

TWO CONSECUTIVE PITT VICTORIES NEW RECORD FOR FAMOUS SERIES

Fumbling Plays Important Part in Loss of Game in Which Victors Excelled in Nearly Every Department—Seniors Playing Last Game for Blue and White Distinguish Themselves—Entire Line and Clark Star—Peck, Williamson and Hastings are Pitt Stars Varsity Club Banquets.

Taking advantage of every weakness in Blue and White play, one of the best coached teams ever turned out by the University of Pittsburgh established a new record on Forbes field last Thursday when, by defeating their rivals 13-3, they registered two victories in as many years.

Realizing the State line and ends to be almost impregnable, Coach Duff perfected the best system of forward passes shown by any State opponent this year, developed a drop kicker, and drilled the men in following the ball closely. The Pitt excellence in these departments was the factor which swung the tide of victory in their favor. The State ends and line played well both offensively and defensively. Clark was the only consistent ground gainer, and his punting was of the very highest order.

Rand Miller played one of the greatest games at guard that has ever been seen in Pittsburgh. His low and deadly charging made Pitt gains through his position impossible.

Playing his last game for State Lamb easily outplayed his opponent. He made the only points of the game for State and a brilliant catch of a forward pass by him put Pitt on the defensive in the first period.

To Captain Tobin should go the greatest praise. In a weakened condition with bandaged hands and bleeding head, he was the fighter who inspired the men. With physical strength gone, he played the entire game on his nerves.

The game is the fourteenth of a series in which State has won nine games and Pitt five. A total of 179 points have been scored by the winners of the Blue and White against 64 points tallied by Pitt. On one occasion only has State won three games in succession, but two consecutive victories have gone to the Nittany Lion three times.

Two of the Pitt scores were directly the results of fumbles. A fumbled punt by Captain Tobin on his 23 yard line in the third period enabled Pitt to batter its way to a touchdown. With first down on the State two yard line Pitt took four tries before the ball was placed one inch over the goal line.

In the last period when State was fighting hardest and had just scored three points, Morris fumbled the kick off on his own 19 yard line. The line was still fighting hard and when the Pitt backs had gained 13 yards in five downs they were thrown back for a ten yard loss. Hastings was then called on to kick and he registered the last three points.

An analysis of the game shows conclusively the departments in which each team excelled. Pitt forward passes gained 111 yards in four successful attempts. Eight passes were grounded and four intercepted. State gained 20 yards on two successful tries. Four of their passes were grounded and two intercepted.

Pitt scored 13 first downs to eight scored by State but both teams averaged 40 yards beyond the line of scrimmage on punts.

Pitt dropped-kicked five times. Two attempts were successful from the 28 and 32 yard line respectively, while three were missed from the 20, 38 and 30 yard lines.

State tried two field goals from placement. One was successful from the 32 yard line and one successful from the 22 yard line.

On end running and line bucking Pitt gained 145 yards in 48 tries while State gained 110 yards in 34 plays. Including losses Pitt gained only 116 yards and State 102 yards. Of the 102 yards net gain Clark made 62 in twelve tries.

Pitt won the toss and chose to receive the kick off. Lamb kicked to Hastings who ran 13 yards to the Pitt 23 yard line. Six plays put the ball back on their 47 yard line.

Here a beautiful forward pass gained 50 yards and put the ball on State's three yard line. Three line plays lost four yards and when a forward failed State took the ball on downs. Clark kicked to his 45 yard line where Williamson was tackled. Another forward pass put the ball on the 15 yard line. The line strengthened again and Hastings missed a field goal.

An intercepted forward pass by Yerger and Clark's excellent punting enabled State to advance the ball to Pitt's 42 yard line. Line plays netted little and Lamb carried the ball on a forward pass to the Pitt 25 yard line when the period ended.

Clark opened the second period by carrying the ball in three tries to Pitt's 11 yard line. At this point Pitt held and Lamb missed a field goal by inches.

