KNOWLEDGE COMING FAST TO FRESHMEN
 One Would Buy an Alma Mater and Others Get Instructive Lecture

They're at it again. Kidding the life out of the poor Freshies.

CHAPTER I

Here's a good one. Several of the verdant eyes drifted into the oblique orchard the other day. They spied some fellows and made inquiries concerning the orchard. They received a good line on the history of the orchard from its very birth down to the atrocious manner in which the studies make their daily suitcase hauls at the present time.

"Much obliged," said the green ones as they started to take their departure. "Just a minute. What do you think we ate, anyway? We have no time to waste on you fellows. You owe us twenty cents an hour for the dissemination of information that it has taken us

...to accumulate through the nightly torturing of the midnight torch. Come on, they did.

CHAPTER II

Now, get this one. "Hey, Freshman!"

The keen top strolled over to the Co-op corner.

"Take this nickel and go up to Dean Holmes' office and get me an Alma Mater. Make it snappy."

Ten minutes later the more recent man reported triumph.

"Here's your nickel. They're just sold out of 'em."

Question: Who got "stung," the Freshman or the Sophomore?

MINING SCHOOL NOTES

H. B. Littleman is the new appointee as Assistant Professor of Metallurgy, filling the place left vacant in that department by the leave of absence granted C. E. McGuigg and Boyd Dudley, Jr. Mr. McGuigg is on duty as Captain of Ordnance, United States Army, stationed at New Haven, Conn., and Mr. Dudley is also a Captain of Ordnance, U. S. A., stationed at Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

H. B. Northrup is acting head of the department of metallurgy in the absence of Mr. McGuigg.

Arthur Inness has been appointed Instructor in Mineralogy in the geologist department, taking the place of J. Younger, who resigned to accept a position as geologist of the Producers Oil Co. and who is now in Houston, Texas.

J. Morley Nutting has been appointed Teaching Fellow in Geology, taking the place of S. J. Caudill.

C. W. Robinson has been advanced from Instructor in Geology to Assistant Professor of Geology. Mr. Robinson spent in the employ of the Canadian Geological Survey working in the coal region near Sydney, N. S.

A. E. Roberts, Assistant Professor of Mining, has resigned to take up practical work. He is with a large coal company at Ebensburg, Pa.

Dr. E. S. Moore, Professor of Geology and Mineralogy, returned about a week ago from a summer's work in Cuba as geologist for the Producers Oil Co. He was investigating the possibilities of the island as a source of petroleum.

LECTURE COURSE BY DR. DYE.

A lecture course in English Literature 108 is to be offered this semester by Dr. W. S. Dye of the Rhetoric Department. This series of lectures will deal with modern English literature from 1870 to the present time. All who are interested are invited to attend the meetings at 4:30 on Tuesday, 3:30 on Wednesday, and 2:30 on Friday in 310 Main.

Gehring of the yearlings, who has been shifted from center to fullback, is also displaying lots of ability.

NOTED SPEAKER TO BE HERE ON SUNDAY.

Dr. Isaac Taylor Headland, of Alliance, Ohio, will be the college speaker for next Sunday. Dr. Headland is a medical missionary with a national reputation, having served in China for more than twenty years in numerous capacities. His first position in 1890 was at the University of Peking, at which place he was a Professor of Science for seven years. After that time he was moved to a new location, becoming president of Foochow Anglo Chinese College. Following this he was taken into the Imperial Court at Peking, where both he and Mrs. Headland were Court physicians. During his stay there, he gained an intimate knowledge of the history and government of the Chinese people.

Since returning to this country, he has written a number of books relating to the ancient legends and customs of the people. His book, "By-Products" is probably the most widely circulated and best known book on that subject today. Dr. Headland is a student of human nature; possesses an eloquent delivery and during his visit here at Penn State four years ago, received a hearty welcome. He will speak at both the Freshman chapel and college chapel in the morning, at the 6:30 Christian Association meeting in the Old Chapel and will give a short talk at the Methodist church at the evening service.

