FRESHMEN BREAK EVEN IN FIRST TWO GAMES

Bellefonte Academy Defeated 4-0 But Mansfield Proves Too Strong For 1920 Team

The freshmen baseball nine opened its season successfully last Friday by defeating the Bellefonte Academy players 4-0, but they were forced to retire in defeat on Saturday when Mansfield Normal outplayed and topped them 4-0 in an exciting game which was loosely played by the Yearlings. Both games were played away from home.

The freshmen extracted nine hits from Pollock, the Bellefonte twirler, on Friday while Parfitt, the collegian pitcher, allowed only three of the Academy men to land safely. As far as errors were concerned both teams played rather tightly, the freshmen being credited with one and their opponents with two. The score:

Stolen H.—Penn State: Merkio, 2; Mullan, 1; Dunbar, 1; Osborne, Double Play; Dunbar, 1; McKelvey, Lorenz to Huntzinger. Struck out—By Parfitt, 7; by Pollock, 2. Time of Game 1:50 Umpire, H. Brown.

The Mansfield game was a Waterloo for the 1920 team. They led through more than half of the contest, only to be nosed out at the finish. They started well by scoring two times in the first and headed the Normal School players until the sixth when the score was tied. The seventh saw the visitors' chances shattered when Mansfield scored on a wild pitch from Dunbar to McKelvey.

Ernest H. Armsby, who pitched against the Freshmen, allowed only four hits and played an exceptional game, being credited with several brilliant plays.

The Yearlings were forced to use two pitchers at the game at Mansfield. Parfitt substituted for Elliott in the sixth. The entire team was tired from the trip by automobile and played loosely. The score by innings:

Mansfield 1 1 0 0 2 1 0—5
Freshmen 2 0 1 0 0 1 0—4

FORD HALL DIRECTOR TO SPEAK ON SUNDAY

George W. Coleman, director of the Ford Hall Foundation of Boston, will be the college speaker next Sunday, morning and evening. He has become well-known in the past few years by his great work at the Ford Hall in Boston, and was the originator of the Sunday evening meetings held there since 1907. The work there is held under the auspices of the Boston Baptist Sociological Union.

Mr. Coleman has for many years been a newspaper correspondent and has been actively connected with magazine publication, particularly with the Christian Endeavor World. He has been host and president of a series of sociological conferences meeting at Sagamore Beach since June, 1907.

TO SPEAK TO BOY SCOUTS

President Sparks has accepted an invitation to speak to 5,000 Boy Scouts in Philadelphia on next Saturday afternoon. The occasion will be a patriotic parade by the scouts, and will be a great occasion in that city.

President Sparks Bids Farewell to Seniors

President Sparks delivered a farewell address to the members of the Senior Class at their meeting in the Amphitheatre on Thursday evening. He spoke about the necessity of good characters for success in life, and urged all to make the most of their lives.

It was decided at the same meeting to allow all the seniors to have a vote in any legislation of the class conducted henceforth. The Senior Class Committee was instructed to hold another Senior dance. If the committee deems it desirable, the next dance will be held on May 14th in the Armory. Caps and gowns will be worn once in preparation for the commencement exercises, instead also decided to dispense with programs and invitations for the exercises, in order to cut down expenses. A report of Class Day arrangements was made by W. L. Kroll.

The Senior Memorial Committee is still at work on plans for the memorial work on the high street gateway will be started in a short time.

J. K. Johnson, S. M. Lowry, H. H. Rohrer, F. G. Hoffer, W. R. Young, R. S. Shay, J. M. Washburn, C. E. Barrow and S. M. Linn.

Votes left with, or sent to the committee can be cast for secretary and treasurer as well as for president. The class election will be held within three weeks from last Friday's meeting, and the elections to Student Council will take place at the same time. Holding the class office and Council elections at different times had been arranged so as to give the men who lose out for the class office a chance to gain representation on the student governing board.