Pitt put the ball in play on her 20 yard line. By a varied attack the ball was carried to State's 20 yard line and after a forward failed, Hastings missed a field goal.

State put the ball in play on the 20 yard line and James went in for Dippe. Clark lost four on a bad pass from center, and kicked out of bounds on Pitt's 40 yard line.

Pitt returned the kick and James was downed on his 14 yard line. On the next play Pitt intercepted a long forward on State's 37 yard line. Pitt was penalized 5 yards on the next play and it was first down on State's 45 yard line. Henry made 4 yards through center and unnecessary roughness by James but the ball on State's 19 yard line. Hastings could not gain and then missed a field goal.

The half ended shortly after with State having the ball in Pitt territory.

The teams started the second half with the same line-up that started the game. Lamb kicked off to Hastings on the three yard line who returned the ball to the 26 yard line. The ball was carried to State's 29 yard line. Hastings could not gain in two tries and Williamson made four yards around

PITT-STATE CONCERT A SUCCESS Program Good, Well Rendered and Enthusiastically Received.

The annual combined concert of the Pitt-State musical clubs was given before a large audience in Carnegie Musical Hall on the evening before Thanksgiving. The numbers, as will be seen from the program which follows, were all of the highest order and received with the utmost enthusiasm. If it were possible to pick out individual performers, we might compliment Pitt on her reader, J. A. Thompson. Our varsity male quartet proved to be as popular as ever, and the mandolin clubs of both institutions came in for their own share of the generous applause. The friendly rivalry of the two clubs was kept throughout.

- The program:
- "Twilight", State Glee club.
 - "Grand Opera Strains", Pitt Mandolin club.
 - "A Burlesque", State Varsity Male Quartette.
 - "Estudiantina", Pitt Glee club.
 - "Specialty Songs", G. L. Sauerhoff, State.
 - Male quartet, Pitt.
 - Serenade and Valse Slav. State Mandolin club.
 - "Sleep Time Ma Honey", Pitt Glee club.
 - "The Shoogy Shoo", State Male quartette.
 - Reading "How Rugby Played", J. A. Thompson, Pitt.
 - "The Two Grenadies," State Glee club.
 - "Echoes of '61" and "Dainty Dances", Pitt Mandolin club.
 - Solo, R. H. Kirk, Pitt.
 - "Beauteous Night," Pitt Glee club.

"Bob" Reed's Departure
With the departure of "Bob" next Monday for his new field of work, the Pennsylvania State College bids farewell to one of its most loyal friends. It is needless to say that "Bob" will be missed greatly in every line of work with which he came in touch. He will no longer greet us each morning at the exercises which usher in our work for the day; in the classroom his absence will be keenly felt, on the athletic field we will lack the enthusiasm which his presence always gave us; and most of all, we will miss him as a personal friend who always has a cheerful word to greet us.

The Collegian voices the sentiments of the student body in thanking "Bob" for all that he has done for us and for Penn State during the time he has spent here, and in extending to him our hearty good wishes as he leaves for the University of Illinois.

Short Course Begins.
Thursday morning will see the first classes in the short course of the present year. The attendance promises to be greater than ever before. Two hundred or more admission cards have been issued and all the applicants are expected to be on hand. Of these some 25 are taking the Creamery course. It is interesting to note that there are 53 counties represented, also that the courses in Home Economics have induced more women than usual to come here for the 12 weeks. Last year, the "Short Horns" numbered 176.

A big double program consisting of the combined "General," and "Mutual" Movies will be featured at "Babe's" popular matinee daily.

Interclass Wrestling Meet.

