MAJOR BELL GOES TO UNIV. OF CHICAGO

Captain Ahrends Assumes Charge Here Many Changes Planned For Spring Drill

Major O. W. Bell, in compliance with orders from the War Department, has left State College to take charge of the organization of a military department at the University of Chicago.

A decided innovation, which is to be permanent hereafter, will be introduced this semester by having a four hour drill period for the Sophomores on Thursday afternoons while the Freshmen sections will each have one two-hour period.

The advantage of having four hours in succession of drill are readily apparent. A great amount of time will be saved which was taken up before by roll-call and the taking out and putting away of the rifles.

PROHIBITION LEAGUE STARTS STUDY CLASS

The Prohibition League inaugurated study class work at a recent meeting. Each week a separate phase of the liquor problem will be taken up and then studied by the members of the league.

The Yale Corporation has ratified the recommendation of the Executive Board of the Graduate School to admit women as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

A Prohibition Club was recently organized at the University of Pittsburgh. The work of the club will be closely allied with the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association.

Ohio State University raised $7,000 recently during the campaign of war relief for European prisoners. Many sacrifices were made by the students of the college and the various student organizations.

The University of Illinois has a gymnasium with a floor space of 107,000 square feet. All indoor track meets are held in the building on indoor cinder track which is ten feet wide and only 6 1/2 laps to the mile.

The beginning of the new semester witnesses the appearance of some new faces in the faculty. A number of instructors had resigned to take up work in new fields, and these and other vacancies have been filled by the following appointments:

William R. Chesley, assistant professor of mining engineering. He is a graduate of the Colorado School of Mines, class of 1908 and has had a wide practical experience.

S. R. Black, Penn State '13, succeeds P. P. Henshall, as instructor in practical mechanics.

Miss Faith W. Elliot, instructor in Institutional Management, Miss Elliot received the B. S. degree from Hilldale College in 1911, and the B. S. from Simmons College, 1913.

C. G. Gaum, instructor in engineering extension. He received the B. S. degree from the Alabama Polytechnic Institute in 1909, and the M. S. from the same institution in 1909.

L. D. Jessemann, instructor in horticulture. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire State College, class of 1914, and has since been connected with the University of Missouri where he received the M. S. degree last year.

Wallace E. Martin, instructor in mechanical engineering. He received the M. E. degree at the Missouri University.

Wallace H. Martin, instructor in mechanical engineering. He received the M. E. degree at the Missouri University.

Walter Thomas, assistant chemist in the department of agricultural chemistry. He received the B. S. degree from the University of Wales in 1905. He was formerly a member of the faculty here, and has been to Europe since leaving Penn State.

Albert White, superintendent of the greenhouses and instructor in horticulture. He is a graduate of the Maryland Agricultural College, 1913.

The following have been appointed instructors in chemistry for the second semester: Frederick L. Conover, B. A., University of Wisconsin, '15; Walter S. Elsomonger, B. S., Bucknell University, '12; M. S., Bucknell University, '14; Homer W. Stone, B. A., University of Wisconsin, '16; Cornelius A. Wells, B. S., Mercer University, '09; M. S., University of Georgia, '08; and M. A., Columbia University, '13.

The War Department has decided that at the military training camps this year no expenses will be entailed by the men taking up this phase of military training.

The Adjutant General a few days ago sent to the commanding generals of this department regulations which in part said that the government would pay all transportation to and from the camps, subsistence while at the camps, and would provide each citizen soldier with complete equipment, including hat, coat, two flannel shirts, two breeches, leggings, shoes, badge, and various insignia.

The experience of the National Guard on the border has cooled the enthusiasm to some extent for enlistment in the militia, and the men sincerely believing in some sort of military training look to the training camps as the best means toward our preparedness.
