State Coaches Pick All Penn'a Teams

country. Every man picked has been seen in action and his work carefully compared as a team unit and as an individual.

"In the backfield there are a number of star performers, prominent among whom are Hastings and McLaren, of Pitt, Berry and Derr, of Penn. Clark and Hess, of Penn State, McCright, of W. and J., Alderfer, of Carnegie Tech, and Brunner, of Lehigh. Wilson, of Lafayette, Bush, of Swarthmore, Moyer, of Gettysburg, and Welch and Swope, of Dickinson.

As the most consistent performers who are of all-around value to the team, Hastings, of Pitt, (the best all-around athlete in American today) and Berry, the wonderful combination man of the University of Pennsylvania have been selected. McLaren, the powerful line backer of the Pitt team, has been placed at the fullback position. For the second team Clark, of Penn State, is the first selection largely because of his off-tackle punning and his ability to make interference. The other backfield positions on the second eleven go to McCright, of W. and J. and Hess, of Penn State, both of whom came along faster than any of the other backs in the latter part of the season."

ROTE A STAR.

"At the quarterback position Rote, the diminutive Gettysburg lad, was by far the best man in the state and one of the best in the country. Second place has been given to Dellart, of Pitt, by reason of his wonderful speed in the open field."

"Among the ends there was a general scarcity of high class performers. The work of Higgins, of Penn State, Herron, of Pitt, McCarty, of Lehigh, and Miller, of Penn., stood out most prominently at the flank position. Carlson, of Pitt, Gibson, of Carnegie Tech, and Carroll, of W. and J., also stood out well above the average.

"At tackle Mackert, captain of the Lebanon Valley eleven, heads the list. His punning was on a par with that of the best tacklers in the country, and on a big team he, with Rote, could be the talk of the year. Henry, of W. and J., has been awarded the other position because of his consistent punning throughout the entire season. Next to him should be a marvel, Little, of Penn. Thornhill, of Pitt, McEaters, of Carnegie Tech, Emholt, of Swarthmore, Tate, of Lehigh, and Carneski, and Krushank of Penn State, also did good work."

"First place among the guards is given to Soutterland, of Pitt, while Krushank of Penn State, has been shifted from tackle to guard to fill the other position. Krushank has been deemed high class work all year and is a better lineman than any of the other guards who are available. Other good men include Higgins, of Penn State, Glick, of Lehigh, Lafayette, Kelly, of Carnegie Tech, and Hoegel, of Westminster. O'Donnell, of Penn State, was also a first class guard but somewhat weakened by lack of experience. Parrish, of Penn State, was good on the defense but very un dependable in the attack.

"At center Peck, of Pitt, outclasses every other center in the country. Wray, of Penn., however, may be classed as a good second to the Pitt star. Connor did very good work for Penn State and should prove a strong contender next year."

FRESHMAN SELECTIONS

Herrmann, in his selection of an all-Pennsylvania freshman team has ten colleges to pick from than Harlow, but nevertheless feels that the freshman team selected from the three leading colleges of the State would compare favorably with any similar team that might be selected in other sections of the country.

In the choice of ends, first place was given to Smozzski, of Penn State and Wallace, of Penn. The former with his ability to smash interference and tackle down the field reckoned by Herrmann as the best freshman end of the year in this section of the country. Wallace was selected as a running mate for Smozzski chiefly because of his ability in boxing tackles. Rauch, of Penn State, also played good football considering the fact that he has played football only during the last two years.

The three best tacklers in freshman ranks were to be found in Kelley, of chine. Susquehanna, Westminster, Bucknell and West Virginia Wesleyan were overwhelmed on successive Saturdays and great confidence prevailed over the result of the game. Penn. It was this confidence which proved State's undoing, however, for the unexpected strength of the Red and Blue took State by surprise and the result is history.

The team was pretty badly crippled in the Penn game and it was a makeshift eleven that trounced Gettysburg a week later. The result of this game seemed to revive the players somewhat and they ran up a total of 70 points on Geneva. At Lehigh, the following week, State played her best game of the season and gained the decision after one of the most grueling games ever played on the Lehigh field.

The Pennsylvania day attraction proved pretty much of a farce, when Lafayette sent in a team of substitutes which did not make the game even interesting. Coming just before the Pitt contest this was the worst thing that could have happened for the game was not even good practice. The Thanksgiving day game proved to be the second best of the season although the State team was defeated the game it played reflected nothing but credit upon the players.

