DAMAGE FEE REDUCED.

At the last meeting of the board of trustees it was voted to reduce the damage fee from $2 to $1 per student beginning September, 1915.

It was also voted to remake McAllister hall into a dormitory for women. Some extensive additions and alterations will be made to the building.

A committee of the board of trustees will shortly begin a thorough investigation of the fees charged in the various schools and also of the various curricula so far as the proportion of the cultural and technical studies is concerned.

The new Liberal Arts building has been taken off the contractor's hands, and the furniture will be installed in a few weeks. At that time, a number of classes will be moved into the new building and the space thus made in the old classrooms will be used by the overflow of the botany classes.

The work of filling in the new street from the Chemistry building in front of McAllister hall to the main street of the village has begun. Concrete pavements will be laid on this street in the early spring. It will accommodate students attending the new Mining building.

Alumni Notes.

The highest price ever paid for wheat grown in Pennsylvania was given here by the Dayton Milling company yesterday when $1.50 per bushel was paid for nearly 1000 bushels.

"This wheat was raised of the Piollet farm at Wysox, three miles from Towanda under the supervision of Thomas W. Piollet, a graduate of Penn State college, where he had time to star on the football team as well as study agriculture. Piollet gave special care to fertilization and liming, and produced wheat of extra high grade". Phila North American.

Special Senior Dance.

The third senior dance will be Monday evening, February 22. Special music will be provided and a large crowd is expected.

In the College World.

The Pitt delegates at the campaign were here to study methods for running such meetings at Pittsburgh. They hope to secure either Mott, Eddy or Speer.

Pittsburgh debating includes a team of girls who will meet Geneva college in a contest.

The girls' dance program at Pitt was deleted by the censor and riddled by the ultimatums of the faculty until all of the newer dances were barred.

Lehigh defeated Pitt by one point in a recent basketball contest at South Bethlehem. This was Pitt's first defeat of the year.

Dorizas, the Penn wrestler, gained confidence when he heard of Lamb's draw at Annapolis.

Illinois Siren

Charley Barrett, of Cornell, one of the greatest quarterbacks in the last ten years, visited here during the campaign. One night at two o'clock he took time off to instruct some State men in drop kicking.

Campbell, of Yale, holder of the intercollegiate pole vault record, gave Page some instructions during a vacant period in the campaign.

Vaudeville to be Tried

Manager Wood has laid plans for the enlargement and improvement of his theatre. A seating capacity of one thousand and a stage of latest design are among the ideas that are receiving serious consideration.

For the development of such plans into actualities the vaudeville would be necessary as a part of the weekly program and with this in view Manager Wood has already advanced the project. Before, however, such an outlay can be made it is natural that the attitude of the patrons, particularly the students, be tried. At this point the situation stands at present.

The management proposes to stage vaudeville weekly, Friday and Saturday evenings, and continue to do so as long as the student attitude sanctions it. The calibre of the players and number of acts will rest with the student body more than it does with the management.

Disorder before or during the acts would not only kill the performance but would soon make it impossible for the house to book any reputable acts. Previous attempts along this line were failures for this reason. It now rests with the students who demand this order and by so doing we may look forward to something other than continuous rolls of films.

Play For Benefit of Hospital

"The Hand of the Prophet" by Margaret Stauffer Oliver, will be presented in the Auditorium, Friday, March 12, for the benefit of the hospital fund. The play itself will be a novelty for the Penn State theatre goes inasmuch as it combines some clever acting and superb solo dancing. The scene is laid in Arabia and the entire production will be full of oriental color. There will be a chorus of men and women and the entire production will total 40 people. The costuming is in the hands of the hospital committee and no expense is being spared to make this the biggest production of its kind in the history of the college. The prices are to be within the reach of all and the worthiness of the cause should attract an unusually large audience. Tickets will be on sale in the near future.
