

TAKE FIVE STRAIGHT

Team Returns Undefeated From Southern Trip. Take First Home Game From Susquehanna 7-1. Pitchers Going Very Good. Effect of Practice Evident Upon Base-Running.

With five teams met and defeated, the baseball team has fully lived up to the banner year predicted for it so far. Too much credit cannot be given to our trio of pitchers, Hesselbacher, Wardwell, and Liebert. In every game they have passed out gilt-edged ball and been the deciding factor for success. In five games these three have struck out 52, while opposing pitchers have struck out five straight men, an enviable record. Wardwell pitched a wonderful game against A. & M. who lost their first game to State, when he struck out 13 men and allowed only two hits out of the infield. It might be interesting to note that in these first five games, that State men hit safely 31 times to 17 of their opponents and stole 10 bases, just twice as many their opponents.

The season was opened with the Navy at Annapolis March 31. "Big" George Hesselbacher was in the box and held the midshipmen to four hits. The Navy's only rally came in the second when Calhoun walked and scored on a triple by Moran. State gathered three runs in the first: Crawford singled, Bachman got on by an error at second, Josefson walked and then Kominars uncorked a two-bagger which scored all three. The other tally came in the eighth when Kominars again hit for two bases and scored on a single by Blythe.

The next game with A & M was a pitcher's battle between Wardwell and Jaynes. Wardwell had the better of the argument. He allowed three scattered hits and struck out 13 batsmen in nine innings. The only tally of the game was the result errors in the ninth.

The third game was played with Trinity at Durham N. C. Liebert was in the box and allowed four singles. State score two runs in the first inning when Blythe got on by a fielder's choice and scored on a two-bagger by Robison. Robison in turn scored when Kominars singled. Trinity collected their only score in the fourth inning when Siler singled, advanced on a sacrifice by Horne and scored when Maddox singled.

The last game of the trip was played with the Catholic University at Washington. "Big" George was again on the mound. He allowed but four hits, all singles, and struck out 12 men. State's two tallies again came in the first inning. Crawford walked and advanced one when Blythe sacrificed. Josefson then tripled scoring Crawford, and scored on a sacrifice to second by Robison.

The Washington and Lee game was not played because of storm, and wet grounds prevented the game scheduled with Swarthmore.

Wardwell pitched the first game on New Beaver last Saturday. He struck out eleven men, allowed but two hits, and was never in serious trouble. In addition to touching up the two visiting slabmen for 11 hits State was credited with four stolen bases.

Crawford opened the last half of the third with a Texas leaguer back of third. He was well started for second when Blythe hit to second, who missed Crawford and threw to first who was not on the bag. Josefson spoiled two, and then hit to second forcing Blythe. Robison now hit short to the pitcher and he threw home to catch Crawford who slid safe. The catcher threw to second to nail Robison who slid safe, and second returned the ball to catch Josefson, who slid home safe, while Robison stole third. Kominar squeezed Robison in and Bachman was out, catcher to first.

State added three more hits in the fifth an a bundle of hits. In the sixth Peters, who replaced Goble on the mound, walked Blythe, the first man up, who stole second and scored when Kominars singled.

Susquehanna's only score came in the seventh inning. Wardwell hit Swope the first man up, and then struck out Long. Peters hit through third and put Swope on second. Wardwell struck out Harkins. Phillips then hit to Blythe, who threw low through Robison and Swope scored. Goble fouled out to Vogt.

DEATH OF TRUSTEE BLOW TO COLLEGE

James Edwin Quigley, Class of 1894, Prominent and Successful Graduate—Deep Loss to Every Department of College Life.

Penn State lost a very powerful friend when James Edwin Quigley '94, succumbed to an attack of pneumonia in his home at Pittsburgh. As a member of the advisory committee of athletics from the inauguration of that body and member of the executive committee of the board of trustees he has always had a big influence in the improvement of Penn State.

He entered the preparatory department in 1889 and graduated in mechanical engineering in 1894. As an undergraduate he managed the college paper and the football team. He was secretary of the Athletic association and member of the Glee club, Orchestra, Gun club, Literary society, Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity, Junior Reception committee, and the Adolph club.

Upon graduation he rose rapidly in his field until in 1902 he became manager of the insulation department of the Armstrong, Cork company. Later he became a director in the company. He was a member of the Duquesne club, the University club, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and of the American Society of Refrigerating Engineers. The following article by President Sparks voices the sentiments of faculty, alumni and student body:

"Announcement of the death of Mr. J. E. Quigley '94, a member of the Board of Trustees of the college, comes as a shock to those who knew him as a man in the prime of life, energetic, full of enthusiasm, and overflowing in his love for this college. From the day he entered the preparatory department until the present time, he never for a moment lost faith in the future of the college. In this particular he rivaled the constant hope of General Beaver. He was also a strong adherent of the theory of student government, believing that in the end the students would correct existing evils, and were the best judges of the steps to be taken for the betterment of college affairs.

"For eight years as a member of the board of trustees, he attended all meetings and took an active part in all discussions. He was especially interested in the college athletic system and looked forward to the time when Penn State might have an all-round physical training for every student. To him they owe old Beaver field, since in his student days he strongly urged that project. To him also they are indebted in no small degree for the new Beaver field. Also to his insistence the students owe the setting aside of the field beyond the west barn which he had dreamed would become a vast playground for physical exercise of various kinds.

