

TEAM STARTS WELL

Southern Trip a Success—New Players Make Good—Pitcher Problem Solved.

Four wins in six games is the record of what promises to be one of the greatest teams which have ever represented State on the baseball diamond. Graduation and failure of men to return to college left many positions vacant which seemed hard to fill. That the task of the coaches has been ably met is shown by the batting and fielding averages of the team in the games thus far.

The first game of the season resulted in a victory for State over University of North Carolina. The heavy hitting of Miller, Crawford and Craig featured this contest together with Liebert's pitching.

Penn State 1 0 0 0 1 0 1 0 3 8 1

Hesselbacker pitched the second game of the season against Trinity College. He struck out twelve men and allowed but four hits. The team continued to bat well lead by Captain Miller.

The team missed connections for Washington and Lee and had only two hours sleep prior to the game. The bad ride and lack of rest had a telling effect on the players. Eight errors show in a measure how badly the team was disorganized. Tobin pitched his first game for State. Ragged support contributed in a large measure to the first defeat.

The next game with Pennsylvania was the best played contest of the trip. A pitchers' battle resulted between Sayre and Liebert in which the latter had the better of the argument until the ninth inning when the Penn captain obtained the first hit from Liebert. The same players double in the eleventh inning scored the winning run. Weber's timely triple in the second scored the only State tally.

Blythe was the hero of the Villa Nova game when he started a batting rally in the ninth inning which won the contest. Hesselbacker again pitched a four hit game and struck out 11 men.

Villa Nova 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 4 4

In the first home game of the season with Dickinson the team continued its remarkable playing. Miller scored four runs and stole three bases while Craig scored four runs and stole two bases. In scoring one of his runs, he gave the most remarkable exhibition of base running seen at State for years. Dickinson was a badly demoralized team. Eleven errors and ten stolen bases show their ineffectiveness. Liebert was not in form and was replaced by Hesselbacker.

Penn State 1 0 3 1 2 4 1 2 x 14 8 1
Dickinson 2 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 3 7 11

The batting averages show Craig to be the heaviest hitter closely followed by Captain Miller. In fielding, the outfielders still have a perfect record, while Robinson has proved his usefulness by accepting 67 chances perfectly.

The batting averages are as follows:

Craig	.333
Miller	.291
Weber	.250
Blythe	.250
Oberle	.250
Kommars	.235
Vogt	.227
Crawford	.217
Robinson	.105

Lacrosse Season Opens.
The Baltimore City College Lacrosse team will open the local season on Saturday afternoon at 1:30 on Beaver field. The visiting team is composed chiefly of veterans, and, although they have lost their first two games, they have one of the strongest teams in the country. Last year Swarthmore was defeated by the same team 6-0.

Captain Sutton at first attack is easily the star of the team, but is ably assisted by ex-captain Wolfe and by Waston. The only new men on the team are two varsity football stars. They will line up as follows:

G, McNeal; p, Weston; c, p, Buhler; 1st d, Hoffman; 2nd d, Stevens; 3rd d, Gillett; c, Wolfe; 3rd a, Allen; 2nd a, Woodward; 1st a, Sutton; c, h, Caspari; i, h, Bur-gunder.

The State lineup will probably be:

G, Johnson; c, p, Barber; p, Peters; 1st d, Smith; 2nd d, Fisher; 3rd d, Cuno; c, Farley; 3rd a, Olmstead; 2nd a, Hollowell; 1st a, Baer; c, h, Mehard; i, h, Gallagher.

To meet the Baltimore guarantee an admission of 25 cents will be charged.

State at the Relays.
A one mile and a four mile relay team together with entrants in the special events will represent State at the now famous relay races. The one mile team will meet teams from Brown, Georgetown, Holy Cross, and Swarthmore. The improvement of our quarter-milers has been so remarkable that a victory seems to be assured. Leyden and Dolbin will probably do 51 seconds or better while Humble and White will beat 52 seconds. This means a team capable of doing about 3 minutes and 25 seconds.

