twenty-five cents will be charged and reserved seats will be sold for fifty cents. All students are urgently requested to support this good cause, and also to come and hear about the excellent work carried on by capable men who are coping with the race problem.

Indoor Football

Coach Harlow has drawn up plans for a systematic indoor football practice during the remaining winter months. Candidates will be tried out in the different departments of the game and each assigned to the position and work for which he appears most fitted.

All candidates are now urged to respond to this call. Names may be handed to Coach Harlow or Manager Lord. The work will begin early next week and it is essential that the candidates respond early. Men with reasonable physique and a desire to learn the game will have an unusual opportunity to learn the game this winter. The practice will continue outdoors as soon as the weather permits. Men with much experience, moderate experience, little experience, or no experience, as long as they have the desire to learn the game, are wanted for this work. Hand in your name immediately.

Inter-Collegiate Debating Trials

The inter-collegiate debating trials were held Friday and Saturday nights, January 16 and 17, in the Old Chapel to select teams to debate against Dickinson and Swarthmore March 6.

More interest was shown in these trials than any ever held at Penn State College before. Thirty men from the various classes were out with carefully prepared speeches for the trials. All of the men did very well indeed and a number were so evenly matched that it was extremely difficult for the judges to select eight men better than the rest.

The men selected for the affirmative side which debates at Swarthmore were: H. V. Cranston '15, S. P. Jones '15, W. R. Skillman '16, Earl McCord '15, alternate.

Those selected for the negative side which debates against Dickinson at home were: J. W. Carpenter '14, R. E. Geary '16, F. F. Gininger '17, David McKay '16, alternate.

Spring Reexaminations

By vote of the General Faculty, on March 27, 1913, reexaminations in all subjects given during the first semester are to be held "on the last four Saturday afternoons of term time in the first half of the second semester, and on such other afternoons in that period as the room schedule will allow". This year the reexaminations will be held on Saturday afternoons, March 7, 14, 21 and 28, and on Friday afternoons, March 6 and 13.

The schedule of the reexaminations cannot be prepared until all grade reports for the first semester have been received at the Registrar's office, and will be posted as soon as it can be made out.

No fee is charged for the first reexamination, in any subject, but a permit must be obtained at the Registrar's office and deposited with the instructor at the time of the examination.

Half Holiday

According to custom, there will be a half holiday on the afternoon of February 12, Lincoln's birthday.
