NEW METHOD DEvised FOR REGISTERING FRESHMEN

A System Of Numbering Will Be Tried Out Next Fall--To Eliminate Present Bad Features

A measure to regulate the registration of Freshmen each fall, which is so devised as to eliminate one of the worst features accompanying that work, and which will provide many favorable improvements, has been prepared by the Student Council and will be given its initial try-out during the next registration period. It is nothing more or less than a provision for the issuance of a serially numbered card to a prospective registrant as soon as he appears in Old Main for matriculation, the card indicating the order in which the holder shall appear at the office of the registrar to become officially enrolled as a student.

For many years it has been a well known fact that one of the worst features about the registration of new students has been the inclination of upperclassmen to "shove" their new comers into the long line of applicants so that they can be waited upon by the registrar within a few minutes. It has been necessarily followed that a bad impression of the actions of the upperclassmen and the old students in doing this has been put upon the new men who perhaps have stood in the long line for three hours at a time. Unfavorable opinions have been bred in prospective Freshmen through this custom, and the new thing is intended to eliminate it as much as possible. The plan, properly carried out, the ruling will do away with the bad practice entirely. In addition, the new plan will not require a man to stand for several hours in line waiting his turn, as will be shown in the rules drawn up.

The plan, as outlined, gives authority to members of the Y M C A cabinet to conduct the arrangement of the lines for registration, they having volunteered their services for the purpose. It has been worked out by A. DeWitt and D. L. Cheswell '18, with the assistance of interested upperclassmen, and was presented in Student Council by Cheswell. Dean Holmes and Prof. A. H. Eschbacher, the registrar, have given their hearty approval to the plan and predict better service and satisfaction through its use in the future.

New Steps in Registration

The steps to be followed by new students in registering next fall will be as follows:

1. As soon as a new student arrives in town, if on one of the registration days, he should go to the first floor of Old Main, south entrance.
2. There at a table in charge of Y M C A cabinet members, he shall give his name, home and college address, and any other "miscellaneous" information considered necessary. (Arrangements will also be made to give information as to finding room and board).
3. Each new-comer will be given a numbered card, these cards to be numbered consecutively, the number showing the holder's place in line and time at which he will be admitted to the office of the registrar.
4. A suitable indicator will be hung outside of the office which will show from time to time the numbers that are then being called. The indicator will also serve as an indicator as to the approximate time for his registration. This will allow the man with a high number to wander about the campus or get settled in his room while waiting his turn. Instead of forcing him to stand in the line for two or three hours he has been necessary under the unorganized system.
5. If a man fails to make his appearance in the line in the consecutive order in which the numbers are called, he forfeits his place in line and must go back to the Y M C A table for another number and a new place in line.
6. Entrance to the registrar's office will be supervised by a committee of two or three students in the line who will distribute entrance to the office. They will allow no one to go in whose card is not in the consecutive order in which it should appear.

(Example: Jones gets number 500 at the table when he first appears. The indicator shows that those holding numbers from 300 to 325 are at that time in the office being registered. The registrar can handle the men at the rate of one a minute. Jones concludes that he cannot be registered for at least three hours. That will give him a chance to get a room and boarding place, or to look over the college. If he later shows 500, he can inquire of the men then in line what their numbers are and take his place in the proper position of consecutive numbers. If he gets back after number 525 has passed into the office, he must go back to the Y M C A table and get a new serial number, which is equivalent to drawing a new place in line. It is estimated that no more than 25 men can be in the line inside of one hour, although this number can be definitely set through experience by the committee on guard at the door. When the office closes at noon or evening, the numbers will be observed upon reopening as though the line had never broken in the registration.)

No new students will be allowed to use the front entrance to the registrar's office for the purpose of getting registered as long as there is a line waiting at the rear entrance.

These rulings will not apply to the women students, as they are always taken care of by the registrar in a special manner.

SENIOR CLASS MEETING

There will be a Senior class meeting on Friday evening at 6:45 P. M. in the Old Chapel.

FRESHMAN FIVE WINS FINAL GAMES

First Year Basketball Team Defeats Lafayette High, Bethlehem Prep and Wyoming Seminary

The Penn State Freshman basketball team closed its season with a victory when the Lafayette High School, of Buffalo, was downed in the Armory, on Monday night by a score of 55 to 14. This, together with the victories over Bethlehem Preparatory School and Wyoming Seminary last week, gives the Freshmen one of the most successful seasons in a number of years.