Football Scrap Game Ends In Scoreless Tie

McKelvey to Miller, took the ball from the Sophomore's 40 yard line to their 20. But there the 1911 crew held fast, and three rushes gained but three yards. On the fourth down a forward pass grounded over the goal line. This was a splendid opportunity for a try for a goal from field, even with the heavy ball, but the Freshmen chose to pass it up, desiring bigger game.

After an exchange of kicks, the Soph held the ball in mid-field. Thorpe raced around the end for a first down, but then the Freshmen held for downs. The Soph kicked rolled over the goal, and starting from the 20 yard line Miller ran around right end for 18 just before the close of the quarter. The second quarter was largely a repetition of the first, with the Freshmen keeping most of the play in Sophomore territory.

HARLOW REVIEWS SEASON

Coach Harlow in reviewing the season, has the following to say: "I feel that the team did all that could be expected of them under the circumstances. Seven men were lost from the team of the year before and while the team did not exceed the goal, too much was expected of the new men who made up the biggest part of the team. During the season, they gradually improved, but their experience proved a severe handicap. The team was "green," and for that reason it was inclined to fall down at crucial times, such as in the Penn game and out at Pitt."

In reference to the schedule, Harlow says that it was undoubtedly a mistake to play so many small games, but at the time the schedule was made out, Bucknell, Westminster and Gettysburg were thought to have strong teams. Many of the smaller colleges will undoubtedly be dropped next season. It will give State a lot more prestige to play some larger teams, even though defeated, than to score easy victories over little-known colleges.

With Captain Clark the only man lost from this year's team, and with all the other men benefited by their year of experience, the outlook of the coaches should be a lot easier next fall than it has been for three years. Several members of the freshman team will have to be considered in the final selection of places also, so Coach Harlow is not worrying much over next year's team, if all the men return.

The record for the past season follows:

Ball Gets Slippery

The first fumble of the game came after the ball had exchanged hands twice in the second half with no substantial gains registered by either side. Starting from mid-field, Miller and McKelvey began to stroll towards the Soph goal. The former gained nine yards and the latter would have another ten had he not dropped the slippery ball where it was recovered by a Soph on the 30 yard line. They could not gain, however, and when the Freshies got the ball again Dunbar plunged all but first down in three line plunks. Then Griffiths smashed thru for 15 yards, placing the pignin once more on the Soph's 30 yard line. The Yearnings were again thrown for losses and on the fourth down, a forward pass failed, marking the close of the third quarter and also the end of aggressive hostilities on the part of the Freshmen.

tion in the back field but an injury lap prevented him from playing the entire line is capable of. If returned for Hess and Robb, neither of whom made the freshman eleven last year, to furnish the separation of the year. Their latter work was of high class throughout and improved as the season grew older. According to Coach Harlow, had these men had the benefit of a year's experience on the freshman team, they would have been even better this year.

SOPH GETS STARTED

1911 started the last lap with the ball on their own 35 yard line, and before Thorpe, Unger and Bortz could be stopped in their line plunging and end running, two straight first downs had been registered and the ball was on the Freshmen's 40 yard line. Unger added still another five yards, but Knox fumbled and the Freshmen recovered on their 25 yard line. But the fumbling fever spread and after a 5 yard gain the 1920 crew lost the ball and the enemy recovered on the 42-yard line. After a four-yard gain the Sophs added another fumble to the list, and the Freshmen another recovery. But they could not gain, and on Miller's kick, Bortz furnished one of the few thrillers of the game. He snatched the long, low punt with a leap into the air, turned about, and without interference ran through almost the entire Freshmen team to their 30 yard line. It was a 25 yard run, the longest of the game. The Freshmen allowed no further gain, and on the fourth down, Lindquist dropped a forward pass, which it had been successful, may have resulted in a Sophomore victory. Miller was thrown for a five yard loss, and the game ended.

Like a soft-tipped easy marking pencil. Take the higher numbers, B's such as 3B, 4B, 5B. For the extreme limit of softness 6B is without an equal and is used by many as being the ideal of all pencils.

Medium degree is HB. It's the harder grades, 2H or 3H being medium, and 4H, 5H, etc., being used for fine, clear, fine lines of detailings. Your professors will confirm these statements as to the merits of VENUS pencils.

Note the distinctive VENUS water mark finish when you buy.
