Wright and Coon Senior Leaders

George L. Wright, editor of the 1918 LaVie and managing editor of the Penn State Collegian, was elected president of his class for the Senior year, and A. Harden Coon, elected vice-president of the class. Wright held his first meeting of the class on Friday evening, and Coon left college on Friday morning to enter the Officers' Training camp, the former at Fort Sigbee, and the latter at Madison Barracks. Both men were granted commutations at the end of the three months' training. It is doubtful if they will be back next fall to assume their duties as leaders of the class of 1918, and some other provision may have to be made for the operation of class affairs.

As soon as the two underclasses have elected their Student Council representatives, Harold Clark, president of this year's Council, will undertake the organization of the new body. In the absence of Wright, the new Student Council will also be selected by the new Council before the end of the year.

The funders selected the following as representatives for next year on the Student Council:

Agriculture—J. B. Shea, B. C. Cullback, H. A. East and T. F. Nolan
 Engineering—L. W. Bailey, H. D. Elise
 Liberal Arts—R. A. Higgins and M. M. Long
 Natural Science—F. B. Sites, and V. L. Nicks
 Mines—J. N. Johnston.

HARD TRIP AHEAD FOR VARSITY NINE

The coming Western trip of the varsity baseball team which begins today, promises to be an exceptionally severe one. Two games will be played with West Virginia University at Morgantown, W. Va., one with Pittsburgh, and one with Carnegie Tech. The West Virginians are not this afternoon and tomorrow, Pitt on Friday and Carnegie on Saturday.

Since both Carnegie and West Virginia have defeated the Blue and White in games played at State College, it is easily seen that Coach Harley's men have no small task ahead of them if they expect to clean up on the trip. Pitt is always a hard team to beat, and with Langdon, their star hurler being groomed especially for the game on Friday it is probable that runs will not be so very plentiful for the Penn State nine.

Unless Johnston can arrange to take the trip, Coach Harley will have to depend upon Howard and Gramley to do the pitching. In Howard, he has a good dependable hurler, but even so, he cannot pitch every day. He will no doubt be saved for the Pitt game, and if he is in good form, the game should be a pretty pitcher's battle. Gramley has pitched well in the few games that he has been started in, but the team does not play with the same confidence behind the youngsters that they do when Howard is in the box.

The Pitt visitings are the attraction here next Saturday afternoon. Little is known about them, but they are expected to put up a stiff fight against the Blue and White youngsters. The Freshmen have lost several men because of absence from college, and they may have to use some new material.

SENIOR CLASS ELECTS CLASS DAY HONOR MEN

A short Senior class meeting was held last Friday night at which Class Honor Men and a permanent class secretary were elected and Class Day functions discussed.

Recently the Seniors abandoned the idea of having Commencement invitations and Class Day programs in other than their sufficient money was realized by the class from the sale of these to cover the expense of Class Day. On account of the loss of this source of revenue and the poor condition of the class treasury, other means will have to be found to raise the needed money. As a start to this, the Seniors present last Friday at their meeting, voluntarily contributed $27.00. A Class Day benefit show will be given at the Nittany Theatre on next night this week.

The following men were elected as Honor Men: "Spoon Man", H. A. Clark, "Red Man", S. Robinson, and "Cano Man", R. W. Ostermayer. D. J. Kenney was chosen as the permanent class secretary.

PATRIOTIC PARADE IS HELD WITH SUCCESS

A very successful patriotic parade was held in the borough last Monday evening, under the direction of the P. O. S. of A. Practically all of the town organizations were represented, although the largest showing was made by the co-eds, in the role of Red Cross Nurses, and by the greatly depleted Cadet Regiment. Following the disbanding of the parade at the Co-op corner, Dean Holmes gave a brief patriotic address. He reviewed the various crises which the world has faced, and stated that he felt sure that America's young men would not fail to do their duty for their country. In the course of his speech, he praised Wilson's Declaration of War, stating that it was worthy of being ranked among our masterpieces of literature and that it was equal to the famous "Declaration of Independence."