The trials for the four mile team surprised everyone when Captain Keyser and Garland ran a dead heat in 4 minutes and 32 seconds. Schroeder was caught in 4 minutes and 34 seconds and Entwistle 4 seconds slower. Leyden will be tried out and if he can do 4 minutes and 30 seconds he will replace Entwistle.

Hammitt will run in the hurdles and compete in the broad jump. In the hurdles the only men capable of defeating him seem to be Cronly of Virginia and Kelly of California who have been timed in 15 and 1-5 seconds.

Lamb will compete in the hammer throw, Javelin and shot. The Javelin event is new to him but he will probably place in the hammer throw.

Greek Night
On Friday, April 24, at 7:30 p. m., the Cosmopolitan club will present the "Greek Night" in the old chapel. Dean Holmes will speak. Music and recitations will be included in the program. All are invited.

SOCCER INTRODUCED.

State Defeats Lafayette—Game Favorably Received.

Before a small crowd the soccer team on Saturday easily defeated the Lafayette eleven six goals to nothing. This game was the first intercollegiate contest ever played at State and the enthusiasm of the spectators augurs well for the sup- port of the future games.

The accurate passing of the State team was responsible in a large measure for the large score. To those who had never seen soccer before the dribbling of Savery, Gregg, Wilkinson and Vollmer was amazing. On two or three occasions these men would start down the field and by accurate passing elude all of the opposing players. With four State men to watch, the Lafayette goal keeper found it im- possible to prevent a score.

The band was out but was not needed to start enthusiasm. Cheer- leader Hill found the stands very responsive to his calls for cheers. Savery and Gregg scored two goals each and Vollmer and Wilkinson added the other two.

The State lineup was as follows: l. o. Bishop, l. i. Vollmer, c. Center, r. i. Savery, r. o. Wilkinson, l. h. Holmberg, c. h. Williams, r. h. Dippe, l. f. Lindley, r. f. Kelley, g. Cuno.

Call for Tennis Candidates.

All tennis candidates for varsity tennis must appear on the courts at the Armory on Saturday, April 25th, and May 2nd. The best men will be chosen and a squad will be formed. Those that are not chosen at this time have a chance of obtaining a place on the squad by showing ability in the singles tournaments.

Two college tennis tournaments, one in singles and one in doubles, will be held shortly, and entries for both should be handed at once to Director Lewis. When handing in names everyone must state the hours that he can play, in order that the individual contests may be arranged in a definite manner, and the contestants may meet without difficulty.

The tennis court nearest to the Armory is reserved for the varsity squad every day from three o'clock on, and on Saturday for the entire afternoon.

At a recent meeting of tennis players the following were elected assistant managers. R. A. Love, S. M. Smedley, Jr. and W. B. Walton.

Debating.

Our negative debating team, composed of Laninger, Carpenter and Geary, will make a trip to W. and J. and Westminster, April 28-29. The question to be taken up, it is understood, will be that of woman suf- frage and a sharp contest is ex- pected at both places. There are likewise some arrangements made for another trip to Pittsburg two weeks later. This engage- ment, if accepted, will close the in- tercollegiate debating season. Preparations for the annual Sopho- more-Freshman debate are now under way and the date of the con- test will be announced in the near future.

The W. Va. University team which plays here Friday and Satur- day has won four games and lost five on its southern trip.

300 HIT THE TRAIL.

Thousands Hear Billy Sunday Speak at Two Meetings—Y. M. C. A. Enabled to Defray Greater Part of Deficiency in 1913-'14 Budget.

A home run was scored for the moral side of college life at Penn State when Billy Sunday addressed two overflow meetings of students and members of the faculty in the Auditorium here last Monday, April 20. Never before has a greater interest been displayed by the student body in their endeavor to hear the message which this in- spired speaker had to bring them. All college work was suspended for the day by action of the Council of Administration in order that every student might have an op- portunity of hearing Mr. Sunday. This opportunity was eagerly grasped, for at each meeting the Auditorium was filled within a few minutes after the doors had opened, and the attention of his audiences was held every minute he stood upon the platform.