A number of additional matters of importance were taken up at this meeting, notably a change in plans for the Junior Prom, which will be thrown open to members of all classes, and the final passage of a motion whereby the Junior class will combine with the Senior class in the erection of the Pugh street gateway to the campus as a memorial. With this latter action now a reality, work will proceed at once upon the erection of the memorial, plans for which have already been drawn up.

A very favorable report on the financial standing of the 1918 Layette was given. A total of 1100 copies are being printed, 100 of which will be placed on general sale. The class expects to make money on the book this year.

ALUMNI HERE ON VISIT

Ernest H. Armsby '05 was in State College last Sunday and Monday, visiting his parents and recruiting men as a rotdman for the Pennsylvania Railroad. Mr. Armsby is an assistant supervisor of this road and is now located on the Philadelphia Terminal Division, at Philadelphia.

Boxing Tourney

The bout easily belonged to the Sophomore boxer.

Best Bout of the Evening
Steele and Keller were the most closely watched boxers of the evening. Steele covered well and led in aggressiveness but Keller, who played a waiting game, caught his quicker opponent and stopped his brilliant ruler. During the three rounds both boxers landed heavily and the judges called for an extra round. It was during this round that Steele committed his purely accidental foul and was awarded the decision, when Keller was unable to continue.

115 Pound Class
Schweitzer offered no resistance to McFadden kept his less experienced opponent at a safe distance with long right hand deliveries. The 1920 man was unable to connect at any time.

McMillan Wins
The final two bouts of the evening were between Henney '19 and Tavernier '19, in an exhibition performance, and McMillan '18 and Parthenia '19 for the 175 pound class. The final bout was awarded to McMillan after he had hopelessly outclassed his opponent.

WAY AND BARROW HEAD THE NEW FROTH STAFF

The selection of the men who will have charge of the publication of the "Penn State Froth" for the next year took place recently and resulted in the choice of J. L. Way '18, as Editor-in-Chief, and C. L. Barrow '18 as Business Manager. They succeeded Roy Dinkle and R. C. Greenland in these respective positions. J. R. Croft was elected Editor, P. D. Shollar, Art Editor, R. S. Shultz, Circulation Manager, W. J. Griffiths, Advertising Manager, W. R. Young, Exchange Editor.

The following men were elected to positions on the Froth staff: C. P. Young, D. K. Denny, L. W. Boyer, and C. H. Danah.

I Froth Banquet

Members of the "Penn State Froth" staff held their annual banquet at the Bekahite Club last night. The entire staff was present, and the affair was a huge success.

themselves on their backs and the rope flying away from them at a fearful rate. A bewildered Sophomore was heard to utter as he regained his feet on the other side of the pool, "Say, who let 'em hitch that Ford on to the end of the rope?"

Off in Good Order

And so the Freshmen won and the Sophomores correspondingly lost. But both sides struggled hard to gain the verdict and while the Soph lost, they were not dishonored. However, credit must be given where credit is due and that goes to the members of the winning class.

It was an ideal day for the scrap, and while the little chill in the air made the water feel somewhat uncomfortable, it was not cold enough to be unbearable. The student committee in charge were all provided with badges and this was a decided help in keeping order. The runouts from each class were not as large as expected, although the Freshmen had quite a few men who didn't get into any of the tugs. The Sophs, on the other hand, did not have enough to make up the third seventy-five and were forced to use some men over again.

LACROSSE TEAM TO PLAY SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY

The Penn State lacrosse team will journey to Syracuse University tomorrow where they will meet the strong orange aggregation in a game on Friday.

The team has gone through several shift drills during the week in order to perfect the team play, which has been lacking in the games earlier in the season. Syracuse is said to have a fast team, but Penn State will put up a fight and endeavor to stage a comeback. The team will be the same one which was pitted against Lehigh and Swarthmore with the exception that Kline will replace Rogers and Brenner's place will be filled by a new man, Hennes having left college.
