Civic Club

Last Thursday evening an important business meeting of the Civic Club was held. The system of proposed rules to govern college elections, after having been thoroughly considered by the club members, was passed. This plan will be recommended to the Student Council, and, if it meets approval and is adopted, will take the place of the present inadequate system of conducting elections. S. P. Jones was elected president of the club for the ensuing year. Fifteen representative members of the sophomore class were elected to membership in the club. The Civic Club will be provided with a room in the Liberal Arts Building next year, and the facilities will thus be better than at present and more work can be accomplished. Under the leadership of S. P. Jones, a very prosperous year should follow.

Eta Kappa Nu Convention

The tenth annual national convention of the Eta Kappa Nu honorary electrical fraternity was held at State College last Friday and Saturday under the auspices of the Epsilon chapter at Penn State. The meetings were held in the foyer of the Auditorium, and were attended by delegates from Wisconsin, Illinois, Purdue, Ohio State, Armour, University of Pennsylvania, Cornell, Missouri and Case. Alumni members of the fraternity were in attendance from Schenectady, Pittsburg, New York and Chicago. The fraternity held its annual banquet Saturday evening at the Spruce Creek Country Club; fifty men attended the banquet. The national president for next year is A. B. Zerby, a graduate of Penn State in 1911.

Saturday forenoon the delegates made an inspection trip over the college grounds, and through the buildings. They were much impressed by the size and efficiency of the work at State.

In the College World.

Penn has dedicated its annual year book, "The Record", to "Mike" Murphy, the world renowned athletic trainer.

W. & J. is priding herself upon the fact that they had Sherwood Eddy in their midst last Monday.

The election of a mayor from the university is pending in Oxford, England. If he is elected, it would be for the first time in all the thousand years of its history that the town has had a mayor from the university.

The honor system is being widely discussed at Allegheny at the present time, and will be voted upon this week.

Following the time honored tradition at Penn, three tyrannical members of the faculty will be burned in effigy by the class of 1916 at annual Sophomore Cremation.

The annual government inspection of the West Virginia University Cadet Corps required over three hours to be completed.

Among the latest college activities at Rutgers is a society circus, which will be produced this spring for the first time.

One of the features of the recent commencement exercises at the Carlisle Indian school was the preaching of the baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Henry Roe-Cloud, a full blooded Indian clergyman of Hartford, Conn.

Yale has established an athletic society for the purpose of decreasing the death rate among athletes. It is planned to develop a man along several lines, so that training for football or track will not be so injurious to him.

The Student Tribunal

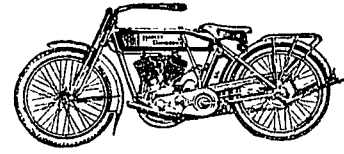

There was no regular meeting of the Hazing Tribunal last week because not enough of its members were present to constitute a quorum. The meeting was deferred until next week. The Tribunal has completed its work on revising the college customs up to date, and it is left to the sophomores to see that these customs are carried out.

Agricultural Notes.

Dr. T. C. Waugh, Dean of the Mass. Agricultural College, has been invited to be the principal speaker at the dedication of the new horticultural building, which will take place Wednesday afternoon of commencement week.

Sometime prior to the end of the semester, the "Crab Apple Club" will present a portrait of the late Gabriel Heister to the college. Mr. Heister was a prominent trustee of the college for many years and his services were particularly valuable to the school of agriculture. He was also influential in urging the appropriation for the horticultural building.

Prof. M. S. McDowell will represent the college at the annual meet of the farmer institution workers of Pennsylvania at Scranton; and will deliver an address on this occasion.

The present assembly room of the agricultural building will hereafter be used as a reading room. The students will appreciate these facilities.

It is well known that millions of dollars are lost yearly by forest fires and the dying away of various valuable tracts of timber. The research committee of the school of agriculture will make a special study of the deforested areas of Pennsylvania for the purpose of determining the most desirable experiments which should be conducted in these sections.

Prof. M. G. Kains, the newly appointed professor of horticulture, will spend two weeks at the college beginning June 7.

The Two Year Agricultural students are planning for exercises to mark the completion of their work. Prof. Alva Agee has been engaged to address them in the early part of June.

Mr. Harlan, '12, assistant in Agronomy, has been secured to manage an experimental farm in Ohio, which is operated by the Standard Chemical Company of Pittsburg.

Candidates For Managerships

Members of the freshman and sophomore classes who desire to enter the competition for assistant managerships of varsity football, baseball, track, basketball, wrestling, lacrosse and soccer are requested to register at the office of the graduate manager of athletics, not later than May 16.

On Friday night, May 15, the annual sophomore-freshman debate will be held in the Auditorium. The question is: Resolved that the United States government should assume the ownership of all telegraph and telephone systems in the United States for just compensation, constitutionality conceded. 1916 will uphold the affirmative, while the freshmen will have the negative side.

Both teams have been working very hard since Easter, and a large representation from both classes should be present, for the topic is interesting and the rivalry keen. The freshmen are expecting to spring a surprise while the sophomores are confident of their ability to meet it. Each member of the winning team will be presented with a bronze watch fob with the college seal on one side.

Mr. O. Boucke has just completed his series of lectures on Economic Ethics, which were given during the past few months. The fact that these lectures were given merely for the sake of disseminating thought and that they were so well attended speak for themselves as to the lecturer, and the appreciation of those who had this opportunity. It is our earnest desire that a similar series of lectures be given next semester.

Miss Florence Sanville, secretary of the Consumer's League of Eastern Pennsylvania, will speak on "The Work of the Consumer's League", at the Woman's Building, May 14 at 7:30 o'clock. All who are interested are invited to attend.