At no time on Monday night was the result of the contest in doubt, for the Freshmen had run up a total of twenty-one points, before the Lafayette team managed to make its first field goal. The first-year men piled up twenty-five double-doubles, thirteen in the first half and twelve in the second. Of these, Replogle was responsible for eleven.

The score at half time was 28 to 5 in favor of the Freshmen, Lafayette having scored but two field goals and one foul during the period. The guarding of the first-year men and the inaccurate passing of the visitors was mainly responsible for the large score. The scoring --

Goals from field--Replogle 11, Killinger 5, Friedman 4, Rittner 2, Parley 2, Korb 1; fouls--Rittner 5 out of 10, Replogle, Wilson 2.

Bethlehem Defeated Again

The first game of the trip was played Saturday morning at Bethlehem with the Bethlehem Preparatory School team and resulted in a 45 to 20 victory for the Freshmen. This is the second time that the first-year men have defeated the Bethlehem crew. The Freshmen winning the opening game of the season played here by a score of 36 to 10.

The end of the first half found the Freshmen in the lead 25 to 5, but during the second period the Bethlehem team sprang and decreased the lead somewhat. Replogle and Rittner starred for the first year men, the former scoring five two-pointers, and the latter, besides five two-pointers, caused nine out of sixteen foul shots. Bethlehem's McLean led with three double-doubles. The scoring for Penn State was done as follows: field goals, Replogle 6, Rittner 5, Friedman 2, Killinger 2, Parley 2, and Korb 1; fouls, Rittner, 9 out of 16.

WYOMING SEMINARY DOWNED

On Saturday evening, the Freshmen team defeated the Wyoming Seminary five, thereby administering to that team the first defeat which it has sustained on its home floor in five years. The game was comparatively easy, the Freshmen winning 61 to 26. Replogle scored twenty-seven of his team's twenty-four two-pointers, Rittner made two in the scoring, with three field goals and fifteen fouls.

The score at half time was 31 to 13, and during the first half Wyoming was unable to register a single field goal. During the second half, however, they took a slight brace, and before the end of the game managed to score four times from the floor. The Freshmen's scores are as follows: field goals, Replogle, 7, Killinger 5, Friedman 4, Rittner 3, Parley 2, and Korb 2; fouls, Rittner, 15 out of 28.

SENIOR AG. MEN MAY BE EXEMPTED

Telegram From General Crowder States that Students in Upper Third of Class are Eligible

As the result of continued efforts on the part of prominent agricultural men of the county, the War Department has decided to recognize the students taking agriculture in the various schools of the county, in a similar manner, but not to so great an extent as was done in the case of engineering students. This information was included in a telegram received last week from Brigadier General Crowder, stating that students pursuing a course in agriculture in the land grant, agricultural colleges may enlist in the Enlisted Reserve Corps of the Quartermaster's Department.

The provision for the agricultural students differs from the arrangements made for the engineers, in that only Seniors, who are ranked in the upper third of their class or eligible to join this branch of the army. Such students, however, will be given a certificate of enlistment, upon presentation to the local board will be filed with the questionnaire, and the registration placed in class 5, on the ground that the military service of the United States.

Definite details have not been received as yet, but information will probably be available within a few days as to where and how to enter this branch of the service. The only information that has been received to date, is the telegram sent by General Crowder to the governors of the various states. The text of this communication follows:

"Under such regulations as the Quartermaster General may prescribe, students pursuing a course in agriculture, in the Senior year, in land grant agricultural colleges, whose class standing places them in the upper third of the Senior class at the time of their School authorities, may enlist in the Enlisted Reserve Corps of the Quartermaster's Department, and thereafter, upon presentation by the registrant to his local board, of a certificate of such enlistment, such certificate shall be filed with the Questionnaire and the registrant shall be placed in Class 5 on the ground that he is in the military service of the United States."

FIX NUMBER OF MEN WHO WILL COME HERE

Lieutenant Gayley, of the Signal Corps, was at Penn State last Wednesday with the contract provided by the government under which the college agrees to instruct the enlisted men during the summer, in airplane work. He stated that the number of men that he was definitely decided to send on April first is 150 of the best of the country. He is in the electrical laboratories, 45 in the wood working shops, 24 in blacksmithing and forging, and 20 in machine shop work.

He also stated that the government was very much pleased with the location, housing facilities, and the willingness of the college authorities to take as many men as they possibly could.

