Have you seen the old "Punch Bowl" which we used for outdoor services preceding summers? How do you like the change? The expense was paid from the earnings of the pageant and "Stunt Night" last year. The work is only half done. When completed the seating space and the stage will be double the present size. Perhaps the plays this summer will earn enough to complete the work. The Ben Greet Players will give two performances in the theatre during the session.

1492 CLASS GRADUATED

"Aluminum" Night Brings Out Oldest Living Graduate—Association Actually Allows Atrocities Attempted Among All Acclaiming Adherents.

The class of 1492 of the summer session celebrated its sixth annual graduation from this institution on Thursday evening. In the presence of more than 500 admiring friends and relatives, the "here before" participated in the last rites while Dr. W. S. Dye, Jr., officiated. The obsequies were observed in the punch bowl.

In connection with the annual "aluminum" night celebration, the following program is said to have been referred to:

1. Procession.
2. Salutatory, Miss J. M. MacCreight, of Philadelphia.
3. Music by the class.
4. Class oration on "The Wherefore of the Why, or the Reason a Cat Has Feet." Arthur Deering.
5. Presentations. V. R. Jones.
6. Responses. Miss Mary Ella Butler, of Reedsville; Miss Laura B. Staley, of Ardmore; and Dr. E. R. Smith.
7. Music by the orchestra.
8. Valedictory. Professor W. D. Crockett.
9. Assumption of the Mantle.
10. Presentation of the candidates for honorary degrees. Dr. E. R. Smith.
11. Questioning of the candidates for degrees. Dr. E. R. Smith.
12. Presentation of the candidates in mongrel Latin. Dr. E. R. Smith.
13. Conferring of badges. Dr. Sparks.
14. The Recessional.

Among those upon whom honorary degrees were bestowed was Christoforo Columbo, the charter member of the class. His bodily absence from the festivities was freely commented upon.