The third annual interclass wrestling meet will be held in the Armory, Saturday night the 12th. This meet seems to have established itself as a regular event, and since the training table squad are selected from the results it has come to be considered as the virtual opening of the varsity season. Wrestling has in the past enjoyed a popularity, second to none of the minor sports. In the last three seasons we have had varsity teams to be proud of. In that period we have lost one meet, the first meet of the 1912 season, which was lost to Cornell on roll call. Last year State won all of her five meets, and lost but one fall and one decision. A comparison of total points scored shows State credited with 128, while opponents gathered but 13. With the loss of only one varsity regular by graduation, Sayre, the 175 pound representative, prospects look bright for a more successful season than ever. Some enthusiasts hope to see Penn State admitted to the inter-collegiate championship this year.

Class rivalry has always brought out many candidates for this interclass event. One class has already voted to allow its representatives to wear their numerals, the other classes may follow suit. The present Senior class won the event last year with 29 points, while the present Junior class ran second with 19 points. Predictions cannot very well be made as to the winner this year. Varsity men will not be allowed to compete in this event. The bouts will be staged on two mats; the Junior and Freshmen will meet on a one mat while the Seniors and Sophomores will battle on the other. The winners of these bouts will then be matched. Judging on past performances alone, Hoffer of '17 looks like a possibility in the 115 class. The next three weights look like a toss-up. The most likely claimants in the 158 pound class are Gleason '15, Pickett '16, and Griffiths '17. Stecker of '15 should have no trouble in the 175 pound class, while Balbach the Freshman, because of his great weight should run strong in the heavy-weight class.

County and School Clubs.

The presidents of all the county and prep school clubs are requested to hand their names and the dates of the meetings previous to Christmas vacation to D. McKay Jr., Sigma Chi house.

WEEK OF PRAYER BEGUN

Dr. Tomkins, of the Trinity Church, Philadelphia, Opens Services Here—Meetings Continue Until Friday, the Fourth.

The Week of Prayer, observed in all colleges throughout the length and breadth of the land, was opened here on Tuesday evening by Dr. Floyd Tomkins who comes to us from the Trinity Church, of Philadelphia. Under any circumstances such a custom as this could not be other than most helpful, but with such a leader as we have, the lessons taught: should sink deep, and the influence and effects of the season of prayer should be far reaching and lasting.

We are extremely fortunate in having with us Dr Tomkins. During the three years from 1902 to 1905, he was chaplain at Harvard, and at the present time he spends one week there yearly. In addition to this, he is chaplain of the First Regiment National Guards of Pennsylvania, is the author of many books, and a constant contributor to the current religious magazines and periodicals, as well as writing for the dailies. It is he who writes the religious editorial each week for the Public Ledger.

The ability to pray, to pray effectively, to pray and be able to feel that that prayer will be answered is a power in which we are all more or less wanting. It is the purpose of this week of prayer to develop that power, to teach a man to pray so that the praying brings him strength for a struggle, and comfort in affliction. No one can possibly afford to let such an opportunity as these services offer, pass him by and we sincerely trust that in the meetings that we still have between this and Friday evening the Old Chapel will be crowded to its capacity.

Agricultural Society News.

At the regular meeting of the Agricultural Society last Tuesday evening, a number of officers were nominated, and the men will be elected at a meeting of the society in two weeks. Only those who are paid-up members will be entitled to vote at this election. It is very important that all members of the organization pay their dues before the coming election of officers.

The club room in the Agricultural building is now completed and furnished in an up-to-date manner with tables, chairs, etc. A large number of books, papers, and agricultural literature may be found in this room and are at the disposal of the members. Besides being a reading room, the club will hold various meetings in this room. Membership is secured by the payment of the fee of 25 cents, which entitles the holder of the membership card to all the privileges of the club. Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores at the beginning of the second semester, two-year men, and short course men are eligible to membership, the short course men will be obliged to pay a fee of only 10 cents. The money that is received for the membership dues will be used to defray the general expenses of the organization. Plans are under way for the expenditure of $300 in the near future to equip the club room. The membership is good for the entire college course with the payment of only one fee, and all eligible men are urged to become affiliated with the club at once.