"When General Beaver departed this life full of years and honors no one would have supposed that death would claim as its next victim a man young in years, vigorous in health and strong in every vital particular for a prolonged term of life. To his family and friends, the college extends a heartfelt sympathy. To them must belong whatever satisfaction arises from the contemplation of a life well spent in a line of duty and devoted largely to the interests and welfare of others."

FAST TRACK TRIALS

Dolbin Equals Record in 440 Yard Dash—Entwistle Leads Milers.

The State track men made a fine showing in the trials Saturday on New Beaver, held in preparation for the Penn relays scheduled for April 23-24.

Entwistle won the one mile run in the fast time of 4:32 3-5, having the lead for the entire race. On the last quarter he increased the pace and finished about 15 yards ahead of Schroeder. Garland was at Schroeder's heels, with Farley a good fourth. The average time of these men was 4:35.

Dolbin, in a close race, won the quarter in the record time of 50 4-5 seconds. Mason and Brown tied for second with Cotton and Post in order. The average time of the first four was 51 2-5 seconds. Leyden '14, broke the record for the quarter last spring at 50 4-5 seconds.

The result of these two races argues well for a fast one mile and a fast four mile relay team.

Captain Hammitt defeated Baron '18, in the 120 yard hurdles. Time, 15 4-5 seconds. This race was run on the turf.

Dambly '18, has been working hard for the pentathlon, which consists of a 200 meter and 1500 meter race, the broad jump, and throwing the discus and javelin. Lamb is expected to show up well for this event.

From the present outlook Coach Martin's men will make a creditable showing at the famous Penn relays.

WELFARE WEEK APRIL 13-17

Interesting and Instructive Lectures Every Evening This Week.

The Varney Welfare Week at State College, conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Varney, is a series of meetings which will result in the dissemination of broader ideas in social service work to the citizens of the village, as well as to the college students who attend the lectures. The week was formally opened yesterday afternoon, April 13, by a preliminary service held in the Presbyterian church. At this meeting both Mr. and Mrs. Varney outlined the general plans for the week.

Mr. Varney's first lecture will be given this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in the Presbyterian church, the subject being "The Grappling Hook." At 4:00 o'clock Mrs. Varney will meet the women in a conference. Thursday, Friday, and Saturday afternoons at 3:00 o'clock Mr. Varney will lecture in the Methodist church. Mrs. Varney will meet the women in similar meetings each afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

The evening meetings will be held in the Old Chapel at 8:00, and will consist of a lecture each evening. Next Sunday afternoon the 3:00 o'clock lecture will be held at the Old Chapel; "The Dying Giant" will be the topic, this being Chaplain Varney's great lecture.

The two workers who are conducting the meetings have devoted their time to this branch of service for a number of years, and every one will be amply repaid by attending the lectures.

Y. M. C. A. Entertainment Notice.

Owing to the lecture of the Varney's on Saturday evening, April 17, the lecture by Dr. Steiner will begin at 8:30 instead of 8:15 as usual for these entertainments.

TWO VICTORIES CLOSE DEBATING SEASON

Pitt and W. and J. Go Down to Defeat—Four Victories and but One Defeat For Penn State.

Penn State's debating season closed on Friday night with two victories in the Western Pennsylvania Debating league. Both sides of the subject, "Resolved, that the United States should abandon the Monroe Doctrine", were argued by the State teams. At the University of Pittsburgh our negative team won by the unanimous vote of the judges while in the Auditorium the affirmative also won by a unanimous vote over Washington and Jefferson.

The debate in the Auditorium was not so hotly contested as the other debates held here and at no time was there any doubt but that the State debaters had the best of the argument. In the rebuttals the W. and J. men failed to refute the main contentions of the affirmative while the State team was prepared to meet every argument advanced by their opponents.

Locke's argument for State was very effective while Hague was the strongest contender for the negative. The main arguments of the affirmative were that the Monroe Doctrine is unjust, that it is a menace to the peace and safety of the United States, and that international law is sufficient as our foreign policy.

The team was composed of Miller '17, Locke '17, Morrow '16, and Rice, special, alternate. At the University of Pitt we were represented by Diem '18, Skillman '16, Schwartz '16, and Martin '18.

These two victories close a most successful debating season for Penn State. Our teams won against Franklin and Marshall, Westminster, W. and J., and Pittsburg while we lost one debate to F. and M.

Much credit is due to Professor Marshman who coached the teams. Under his supervision a number of men have developed into good debaters and a renewed interest has been taken in this activity.

Freshmen Baseball

Sixty-seven freshmen reported last Saturday for the class baseball team. Of these nearly half are candidates for the outfield position while only a few reported for battery. In these latter positions the team probably be weak unless more men will report.

Y. M. C. A. Campaign Notice.

Any of the men who failed to get the complimentary booklet sent by Dr. John Mott after the campaign, may obtain a copy by calling in person at the Y. M. C. A. office at 273 Main building.

Junior Prom Caterer

The job of catering to the Junior Prom will be let out by bids very soon. All those who expect to bid should get in touch with R. A. Moyer at the Sigma Chi house at once.

Prof. G. H. Resides was one of those who correctly designated the boards in the lumber identification contest which was held by the Southern Lumbermen during the past winter. This contest was the identification of 12 wood panels from photographs. Prof. Resides also received honorable mention in the contest last year which consisted in the identification of 13 kinds of oak trees from their leaves.
