WRESTLING SCHEDULE NEARING COMPLETION

Strongest Teams in America to Meet State Grapplers—Prospects for a Strong Team Never Brighter—Lamb May Meet Dorizas.

With six veterans from last year's championship team in school State never looked forward to a season with brighter prospects than this year. The report current last year of a meet with Harvard proved to be unfounded for the Harvard management find the trip to be too long for consideration. While no definite dates have been made it seems probable that the schedule will include the Navy at Annapolis on Feb. 6; Pennsylvania at State, on February 13, and Lehigh at Bethlehem, February 27. Meets with Yale and Columbia at State College are also being considered.

State men are eager to see Captain Lamb try conclusions with Dorizas for neither have been thrown in intercollegiate competition. Both men practised together in the Armory two years ago. At that time Dorizas was unfamiliar with the American style and relied greatly on his strength.

In the other weights the varsity team is well fortified. Long, of the varsity last year, will probably receive first call, but Hoffer and Baird will furnish plenty of competition. In the 125 pound class Crockett will have to defeat Brown to keep his varsity berth. Kirk will probably be 135 pound man again for his record of winning every bout last year would indicate that he should be able to dispose of Klingensmith. Hill, with his varsity experience of last year, will no doubt be able to dispose of contenders for his place on the team. Probably no man has learned the game faster than Yerger and a great season may be predicted for him in the 158 class. Sayre's loss in the light heavyweight class will not be felt so badly with Stecker his rival of last year in college.

Everyone will be glad to know that Director Lewis who has done so much for the sport will once again assume the duties of head coach. Besides coaching the varsity, he and his assistant will devote some time in training men for the vacancies by graduation his year.

IN THE COLLEGE WORLD.

One of Penn's future Wall street men wants to know why the order of seating in lectures isn't reversed once in a while and the X-Y-Z's put in the front row instead of the A-B-C's. Well, why not? Think of the college career of a fellow with such a name as Zwaysnatz.

Ursinus is seriously considering the adoption of an honor system. At a recent meeting of the Student Senate a committee was appointed to frame such a system and report to the Senate and Faculty.

Several girls from Iowa State went to Chicago to demonstrate their work in Home Economics.

The new stadium at Princeton will seat 41,000 persons. It is built in the shape of a horse shoe and has cost, in its complete state, $300,000. It was used for the first time in the Princeton-Dartmouth game.

hats that were considered so nobby for the bandmen at Penn a year ago, are not at all the proper uniform now. In fact the discontinuance of the band is being seriously urged on account of the uniforms. "Might as well be dead as out of style," seems to be the cry.

A prominent engineer is quoted by the "Tartan" of Carnegie Tech as saying: "There is nothing which a young engineer can do that will advance his professional standing so much as the writing of a good sound technical article for publication". Some of the sophs here at State could keep in mind an imaginary publication while they write their expository themes.

"Modern hazing" is the cry at South Dakota State. The freshmen offenders, both "Eds" and "Co-eds" are punished for their crimes on the main campus by such up-to-date methods as "Japanese fussing bees" and proposals from a woman's standpoint.

The Engineers of the University of Texas have added their quota to the saving of the South by buying a bale of cotton. The bale weighs five hundred and three pounds and was bought by voluntary subscription. It will be sold later and the profits divided among the subscribers. It is now on exhibition in the Engineer's Building at that place. It was a good proposal all right. We might contribute our quota to the saving of Pennsylvania by buying a ton of coal and giving it over to the use of "Duster's" locomotive.

At Iowa State all building operations on the campus are at a standstill on account of a strike among the carpenters. The strike was called because two students who never could be accused of being carpenters found occasion to use hammer and saw around some of the buildings to construct temporary lockers. What wouldn't the carpenters at Penn State do if every fellow who hasn't a locker in the gym would diligently ply his trade and proceed to construct a dainty little two by four in which to store his gym paraphernalia.

Captain Tobin's Condition Improved

After making an examination on Sunday, Dr. Glenn, the team physician, believes that Captain Tobin will be discharged from the hospital this week. The burns are healing nicely and the chances of scars on either Tobin or Sauerhoff are exceedingly slight. New skin is forming on Tobin's forehead, nose, neck and ears but his hands are badly swollen and watery.

While Tobin's burns may be healed sufficiently, he will be too soft to enter the Michigan game. Since he has been at the hospital, he has been given very little food and kept in bed to avoid any possibility of catching a cold.

Details of the Lafayette game were sent to the hospital at five minute intervals and Tobin's interest may be shown by a three degree rise in temperature. Harlow, Hollenback, Fleming and Mauthe called Sunday morning and found him in good spirits. Thomas' arm continues to improve rapidly but it is very unlikely that he will play before Thanksgiving. A final hope to get him in the Michigan game is held out by the coaches but Dr. Glenn refuses to make any hopeful statement. Aside from these two men the varsity should be able to present its regular line-up at South Bethlehem next Saturday.

The student body as well as the team, coaches and Captain Tobin himself appreciate the interest of other college captains in sending sympathetic telegrams. Among those received may be mentioned the messages from the Captains of Harvard, Penn, Pitt, Westminster and West Virginia.

Juniors Attention.

All juniors interested in the Junior Oratorical contest will report their names either in writing or orally to some member of the following faculty committee. G. K. Pattee, W. L. Roberts, J. T. Marshman. This report must be made not later than December 1.

for the devotee of athletics is a visit to a Spalding store. Therein he can see and examine implements and accessories for every known athletic sport. An expert will take pleasure in showing him what the champions use in their respective lines. He can wield a racket, swing a golf club or a base ball bat, punch a bag or "do a stunt" on the gym apparatus; he can even take an imaginary row on one of the rowing machines; in fact, he can go through the manoeuvres of every form of athletic sport right in our store.

If you cannot call at a Spalding store, then the next best thing is to send for a Spalding catalogue.