Billy's talk at the morning meet- ing was what is known as his Boomerang sermon and dealt with "Doubts and Doubters". The masterly way in which he handled this text was convincing proof of the folly of those who disagreed with him. The afternoon meeting opened at 1:20 and was restricted to men. This meeting was even more largely attended than that of the morning, standing room being at a premium. The meeting was opened by evangelistic singing un- der the able direction of Mr. Rodheaver. "Billy" came next with the text of his talk as "Check- ing Up". The sincerity of his pur- pose could not fail but be grasped by every one who heard him; his every movement typified his earnest- ness; and his sledge-hammer force- fulness was felt by all. After hear- ing him it was possible to realize why he ranks among the foremost of the evangelists this country has ever had.

Over three hundred men "hit the trail" and gripped the hand of Sun- day after the afternoon meeting. As a result of his visit the Y. M. C. A. will be able to meet the greater part of the deficiency in its 1913-'14 budget. Contributions amount- ing to $336.57 were received and promises of $797.00 more were given.

Both the student body and mem- bers of the faculty are indebted to "Billy" Sunday for his visit and to those who were responsible for his coming.

Dean Weber to Resign

Dr. Samuel E. Weber, who for the last four years has acted in the capacity of dean of the school of liberal arts and director of the sum- mer school for teachers, was recent- ly selected out of a large number of candidates to head the public schools of Scranton. He had not made a formal application for the position and as yet has not been formally elected. However, a formal election will be held in May and Dean Weber will take charge for a four year term.

The position of superintendent was sought by many teachers and men prominent in educational cir- cles and a committee toured the state in search of available candi- dates. The dean was highly recommended by Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, head of the Philadel- phia schools and a possible candi- date for governor, and Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, of the State Bureau of Public Instruction.

As yet Dean Weber has not re- signed his present position but will in all probability do so at an early date. It will be a hard matter to secure as efficient and hard work- ing a man as he has proved to be and the college will have to set about at once to look for a successor. Dur- ing his short regime here the school of liberal arts has grown from a student enrollment of 32 in four year courses to 105. He re- cently instituted a new course of commerce and finance and was always on the alert for the better- ment of the school and college. The summer session for teachers has also increased its enrollment of 146 in 1910 to 563 in 1913. Last summer all but two counties of the state had representation in the sum- mer session. He was widely known throughout educational cir- cles in the east and his loss will be keenly felt.

Intercollegiate Association

The annual state convention of the Intercollegiate Prohibition As- sociation of Pennsylvania was held at this college April 4 to 6. An oratorical contest was one of the main features of the convention. M. A. A. Hillory, of Albright col- lege, was the winner and the second choice was Penn State's repre- sentative, G. W. Miller '17. This con- test was followed by a reception given to the speakers and delegates by the local league.

Different phases of the organized work along temperance lines were taken up by the convention. Dr. D. Leigh Colvin, national president of the I. P. A., discussed the great interest taken by college men in this subject throughout the coun- try, stating that over 300 colleges now have branches of the I. P. A. The Misses Grace Hendrix and Sarah Thomas, of Philadelphia, ex- plained the excellent work now being done by the W. C. T. U. in the public schools of their city. As a result of this convention, plans were laid for co-operation between the I. P. A. and W. C. T. U. Res- olutions were passed heartily ap- proving the Sheppard-Hobson joint resolution for national prohibition.

The greatest factor contributing to the success of this convention was the presence of Daniel A. Pol- ing, of Columbus, O., the national vice president of the organization. He is undoubtedly one of the great- est orators who ever addressed a Penn State audience. His lectures were instructive and inspiring. He told plain, truthful facts about the harm done our country by the liquor industry in such a way as to appeal to the intelligence of every Christian and to encourage him to action against this evil.