The arrangement for teaching the students at night was approved and appreciation of the extra work that is required of the Engineering faculty was expressed by Lieutenant Gayley.

More Coming May First

The proposal of the college that an additional number of men, be sent on May first for work in airplanes and automobile engines was approved by the War Department, and a total of about five hundred men will in all probability come to State College at that time. Although the college is able to provide the necessary facilities, some concern was felt in the matter of securing enough cuts to accommodate the large number of men that are coming. However, this difficulty has been overcome by the agreement of the government to take the men in the order of their definite arrangements for the feeding of the men remain yet to be completed.

DEAN WATTS TELLS OF FARMER'S PLACE IN WAR

American Farmers Must Feed Allied Armies If We Hope to Win the Conflict--Draft Has Seriously Hit Farm Labor and People Must Come to Aid in Crisis

THE FARMER AND THE WAR
By Dean R. L. Watts
(Of the School of Agriculture)

"The winning of the war rests absolutely with the American farmer." This statement of the United States' Food Administrator is not to be interpreted literally, for we must have steel, coal, ships, air fleets, weapons of war, equipment of the greatest diversity, legions of soldiers, doctors, nurses, expert workmen and specialists of vast talent. No one class of people can win the war. All are needed to accomplish this enormous task. But certainly no industry is more essential to the winning of the war than is agriculture. There must be food in abundance for both soldiers and civilians, cotton and wool clothing, leather for shoes and other purposes, and horses for the war.

Cornell Again Fails to Stop Blue and White Matmen--Final Score 25 to 5

The Penn State wrestling team journeyed to Ithaca, New York, last Saturday, where they met the Cornell matmen in a return bout and defeated them by a score of 25 to 5. Huntington, of Cornell, was the only man to win for his team and he secured a fall on Nelson after an extra period. It took him thirteen minutes to put the Penn State man to the mat in one of the most exciting bouts witnessed by the Ithaca fans several years. Czarnnecki was the only Blue and White representative to secure a fall by throwing Porter, of Cornell, in less than two minutes. The other bouts were all won on decisions by the State men.

The two most exciting bouts were wrestled in the 115 and 175-pound classes, each of which required an extra period. Rife, of Cornell, who secured a decision over Horst here on February 23 had the tables turned on him on Saturday. Horst led the fighting all the way, but in the first nine minutes neither man was able to secure an advantage and it was necessary to wrestle an extra six-minute period. In the extra period the Blue and White secured a clean-cut victory over his opponent in the 175-pound class, Nelson and Huntington put up a fine exhibition of wrestling and the first nine minutes resulted in a draw. In the extra period, however, Huntington secured a most unexpected fall on Nelson.

Track Coach "Bill" Martin announced on Thursday his intention of holding handicap meets in the evening of the remainder of the college year. The first one to be held on March 23, on New Beaver Field, and the others to follow every Saturday after that up to and including April 20. The idea behind the holding of these meets is to give every man in college who believes he has any track ability whatever, an opportunity to compete against every other man in college on a handicap basis thus making the competition fair to give every "Varsity" man will be eligible for entrance in these meets but on account of their experience, the men running against them will be given handicaps. Coach Martin asks that all entries for the meet scheduled for March 23, be in his hands not later than noon of March 22.

The meets will be run on the basis of a regular track meet, having fourteen events in which men may compete. The method of scoring which is to be used in these meets is unusual and heterodox if a man wishes to enter in all five of the meets he may do so and in case he places in any of the events, the points scored will be put to his credit. On April 20, the sum of the points which this man has won in the five meets will be his total score and the person having the highest number of points at that time will be the winner of that event. In this way, it is possible for a man to compete in several events and yet not enter himself in all of the meets.

The prizes which will be awarded to the winners of the second and third place will either be in the form of gold, silver, and bronze medals, or of merchandise prizes. Coach Martin is endeavoring to secure medals, but in case this effort fails, merchandise prizes will be awarded.

The Penn State wrestling team journeyed to Ithaca, New York, last Saturday, where they met the Cornell matmen in a return bout and defeated them by a score of 25 to 5. Huntington, of Cornell, was the only man to win for his team and he secured a fall on Nelson after an extra period. It took him thirteen minutes to put the Penn State man to the mat in one of the most exciting bouts witnessed by the Ithaca fans several years. Czarnnecki was the only Blue and White representative to secure a fall by throwing Porter, of Cornell, in less than two minutes. The other bouts were all won on decisions by the State men.
