fee is charged. Also you must show it to attend the dancing classes in the Armory on Wednesday and Saturday nights. These cards are not transferable. If presented by another person, the card will be taken up and a new registration fee charged.

Professor F. L. Pattee, head of the department of English, was given the degree of Master of Letters by Dartmouth College last week. Professor Pattee was graduated from Dartmouth with the class of '88.

Dr. Holmes, dean of the general faculty, who lectured and preached last summer in addition to conducting a Sunday morning conference on religious problems, is spending this summer at the University of Wisconsin. Professor Hugo Diemer, who lectured on industrial education last year, is teaching in the University of Chicago this summer.

Yes, the summer session students may walk on the grass but must not follow paths. Especially are paths across the front campus objectionable. That is the reason for the barbed wire along the main driveway.

McAllister Hall will be missed this year as a dormitory by the women students. Certain changes are being made in the interior and an assembly room added to the front. These changes are necessary for the next school year since the building is hereafter to be used as a dormitory for women instead of men. It will be re-furnished throughout and next summer will be an attractive home for several hundred summer students.

Summer students are urged to have their mail matter properly addressed. If you room in a dormitory, have your mail addressed to that dormitory and room number. If you room in town, have your mail addressed to the street and number. If you rent a post office box, have your mail addressed to that box number. If for any good reason you must have your mail in the general delivery, have your mail directed to "General Delivery". Do not have your mail directed "In care of the college, or in care of the summer school" for the reason that the college does not take care of mail addressed in this manner.
