

DUTCH HOEHLER '15 AT FORT THOMAS

Engaged in "Mothering Homesick Rookies" With Other Y. M. C. A. Men

F. K. HoeHLer '15, familiarly known to Penn State men as "Dutch," is engaged in Y. M. C. A. work at Fort Thomas, the big training-camp of the Middle West, across the river from Cincinnati, Ohio.

His work consists principally of "mothering up the homesick rookies" and a description of this is given in a comparatively late issue of the Christian Herald.

"In every training camp, you get a great number of homesick boys. I have my volunteer workers, whom I deploy in squads, and they make a definite business of cheering up these lads and helping them over the trying time.

Engineering Notes

W. T. Foulz, formerly instructor in Industrial Engineering, and who has recently been with the Aluminizing Castings Co., of Detroit, on Time Studies in the Efficiency Department, visited the college October 1st.

Mr. Campbell, Assistant in Engineering Experiment Station, left Oct 4th on a military train to camp.

A. I. Housman, a graduate of Cooper Union, N. Y., has accepted an appointment as instructor in Mechanical Engineering.

Mark Walters, of Mount Carmel, Pa., has been appointed an instructor in the Engineering Extension Division and will visit the cities of Western Pennsylvania to organize engineering instruction.

The recent announcement of correspondence courses in elementary engineering subjects has received widespread response from men employed in industrial and engineering plants in cities where extension classes have not been held.

SCHOLARSHIPS OFFERED BY LOCAL RED CROSS

A meeting of the State College Chapter of the Red Cross Society was held in the Old Chapel Thursday night, and one of the important items of business was the discussion of the Public Health Nursing Scholarships which are to be granted by the local chapter.

Since this sum of $200 is hardly sufficient to cover the expenses of the course, each nurse receiving a scholarship will be privileged to utilize the Student Loan Fund of the Red Cross to an amount equal to the scholarship.

ALL FRESHMEN SHOULD KNOW OF ORGANIZATION

It is the duty of every Freshman to make himself familiar with the Inter Class Constitution, particularly that part which refers to the organization of his class.

The entire constitution is printed in the Freshman handbook. The rulings governing the organization of the Freshman class are to be printed in the COLLEGIAN before October 10 of each year.

Organization of Freshman Class Section 3 (a) The President of the Junior class shall be in charge of the organization of the Freshman class.

(b) Nominations for the office of "Trial President" shall be made the last week in October and one week following five Trial Presidents shall be elected as follows:

(c) Each Trial President, serving in alphabetical order, shall be given at least one opportunity to preside at a meeting of the class previous to the election of a permanent President.

(d) The President shall be elected the second week of the second semester from the five Trial Presidents.

(e) Rules governing and providing for the election of officers shall be the same as those applying to this matter in the Sophomore, Junior and Senior years, except in the cases which are especially provided for in this Section 3.

STRICT RULES FOR GIRLS AT CARNEGIE

The Freshman girls at Margaret Morrison School which is connected with Carnegie Tech, have quite a hard time of it for the first few days.

LARNED'S WONDERFUL RECORD AT TENNIS

W. A. Larned, former national tennis champion and internationalist, who stepped out of competitive retirement to play for the army team against the navy recently, has a record in the net game that stands without parallel.

For a period of nineteen years, from 1892 to 1911, with the single lapse of 1898, when he was serving in the Spanish-American war, Larned held a place in the ranking ten of the United States.

Larned held the national singles title seven times, 1901 and 1902 and 1907 to 1911, inclusive.

Larned was a semi-finalist in his last match and shot the ball through many times for pretty placements.

More really late news was printed in last week's "Collegian" than in any other issue for issue or years back.

TIME WASTED IN "JES" PUTTERIN' AROUND

(University Daily Kananan) "Too many students go to the library merely to putter around," says one professor to his classes.

"Students go over there, spend twenty minutes glancing through four or five magazines, read a serious book for perhaps half an hour, and then spend from ten minutes to an hour puttering around with a humorous magazine or something of a similar nature."

There can be no doubt but that the professor's criticism is well founded. It's so easy to wander into Spooner, stop at the magazine racks on the way to the desk, and then become mildly interested in the ephemeral literature there instead of the solid reading stored away for us between the covers of the books on the shelves.

Understand, however, that this is not a criticism of the library management for permitting the lighter magazines to occupy a place on the shelves.

The better grade of popular magazines is found in Spooner is only an evidence of the broad-mindedness of those in charge there.

"Yes, for heaven's sake read the humorous magazines," says the professor who makes the criticisms.

All of which might be summed up by saying: "When you work, don't play—and when you play, don't work!"

COLLEGE HEALTH SERVICE EXAMINING FRESHMEN

The college health service, under the supervision of Dr. J. P. Rittenour, has been one of the busiest places on the campus since college opened.

Physical examinations of the freshmen began Monday, September 17th, and are still in progress, twenty men being examined daily.

Dr. Rittenour wishes to impress upon the students that this health service is for their benefit.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY ENTERTAINS FRESHMEN

The Agricultural Society gave their annual reception to the new men in the Stock Judging Pavilion on Friday evening of last week.

The election of the officers for the Agricultural Society was held during the Pennsylvania Day celebration, and Professor Myers, of the Hort Department, "DH" Wood, and P. H. Kraybill each gave short talks.

The election of the officers for the Agricultural Society was held, resulting in the election of R. E. Underwood '18 as manager, and J. N. Robinson '18 as treasurer.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP ELECTIONS POSTPONED

An announcement has been made by Mr. George R. Puckin of the Rhodes Scholarship Trust to the effect that no elections for the Scholarships of 1918 will be made at the present time.

"Since coming to the United States I find that the conditions which have obtained in the past and under which it is desirable that elections should be made.

Class of 1921 is Finally Organized

The first meeting of the Class of 1921 was held on Wednesday evening in the Old Chapel, and was in charge of the following Junior Organizing Committee.

G. C. Smith, who presided, H. D. Robb, J. P. Unger, and G. W. Cupit, Jr., who acted as secretary.

Smith read and explained the Interclass Constitution to the new men.

Robb spoke of the Freshman football possibilities, and urged all the men who possibly can get out to do so.

Unger spoke of student activities, the honor system and organizations, and dealt with the subject of soccer and asked the men to respond in good numbers when candidates are called.

Mining Notes

Wm. R. Chedsey, Associate Professor of Mining, is at Pittsburgh attending the meeting of the American Electrochemical Society.

The chlorinating assay furnaces ordered last spring and installed in the furnace room of the old mining building during the summer are being used regularly by the classes in assaying and are giving fine results.

Arthur Hones, the recently arrived instructor in Mineralogy, has an article on a new association of the mineral pyrite appearing in the September number of the "American Mineralogist."

Prof. Andrew to Leave. R. A. Andrew, instructor in Farm Machinery, has tendered his resignation to take effect as soon as a successor arrives.
