Expects Great Baseball Season

Though it is a little early in the year for predictions on what may occur during our strenuous baseball season, Coach Harley confidently expects to develop from the material now on hand, one of the best teams ever turned out at State. Wardwell, Liebert and Hesselbacher, three of the cleverest pitchers that ever donned a college uniform are now in fine shape. There has been a big shift in the infield, Weber going to third, Blythe or Eliffe at short, Bachman and Kaunas alternating at second and Robinson covering the initial sack.

Captain Vogt will be ably assisted behind the bat by Moore and Miller. The outfield is uncertain. Crawford, Josephson, Kern, Scollins and Kominars are all out fighting hard for their respective positions. Due to eligibility rulings, McEnery, lately from Manhattan college, will not be allowed to play this year.

Both Captain Vogt and Coach Harley express the hope of getting out of doors with the team several weeks before their departure for the south this Easter.

Training table starts this week. Those who will be placed upon it are: Vogt, Hesselbacher, Liebert, Wardwell, Robinson, Weber, Blythe, Elliffe, Crawford, Josephson, Moore, Miller, Kominars, Tobin, Kern, Kaunas, Mingle, Scollins and Johnson.

In the College World.

Two blind boys are working their way through Texas university.

Billy Sunday accepted the invitation of the Princeton theological students to come and preach at the university, despite the opposition of President Hibben. He has also accepted the invitation of Dr. Drinker to go to Lehigh.

The Kansas State Agricultural college sends correspondence work to more than 100 prisoners in the Federal penitentiary, at Leavenworth, Kansas.

The Poughkeepsie regatta will be held on June 28. It is probable that Wisconsin will not be represented on the Hudson this year.

The freshman physical examination at Cornell resulted as follows: 852 men have functional spinal curvature, 441 wear glasses, 375 have enlarged tonsils, 125 suffer from goitre and 626 have weak arches of the feet. The class is made up of 1500 men. Military drill is recommended as one of the best things to correct many of these weaknesses.

It took a "Co-ed to win over five men, representing as many different states, who were entered in the eastern interstate oratorical contest of the Intercollegiate Prohibition association held at Albion, Michigan, on November 13. Miss Ethel L. Bedient a student at Albion College, was the young woman who did the trick. By winning this contest, she captured a cash prize of $75 and the honor of representing the eastern section of the United States in the Grand National Oratorical contest held at Topeka, Kansas, December 29th.

COMEDY FEATURES NEW THESPIAN SHOW

Lamb, Raynor and Shultz Comedians of Ability. Professor Crandell Training Orchestra. Many New Men in Cast.

Captain Levi L. Lamb with his wrestling should have but little trouble in maintaining order in the Thespian restaurant where he will portray the character of a waiter. The prohibition lid will be off for the evening and numerous new concoctions served.

Seldom if ever has the organization been so fortunate as to have three comedians of quality. Lamb, Raynor and Shultz will enact the roles of the comedians. Raynor and Lamb's wrestling bout is full of interest, while the German duet sung by Schultz and Raynor is very pathetic.

Forman, Hemminger and Spade are proving themselves adept at straight parts. The dancing in the cast is better than in any previous show. Coach Downing continues to work the men under forced pressure and entire rehearsals will soon be in order.

The orchestra under the leadership of Professor Crandell is practising almost daily and will be of the same high order.

The Short Course Play

For the first time in the history of the college the students of the short course presented a play. On the evening of February 22, with Old Chapel filled to the doors, the three act farce, "Caught Out" was presented with such ability that the house was taken by storm. The interest of the play centered about a star college pitcher a manager of a "Home Town" baseball team and a gay coquette. Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Saunders and Miss James starred in these respective parts. Nine fellows and two girls composed the famous cast. Between acts Chancey, Martindale and Keertz presented some vaudeville stunts.

The coaching was done by W. R. Skillman '16 and Mr. Deering. The production was staged for the benefit of the hospital fund and netted $38.90. The success of this year's play will doubtless encourage future short course classes to follow the precedent set by this class of 1915.

An Interesting Letter.

A note from Professor John H. Frizzell, of the English department, now holder of a fellowship at the University of Pennsylvania, gives a quotation from the February issue of the "Red and Blue" of Pennsylvania. In an interview, Mike Dorizas gave out the following statements: "Lamb was the best wrestler I ever met. He taught me some things I did not know, and best of all he fought fair—as a gentleman should."

Professor Frizzell says of the "Collegian"; "I am glad to see the improvement in the "Collegian" this year. It is a good journal. May the good work continue."

Because of poor preparation in grammar and spelling, 80 freshmen of the Michigan Agricultural college are required to spend extra time in training themselves in these subjects. The attention of educators is being directed to this weakness in our system of education, and steps are being taken to correct the fault.

The Most Wonderful Achievement

in motion pictures. The first and only

SUBMARINE PICTURES

Admittance Charge 25 Cents

Taken by Williamson Brothers, completing and following out their father's invention lowering from the sides of a vessel to the depths of the sea a flexible submarine tube with its photographic chamber. Night and day these motion pictures were taken in Bahama Island, covering 500 miles—the most interesting things are shown in 7 reels.

The film discloses many beautiful absorbing and thrilling scenes and adventures on the floor of the world, such as coral reefs, the famous marine gardens, sunken and petrifying wrecks of ships, a deep sea diver hunting lost treasure, shark fishing, sponge fishing, a battle royal between two great sharks, and a sensational combat between Ernest Williamson and a mammoth blue shark thirty to sixty feet under water. No such film as this has ever been seen before because none like it could be taken till the Williamsons made their submarine inventions.

The Nittany Theatre is the first exclusive Motion Picture Theatre in Pennsylvania to show these pictures.

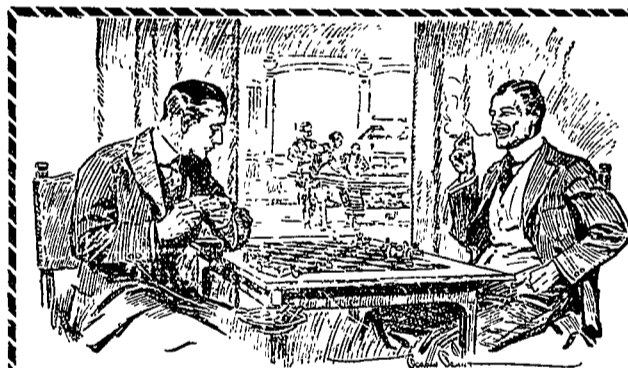

Just completed a 13 weeks' continuous showing at Fine Arts Theatre Chicago, at an admission of 50c, 75c and $1.00.

Seven pages of the January number of the American Magazine devoted to the work of these wonderful pictures and inventions.
