

LAST WEEK TO SAVE MONEY ON YOUR SUBSCRIPTION

Penn State Collegian

BIG "POLITICAL" DOINGS AT STATE

VOL. XII.

STATE COLLEGE, PA., TUESDAY, OCT. 10, 1916.

Number 89

"PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN" WILL BE HELD HERE

Civic Club Under Leadership of Professor Zook Seeking to Arouse Interest in Present Political Campaign.

At the first regular meeting of the Civic Club last Thursday night it was decided to hold a mock presidential campaign and election among the students of the college for the purpose of arousing an interest in politics among the student body. Accordingly meetings were held last Thursday night at the appointed leaders of the two parties for the purpose of organizing the campaign and conducting the elections.

W. V. WESLYAN NEXT OPPONENT

West Virginia Team Under New Coach Out to Avenge Last Year's Defeat.

Next Saturday afternoon Dick Harlow and his team will engage the West Virginia team in a football game when it stacks up against the eleven from West Virginia Wesleyan College. The team made a largely of veterans the West Virginians are coming to State College prepared to give the Penn State aggregation the warmest reception they have ever accorded this season and to avenge, if possible, the 28-0 defeat inflicted upon them last year.

The Orange and Black team is being coached this year by "Greasy" Neale, a Wesleyan graduate who in his college days was considered one of the best players in the West. Neale's former coach has as his assistant ex-Captain Kellison, who for three years was picked as an all-West Virginia tackle.

Next Saturday afternoon Dick Harlow and his team will engage the West Virginia team in a football game when it stacks up against the eleven from West Virginia Wesleyan College.

The Orange and Black team is being coached this year by "Greasy" Neale, a Wesleyan graduate who in his college days was considered one of the best players in the West.

Next Saturday afternoon Dick Harlow and his team will engage the West Virginia team in a football game when it stacks up against the eleven from West Virginia Wesleyan College.

The Orange and Black team is being coached this year by "Greasy" Neale, a Wesleyan graduate who in his college days was considered one of the best players in the West.

E. E. SOCIETY ENTERTAINS FRESHMEN AT A FEED

On last Wednesday evening, the Electrical Engineering Society held a "feed" for the men in the freshman class who are taking up the study of electricity.

Mr. Burns gave an interesting talk on "Friendship" and was followed in turn by Robinson and Stevenson who spoke on the facilities and broadness of the course at Penn State.

Mr. Burns gave an interesting talk on "Friendship" and was followed in turn by Robinson and Stevenson who spoke on the facilities and broadness of the course at Penn State.

Mr. Burns gave an interesting talk on "Friendship" and was followed in turn by Robinson and Stevenson who spoke on the facilities and broadness of the course at Penn State.

PACIFIC COAST TEAM TO PLAY BASEBALL HERE

Leland Stanford University Will Appear on New Beaver Field Next June—State Team Feels Loss of Veterans

Probably the most anticipated baseball game of the coming season will be that with the Leland Stanford University of California. This game will be played at New Beaver field on June the eleventh. This is the first time that a college from the Pacific coast has played here at State and it will afford an excellent opportunity for comparison.

Aside from the game with Leland Stanford, other games will probably be played at commencement time, two with the University of Pittsburgh and one with the Alumni of the class of 1915.

The fall practice of the varsity baseball team has been under way for over two weeks. Captain Robinson is now back in college and has taken charge of the practice work.

Manager Levan says that although the pitching staff is strengthened, the prospects for the coming season are excellent. In all other departments of the game the team will be stronger than last year.

Without doubt, the poster night stands this year were participated in by more freshmen than ever had greeted such an important occasion since the beginning of Penn State time.

One of the disappointing features of the night's events is that part of the student body who usually had no part in them, was the necessary omission of the student by a town "gang."

Reverses of various sorts greeted the diligent Sophomores at every turn. They were really at a great disadvantage, but the suburban inhabitants couldn't believe it to be true.

Now, altogether, give on class yell, girls, and the dainty expressions as the line moved on the battery building.