THE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY TO ORGANIZE TOMORROW

A reorganization meeting of the Agricultural Society will be held tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock in the Old Chapel. P. H. Sprengle, the treasurer elected last spring, is the only officer who has returned to college, and he will have charge of the meeting. New officers will be nominated and arrangements stated for the year's work. The first thing that will occupy the attention of the society will be plans for a reception and feed for the Freshman agricultural students, which is held annually in the stock judging pavilion. This event will take place within a few weeks. The society this year is planning to continue its program of the past few years in having prominent agriculturists from all parts of the state come here to give talks upon their experience in farm and orchard management.

years Penn State's Christian Association ranked second to none in college ranks and under the new membership plan it is expected to grow in proportion to the student body. A fall campaign will be instituted in order to enlist the largest possible number of members under the new ruling and at this time it is planned by the Membership Committee to surpass all former records.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP

The grass on New Beaver field is so long that it makes a soft landing for both tackler and tackled.

During the few days Hess was here last week, he was punting better than any man State has had in the past several years.

"Stan" Ewing has been helping with the coaching for the last week. He is devoting his time to the quarter backs.

"Big" Dippe, '16, substitute back for four years, has been here for a few days.

BOB HIGGINS HERE

Second Lieutenant R. E. (Bob) Higgins, who would have been captain of this year's varsity football team, is spending part of his furlough in State College. He came from Cambridge, Mass., where he has been receiving advanced instruction in trench warfare. He will report for duty in a few days at Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va. While here Higgins is an interested spectator at the football practices, and is assisting in coaching the ends.

REASON FOR DELAY

Delay in publication of this issue of the Collegian was due to some of the news in type being lost in express delivery from Williamsport. When the shipment arrived yesterday, four columns of Linotype "slugs" were found to be "pled."

YALE LOSES STARS

The following Yale athletes are among those who have enlisted:

J. H. Stevenson, varsity eight, 1916, second lieutenant United States aviation corps.

A. H. Sturtevant, captain varsity eight, 1916, United States aviation corps.

Clinton R. Black, captain 1916 varsity eleven, United States naval reserve.

ORDNANCE RESERVE CLASS UNDER WAY

The third class for the training of men for the Ordnance Reserve Corps was started last Wednesday with an enrollment of about twenty. Some difficulty was experienced in getting the desired number of applicants at the outset, but the number of men taking this course of training is expected to reach forty during the week.

Among the former State students who are enrolled are the following: G. H. Lindquist, '19, Frank Carameila, '19, J. W. Gerhart, '19, J. W. Knecht, '19, W. A. Ashie, '18, H. C. Best, '20, H. B. Manger, '20, J. M. Jackson, '16, G. B. Lyden, '16, S. H. Miller, Jr., '15, J. H. Moyer, '11, J. E. Shreffler, '15, H. S. Ward, '14, C. J. Wyrough, '13, G. F. Elliott, '16, M. F. Clark, '18, and I. N. Sprowls, two year special.

Give Annual Reception.

President and Mrs. Edwin Earle Sparks will hold their annual reception to meet the new members of the faculty on Friday evening of this week, at the President's residence on the West Campus.

OVER 2000 REGISTER

Up to noon on Tuesday, the total registration at the business office had reached 2015, the twentieth century mark being reached on Monday. However, the enrollment is being slightly decreased each day as men are called for examination for the draft army.

Young Way has shown excellent form in running back punts.

His speed and dodging ability look good.

RECEPTION A SUCCESS

The annual reception extended the Freshman class by the Y. M. C. A. was attended by upwards of 2,000 people on the front campus last Friday evening. Dean Holmes in his address of welcome told the newcomers that they might find life at Penn State a little difficult at first, but expressed the hope that they would soon become loyal Penn State rooters. President and Mrs. Edwin Earle Sparks stood at the head of the receiving line assisted by H. Walton Mitchell, president of the Board of Trustees; J. M. Horner, secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; J. W. White and Judge Orvis. The Glee and Mandolin clubs and the cadet band assisted in the evening's entertainment.
