Lehigh Downs State

after these runs, which put the ball into Lehigh territory, the Blue and White seemed to have no punch to carry it further.

State Line Holds

Lehigh could do nothing with the Penn State line, and in fact the visitors only registered four first downs during the entire game, against nine for the Blue and White. Between the 25 yard mark, Penn State could gain almost at will, but once within scoring distance the Lehigh defense would tighten, and State would be held for downs. The nearest that the "varsity" came to a score was when Conover attempted a field goal just before the game ended—an attempt that went wide.

Lehigh's scoring represented a touchdown in the first quarter and a field goal in the second. During the entire second half, the Browns and White was constantly on the defensive, but they were always able to brace at the necessary time. Herrington was without doubt the star of the Bethlehem aggregation and his punting was the best seen on New Beaver for some time.

Herrington Stars

It was Herrington who put Lehigh in position to score the first touchdown when he caught a punt from Wolfe and ran 60 yards before Charlie Way finally brought him to earth with a beautiful diving tackle, on Penn State's ten yard line. Here the Blue and White line braced and Lehigh could not gain, but on the next down, a forward pass from Wyszocki enabled Herrington to make a touchdown. McCarthy missed the goal.

Again in the second quarter, a fumble enabled Lehigh to get the ball well into State territory. Their running attack carried the pigskin to the 3 yard line, but again the State line refused to yield, and on the last down McCarthy stepped back to the 25 yard mark and dropkicked an easy goal. It was in this quarter that Lehigh made all of her first downs.

Penn State Lacks Punch

In the second half, the Penn State team fought hard to overcome their opponent's lead, but they lacked the necessary punch. On the other hand Lehigh was absolutely powerless, and could not gain a single first down. For the first time this year, Penn State worked the forward pass constantly, and several passes to Conover netted considerable gains.

Breaks Winning Streak

The defeat last Saturday makes the first time that a Blue and White football team has been beaten on New Beaver Field for three years. In that time, neither "varsity" nor Freshman, eleven have been defeated at home, and with respect to the Freshman, they have played 20 straight games without a defeat. Not since the one year rule went into effect three years ago, have they been beaten.

The Lehigh cheering section was well filled, about 75 students accompanying the team on the special train. A delegation of about 25 folks from South Bethlehem also were on hand to cheer. Between the halves the Penn State band formed across the field and played both the Lehigh and Penn State Alma Mater.

THE PROBLEM OF COLLEGE STUDENTS

By Hon. Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War.

(From the Patriotic News Service, of the National Committee of Patriotic Societies, Washington, D. C.)

When the call to national service arose, spirited young men everywhere of course wanted to be employed in a patriotic way, and I suppose there is scarcely a young man in any college in the country who has not very anxiously addressed to himself the question "What can I do?"

I think that there is no general answer to this question. Even in those cases where it would be obviously better for a young man to stay at college and prepare himself for later and fuller usefulness, yet if the young man in so doing acquires a low view of his own college, and feels that he was electing the less useful course, the effect on the young man of that state of mind toward his own actions probably would be so prejudicial that it ought not to be encouraged.

To the extent that the men in college are physically disqualified, or are otherwise unable to go out to meet the requirements of the department, it seems quite clear that in the present state of the emergency their major usefulness lies in remaining in the college, going forward with their academic work. The knowledge that the students will acquire at college will equip them for subsequent usefulness if the emergency lasts until their call comes.

But we do not want to chill enthusiasm. We want to preserve enthusiasm and cultivate it and use it, but we do not want to be discriminating in our enthusiasm, and prevent people getting the notion that they are not helping the country unless they do something different. The largest usefulness may come from doing the same thing now. It is not unnatural that there should be these ebullitions of feeling, this desire to change occupation as a badge of courage, so very true and devoted to duty. Our colleges can exercise a steady influence in this regard.

We are going to have losses on the sea, we are going to have losses in the air, our communities are going to be subjected to the most direful and multiplied personal griefs scattered all through the community, and we are going to search the cause of those to their foundation, and our nerves made going to be torn and our nerves made raw. There is a place for physicians of public opinion to exercise a curative influence by exemplifying the fact that it is not necessary for a nation like the United States, which is fighting for the vindication of a great ideal, to discard its purpose by hatreds or by the entertainment of any unworthy emotion.

REGULAR ARMY MAN TO TRAIN ORDNANCE CLASS

Sergeant Mack, of the United States Ordnance Reserve Corps, has been detailed here to assist in the work of the Ordnance Course by the United States Government. Sergeant Mack comes from Camp Upton, where he has been in service for some time and will remain here until otherwise notified by the government. He took the Ordnance Course at Dartmouth, having formerly been a student at that place.

Yearlings Win

second period, and Syracuse profited by several such breaks. Ritner carried the ball during this period for several long runs, one of which netted the Yearlings twenty-five yards. The forward pass was again tried, and the combination from Ritner to McCollum registered about twenty yards, which brought the ball within a few yards of the Salt City goal. Gehring crossed the chalk mark for the additional six points, gaining still another by booting the pigskin over the bar.

Syracuse Weakens

The third quarter saw the Syracuse eleven playing a poorer brand of football than during the first two periods, and the Freshmen netted several substantial gains by open-field running and forward passing. Snell recovered a blocked punt back of the Syracuse chalk mark, and boosted the Yearling score. Ritner's open-field work was one of the features during the third period and he cleared the entire Freshman eleven on a twenty-five yard run for a touchdown. Williams replaced Ritner at this point, and he also played an excellent game, running forty-eight yards for a touchdown, dodging the entire Salt City team. The fourth period continued to be entirely a State affair, and both Williams and Ritner featured by their open-field work, making several runs for twenty-five yard gains. However, the Freshmen suffered heavily by penalties during this final period, and were able to register only one touchdown.

been responsible for the introduction and passage of many bills. During the 1915 session of the Legislature, he was the chairman of the Committee on Education and secured the passage of a bill upon which the present educational code of Vermont is based. Mr. Hewitt has also written for professional magazines and has often appeared before state gatherings and conventions. He is very well acquainted with rural conditions and is an expert on community problems. Mr. Hewitt will also deliver an address before the School of Agriculture on Friday evening.

GOOD PROSPECTS FOR TRACK TEAM

Stiff Schedule Being Arranged—"Larry" Shields Will Not Be Here This Year

While a large number of the Penn State varsity track team has been lost through graduation, and the conditions, prospects are nevertheless exceedingly bright for another successful season. With the remainder of last year's squad for a nucleus, enough material should be available from 1920 for Coach Martin to turn out another winning team.

Manager Denney is now working on the schedule and hopes to announce the definite dates in a short time. For the winter season, negotiations are under way for indoor meets with Syracuse and Michigan, both of which will be held away from home. A southern trip in the spring is being arranged with the University of Virginia, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Washington and Lee as the probable opponents of the Blue and White. Teams will also be sent to the Western Intcollegiate at Pittsburgh, the annual Pennsylvanian relay at Philadelphia, and the Intercollegiate at New York. The season