At a recent meeting of the cabinet of the Agricultural Society, the officers for the fourth annual Ag Fair were chosen.

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

ANOTHER VICTIM

TWO POSTER NIGHTS FURNISH MUCH FUN

Class of 1920 Initiated to College Life Attended by Exciting Incidents—Strike Snaps at All Points

Sure, it was "Poster Night." Poster Night! What fond recollections it recalls to the upper classes who were denied the privilege of officially welcoming the little Freshies into the wily and whorish world of that mystic creation—College Life!

Without doubt, the poster night stands this year were participated in by more freshmen than ever had greeted such an important occasion since the beginning of Penn State time.

One of the disappointing features of the night's events is that part of the student body who usually had no part in them, was the necessary omission of the student by a town "gang."

Reverses of various sorts greeted the diligent Sophomores at every turn. They were really at a great disadvantage, but the suburban inhabitants couldn't believe it to be true.

Now, altogether, give on class yell, girls, and the dainty expressions as the line moved on the battery building.

At a recent meeting of the cabinet of the Agricultural Society, the officers for the fourth annual Ag Fair were chosen.

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

CALENDAR

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 11—6:30—Orchestra Practice, Band Room

THURSDAY, OCT. 12—6:30—Architectural Engineering "Feed", 202 Engineering Building

FRIDAY, OCT. 13—6:30—Chapel Choir Rehearsal, Auditorium

SATURDAY, OCT. 14—1:00—Track Trials, New Beaver Field

SUNDAY, OCT. 15—10:00 A. M.—Freshman Chapel, Old Chapel

MONDAY, OCT. 16—6:30—Drum and Bugle Corps Practice, Band Room

TUESDAY, OCT. 17—6:30—Y. M. C. A. Prayer Meeting, Old Chapel

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 18—6:30—Address by Dr. L. H. Bailey, Auditorium

PLANS MADE FOR AG. FAIR

Officers for Fair Elected—Agricultural Society to Hold a Booster Meeting.

At a recent meeting of the cabinet of the Agricultural Society, the officers for the fourth annual Ag Fair were chosen.

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

BUCNELL IS VANQUISHED BL STATE BUT FUMBLE ENABLES THEM TO SCORE

Old Rivals Meet on Gridiron for First Time in Six Years—State Clearly Demonstrates Her Superiority in Every Respect

BECK MAKES TOUCHDOWN FROM KICKOFF BEHIND WONDERFUL INTERFERENCE

After a lapse of six years, Penn State and Bucknell renewed athletic relations on the gridiron last Saturday afternoon, when the big Blue and White team completely out-played the visitors on New Beaver Field.

Bucknell's touchdown was directly due to a fumble, something which is apt to happen in any game, and it came in the waning moments of play when the visiting rosters had just about given up all hope.

The first of the series of Y. M. C. A. entertainments has been arranged for the coming year will be held in the auditorium next Saturday evening.

FIRST Y. M. C. A. ENTERTAINMENT

Daveny Festival Quintette to Give Concert in Auditorium Next Saturday Evening

The first of the series of Y. M. C. A. entertainments has been arranged for the coming year will be held in the auditorium next Saturday evening.

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

SOCCER TEAM SHOWS UP WELL IN EARLY PRACTICE

The soccer team has started work for the coming season and if early practice affords any indication, the prospects for a strong team are excellent.

Practice is being held every afternoon on New Beaver field, and as a general rule a squad of about thirty men is out.

The first game of the season will be played here the day after Penn State's Day with Lafayette. Manager Wamba plans to take an eastern trip during the Christmas vacation.

At a meeting for all men interested in wrestling in the Armory last Friday night, plans for the coming season were discussed.

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

DEBATE TRIALS TO BE HELD OCTOBER 25-27

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."

The question decided upon for use in the debating trials was, "Resolved, That, in case of the stability of the Latin American government is threatened by internal revolutions, the United States should intervene to establish a stable government."