

Relay Team at Pittsburg

The relay team will compete in a 1408 yard relay race Saturday in Pittsburg against Carlisle and Pittsburg. The team will be made up of Dolbin, Humble, Mason and White. Hammitt will run in the 60 yard high hurdles and the 60 yard novice dash.

Any track man who has not reported should do so at once. Coach Martin expects to pick the training table in two weeks. Gill, ineligible because of taking a special course, has jumped five feet ten inches in the gymnasium this year.

Thomas, ex-Ohio State, will strengthen the team next year in the broad jump and dashes. He has jumped over 22 feet and is capable of 22 seconds in the 220 yard dash.

Plan For the Summer

Be sure to reserve June, right after commencement, for Eagles Mere. You can meet the leading men from Penn, Princeton, Columbia and a score of other colleges and come in close contact with them. You participate in athletics, talk and study of these men. It will be not only a good vacation, but a good chance to think over some of the real problems of life and discuss them with authorities along various lines. This year Penn State must have 150 men at Eagles Mere to live up to the good reputation which she has established in the past. Will you be one of this number? If so, leave your name at the Y. M. C. A. office or hand it to L. P. Lindsay immediately.

Football Candidates

All juniors, sophomores and freshmen who weigh 170 pounds or more should report at once to Coach Harlow for spring practice in line positions. Spring work for all candidates will commence as soon as the weather permits under the direction of Harlow who will be assisted by John Clarke and Bebout for line candidates, and Miller and Tobin for backfield men.

For the last two weeks Harlow has been instructing fifteen underclassmen in the rudiments of the game. The practice has been held in McAllister Hall three afternoons each week. Locke and Gonder though inexperienced give promise of developing into valuable men.

Novel Debate

The American Bankers Association, of Pittsburg, has challenged W. and J. to a debate to be held any time suitable to the college. The question is left for W. and J. to decide, but the contest will be held in Pittsburg. Each team will consist of three or four men and the makeup of the team will probably be entirely different from that of the squad that contests against Penn State.

The "Red and Black" remarks: "There is something uncanny in the idea of college students and bankers debating; as a rule, the two have nothing to do with each other".

Conference at New York

From March 27 to 29 a conference will be held at New York the purpose of which is to offer to college students, who are facing their life work, a point of view and some information as to the Christian ministry and the opportunities for service which it affords at the present time. All college men are invited whether they have decided upon their life work or not. Dr. Hugh Black, Dr. Fosdick and many other equally great men will speak. The only expense is the railroad fare. Penn State should have a good sized delegation there.

Mr. A. H. Hey '10, Assistant to the Secretary of the A. S. M. E. addressed the student branch of this society last Friday evening.

DONT LEAVE THE BOX LYING AROUND

if you expect to have any of the candy left. No one, child or grown up, can resist sampling it more than once when they get a glimpse of that collection of sweet temptation. You don't believe it? Well buy a box and leave it around open. When you come to look you'll have the box—"Only this and nothing more."

Faculty Drops Students.

Because of failure to meet the demands of their class work as shown in unsatisfactory recitations and examinations, about 100 Ohio State University students who were prominent in campus organizations and in clubs have been ordered to retire from their offices by the registrar of the University.

The action is prompted by the provisions of the new eligibility rules in operation on the campus, which provide that students must be up in their class work before they can hold positions in undergraduate societies and activities. The University faculty considers outside activities as merely incidental to the main business of college life.

Mass Meeting.

An important mass meeting will be held in the Old Chapel tonight at 6:30. The motion to award the varsity S to wrestlers will be voted upon and reports of important committees will be made. Every one should attend.

Dr. E. S. Moore went to Philadelphia to see the architects in connection with the plans for the new Mining building, and Saturday evening was a guest of Dr. Bastain at the annual dinner of the U. S. Geological Survey.

The registrar of the University of Kansas has proposed a new scheme to stimulate chapel attendance. One hour credit is given to all those who attend services, which are held twice a week.

Oberlin has a regular semester pay day, at which time all classes, Christian associations and other organizations receive dues and subscriptions.

clothes, is the wide range of choice you get in style and fabrics.

In suits you'll find here a big variety of models; eight distinctively different sack suit models, four in Norfolks, three in Full Dress; really a cut for every figure and taste.

Our own ideas are carried out in the building of these clothes and you'll not be apt to see these same models elsewhere in ready to wear suits. And in overcoats the same way.

But you'll see a big variety of fabrics, too; imported fabrics never before made up in ready clothes; America's best weaves also. It's a wonderful style display; and we've got it here especially for you.

We don't want you to miss the benefit of it.

An unusually large assortment of woolsens for made to order clothes.
