Your Last Chance

The series of Collegian Pitt trip coupons contained in this issue will be the last printed. Many men are competing now and large numbers of votes are being turned into the Collegian Office. A new subscription will strengthen your chances by 25 votes, also look up those who are waiting to turn coupons over to you.

All coupons must be received at the office by Saturday evening, November 21, and the successful competitors will be notified in plenty of time.

Freshman Historian

The historian for the freshman class will be chosen by competition. Each candidate will be required to write five hundred words covering the history of the freshman class from September up to and including the sophomore-freshman football game. All manuscripts must be in the hands of the Editor of the La Vie by December 1st and must be typewritten on large size white paper. A La Vie box will be placed on the first floor of Old Main where these manuscripts may be placed.

It should be borne in mind by all members of the class of 1918 that the office of historian is a permanent one, continuing throughout the four years of college and that the time for seizing this opportunity is now. An urgent call is made to every man in the class with literary ability to enter the competition.

Hospital Plans Take Form

A tag day held on Pennsylvania Day under the direction of the ladies of the college, netted $500 for the hospital fund. Feeling that some immediate action should be taken to alleviate hospital conditions the board of trustees took the following action: Mr. Fehr's house will be taken over by the college and $2000 will be spent in equipping it as a temporary hospital. A resident physician and trained nurse will be in charge and their services will be free to the students. The trustees also decided to ask the next legislature to provide sufficient funds to build a hospital which will be adequate to meet the needs of the increasing student body.

Y. M. C. A. Entertainment

The girls, assisted by Mr. Deering, presented their annual play, or in this case plays, in the Auditorium last Saturday evening just after the wrestling meet, before an audience which, considering the time and the circumstances, was entirely too small. A brief outline of the three sketches, Carrots, The Faraway Princess, and The Deaf Model, has appeared in a previous issue of this paper. The acting was of the customary excellence and the evening was a most enjoyable one.

The Liberal Arts Society

The regular bi-weekly meeting of the Liberal Arts Society will be held in Room L of the Library at seven o'clock next Friday evening. The program, including among other things a talk by Professor Pattee on Mark Twain, and readings by Mr. Deering, should be one of unusual interest and all members as well as any interested non-members are urged to be present.

The Pennsylvania Day Exercises

Some 10 minutes before the exercises in the Auditorium were scheduled to begin last Friday morning, the room was filled to its capacity. Probably never before has this feature of the day, commanded so large a crowd. President Sparks opened the meeting and asked Governor Tener to preside. The Governor after making a few remarks introduced the speakers of the morning, Hon. R. A. Hubler, representative in the state legislature from Luzerne county, Hon. William M. Lynch senator from the twenty second district, Dr. J. L. Snyder, President of the Michigan Agricultural college, and Mr. John Francis, warden of the Western Penitentiary. Both the college Glee club and the Girls Glee club sang, the selections in both instances being pleasing and well rendered. This, it will be remembered is the year of our appropriation, and from the speeches of the members of the Legislature, we shall get our full share

The P. O. S. of A. Exercises

Immediately after dinner Friday, the regiment was assembled on Front Campus just in front of the two newly erected flag poles. Mr. Hermag A. Miller, state president of the P. O. S. of A. presented the poles and the colors in a very stirring address, which a high wind prevented quite a few from hearing. Mr. H. Walton Mitchell, president of the Board of Trustees of the college expressed the appreciation and gratitude of Penn State for the gift. Then while the band played the Star Spangled Banner, Old Glory and the flag of Pennsylvania were raised slowly to their places. The ceremony was most impressive.

Old Stars Helping.

This year has been a banner one in the interest shown by old men in returning to aid the coaches. Pete Mauthe's work has been invaluable and the student body regrets that he could not stay until the final whistle blew. Sayre returned for a few days and may get back again next week.

At present we have Ed. Yeckley '09, one of State's greatest ends, with us. He will be able to stay until Thanksgiving and will be a great help with the ends. In a game at Yale he outplayed the great Tom Shevlin. "Dad" Engle returned Tuesday to lend his aid in the coaching of linesmen. He played with Harlow in 1911 and 1912 at tackle. Most every critic would pick these two men as tackles on an all State team. "Dad" has been working on a farm and is in fine physical condition.

Psychology Note

Courses in physiological and experimental psychology will be offered during the second semester. Additional laboratory equipment will be provided, and a selected series of experiments is being worked out that will serve to lay the basis for graduate pursuit of psychology. Mr. Harley, Instructor in Psychology, will have immediate charge of the laboratory, located at present in the basement of the Carnegie Library.

You will never see Captain Tobin, Lamb or Dan Welty play football again unless you go to Pitt.

All sold out during Pennsylvania Week. Everything will be new and fresh again.