Team Wins and Loses

 had a big day all around, getting five hits, two of them triples, out of six trips to the plate, and handling six chances faultlessly in the field.

How's Hitting
 The game was featured by the number of extra base hits. By the, Johnston, Wheeling and Rogers, of West Virginia, all had triples. Johnston and Igo hit doubles; and Madiera of the visitors, hit for the circuit. Rogers and Flynn did the best work for the victors while Flynn and Wheeling were the leaders for State.

Score by Innings
 Penn State—1 0 0 0 4 1 0 1 0—11
 W. Virginia—1 0 4 0 0 1 2 1 0—12

Batteries—Johnston, Howard Gramley and Wheeling Gandy and King
Howard the Star
 The W & J game was all Howard. The big pitcher never looked better and he lured his best game of the season. Three solitary singles were all the hits that he pitched, and nine of the opposing batters went out at the strike-out button. Only three men got as far as third base and only once was there any danger of an all-out denting of the rubber.

State took the lead right in the opening inning, scoring three runs after two were out. With Mingle and Gubb out of the way, Wheeling singled and stole second. Flythe was safe on an error and Flye and Robinson followed with singles, thus runners scoring. Another game across in the second when Grubb drove home after the latter had latched first through an error.

Howard's State Clean
 The last run came in the sixth. Flythe led off with a three base wallop to right center, and scored on Flye's sacrifice fly to Myers. The hitting pitcher did not pitch bad ball, but the home team managed to bunch their hits at the right times. Howard won his sixth game of the season, and since State was behind when he entered the West Virginia game Johnston is credited with the defeat, which leaves Howard's record unmarred by any defeats. The score:

Score by Innings—
 W & J—0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 7 5

Batteries—Howard and Wheeling
 McCreight and T. Loret

FRESH DOWN SOPHS

The only interclass baseball game which was played during the past week resulted in a 9-2 victory for the Freshmen. All other games were called off on account of rain, while the game played on Friday, in which the two upper classes were to meet each other was postponed because of the varsity game which was played on Old Beaver as follows:

Freshmen—1 0 5 0 0 0 0—9 6 2
 Sophs.—0 0 2 0 0 0 0—2 2 4

Batteries—Freshmen, Elliott and Purnbaugh Sophomores, Lieberberger, Robinson and Kern

 below the required passing grade, that they would have no chance to get "above" unless given a final examination.

But this difficulty has now been surmounted and any student, in any class, desiring a regular final examination in any subject so as to have a chance to better his grade, will be given the opportunity to do so during the week that would ordinarily be devoted to that purpose. This examination can be taken at the regular hour devoted to recitation in the subject, or can be divided so as to cover several such hours. Arrangements for these can be made with the instructors.

The clause in the announcement referring to military instruction is merely provisional to care for any emergency that might arise. No definite word has been received in this respect, and it was put in to provide only for any general order that might come from the War Department with respect to the institution of more intensive drill on the part of all college men.

The executive committee of the board of trustees met with the Council last Friday evening and heartily approved this action as well as everything else that the faculty has done with respect to the present war crisis. A special meeting of this committee was called to transact important routine business matters that could not be left until the regular meeting in June.

Special emphasis was laid upon the fact that all instructors will be urged to bring every student above passing grade to each subject before the end of the semester. It is thought that the extra time gained by the action will be sufficient to make this possible.

NEW POST OFFICE IS NOW ASSURED

Within a year, State College will have a new Federal Building, if nothing unforeseen occurs to prevent. Plans call for an 80 x 55 feet, one story structure, at the corner of Beaver Avenue and Allen street, fronting on Beaver Avenue. It is to be constructed of either light colored sandstone or limestone, finished in granite and the estimated cost is $45,000. Bids have been advertised for and it is hoped to have the work under way before the close of summer, so as to finish within a year. The main entrance will open into a large lobby and a roomy working space for the postal business will also be provided.
