

Things About Ourselves.

The college issues a semi-monthly bulletin which is sent to various newspapers of the state, and in the current issues we vote the following items which may be of general interest to students.

Poultry fanciers on the farms of this State are to be assisted in improving their flocks by the Pennsylvania State college, according to a recent announcement made by M. C. Kilpatrick, head of the poultry department at the institution. He said that blooded cockerels grown at the college farms would be sold at cost through the various county farm bureaus.

Defending the modern college student, Dr. E. E. Sparks, president of the Pennsylvania State college, in a recent address at the Central Y. M. C. A., in Philadelphia, said there never was a time when clean living prevailed as largely among college men as at present. In his opinion athletics have set a standard for taking care of the body; for demonstrating that the wages of sin is death.

The most approved methods of scientific crop and animal raising will be expounded to Western Pennsylvania farmers by a corps of experts from the Pennsylvania State college at the Monongahela House, Pittsburgh, on February 23, 24 and 25. There will be 19 lectures upon whatever topics are involved in lessening the cost of living or increasing the net return from farms. The care of fruit trees, the cultivation of alfalfa, the breeding of beef, chickens and swine, the sale of produce, along with many kindred subjects will all be discussed.

The Band Concert.

The Cadet band will give its first concert of the new term in the auditorium, next Sunday evening at eight o'clock. Band master Thompson has been making the men work nights and the program following will show the results of their labors. The Varsity quartet is to render one number, and Austin's ability to entertain will be once more in evidence. The program:

March, dedicated to W. O. Thompson and Cadet Band, by C. H. Berheim; Overture, "Fest"; Varsity Quartet, Selected; (a) "Angel's Serenade", Obligati, F. R. Morey, '17 (b) "Simple Aveu", Saxophone, J. E. Morrow, '16; selection, "Adele"; reading, Selected, L. R. Austin; waltz "Beautiful" Blue Danube"; suite, "Americana"; "The Star Spangled Banner".

The audience is requested to rise and sing the first stanza of the "Star Spangled Banner", when that number is played.

We Wonder

When the fire company is going to get its red shirts.

Who has charge of the doors of the Auditorium when a big crowd is on hand.

Why Babe had such a crowd Friday night.

What the faculty thinks about the honor system.

When the townspeople will bail out their sidewelks.

When the construction of a cement walk to Ag hill will be begun.

Why the Glee club needs a benefit.

Registrar's Notice.

All students having re-examinations on Wednesday afternoon, which conflict with their classes, should secure permits far enough in advance to enable them to be excused from class work. The Registrar's office will be closed on Saturday afternoon.

Lehigh Wrestlers Next

Captain Lamb and his wrestlers will meet Lehigh university next Monday, Washington's birthday, at South Bethlehem. Wrestling at Lehigh is quite as popular as it is at Penn State and a fine meet should result.

Lamb's opponent will be Pons who weighs 260 pounds and who was fast enough to play football. He has won both of his bouts this year, throwing his Navy opponent in two minutes.

The 175 pound man is their heavyweight of last year, Good, Captain Sawtelle will be Yerger's opponent and Lehigh considers him to be her best. He wrestled but little last year due to a broken arm. He played end on the football team this year.

The other weights of the team are well balanced. Kirkhoff, 115 pounds, and Martin, 125 pounds, are veterans and the other two men have much experience.

The team defeated Columbia winning all except one bout but they lost four bouts out of seven to the Navy. In view of this record, the team should return Tuesday with another victory, but every bout will be well fought especially those of Long and Kirkhoff, Sawtelle and Yerger and Lamb and Pons.

Notice.

On Tuesday evening, February 23, there will be a meeting in the Old Chapel, of all members of the Y. M. C. A. The purpose of this meeting will be to discuss suggestions for extending and improving the work of the association. All members are asked to be present, and to bring along any criticism or suggestion which they may have regarding the welfare of the association. The nature of this meeting is an invocation, and if successful, it will be followed by others.
