Engage Football Coach

Princeton. The committee was favorably impressed upon the investigation of Scott's record and the conference at the meeting last week resulted in his engagement.
Scott played end and quarterback on the teams of Western Reserve University of Cleveland from which institution he graduated in 1915. Immediately after graduation he played with the Musillon Tigers, the professional football champions. Retiring from active playing, Scott coached for five years at Western Reserve and three years at Case School. During the past two years Scott has been in touch with the game largely as an official and in his capacity as football writer for the Cleveland Leader. He has been a member of the sporting staff of the Leader for the past ten years and will retain his position with that paper when not in active service at Penn State.
During the eight years that Scott coached in the Ohio Conference his teams won the championship three times and on another occasion tied for the honor. With light teams he registered victories over Ohio State, W. & J., tied the Navy and held Michigan 3 to 0. He has strong recommendations for his intimate knowledge of the game over a period of fifteen years, ability to quickly pick up the strength and weakness of both his own players and those of the opposing teams and to formulate and teach an effective offense.
Mr. Scott will report about April 1st for the month of spring practice recently called by Coach Harlow.

FROTH OUT THIS WEEK

The February issue of Froth will make its appearance during the coming house-party season. The Editors are sure that it will prove interesting to many for the art department has been entirely carried on by students in the school of architecture. Under the personal supervision of Mr. Hoffman, of the Engineering School, these would-be architects have evolved many cartoons and drawings which will no doubt go down in history as masterpieces. In addition to this there will be the usual number of jokes and near-jokes of the subtle variety, while Detective I. Tracem will once more come before the public in "The Mystery of the Stolen Corpse."
