PENN WRESTLERS

HERE ON SATURDAY

by a close decision, but in the second bout was the aggressor. Unfortunately, one of Mills' ribs was broken and he was unable to continue, so that the bout went to Moore by default.

In the 115-pound class, Carber '20 defeated Cooke '20 by one fall and one decision. In the 125-pound bout, Tegan '22, the only Freshman on the team, won from Miller '21. These bouts were very close, Tegan winning one by a decision, and the other two resulted in draws.

In the 135-pound class, by two decisions, the other bout being a draw. Shaulis '21, who is a 175-pound wrestler, has come down to 155 pounds, and defeated Purst '19, 1/2 opponent, in two straight falls. In the 175-pound class, he defeated Gilmer '21 also in two straight falls. If he is unable to compete on Saturday, his place will likely be taken by Gilmer.

Tickets for the Penn meet will be on sale at the Co-op tonight and tomorrow night from 5:30 on, also on Saturday afternoon from 1 to 4. The price of admission is 10 cents.

The Intercollegiate

Prospects seem to be brightening for the holding of the intercollegiate this year. Every team in the league has a team, and every member of the league has expressed itself as favorable to holding the championships, with the exception of Princeton, from whom nothing has yet been heard.

had and prospects are more than 100. With but one man lost from this year's team, the coaches will have practically a veteran team back in the fall—a team drilled in the fundamentals of the Berdek system.

In addition to the three men mentioned above, Harry Robb, "Job" Illeginski, Kishbank, Hess, Beck, Ulery, Wits, Smell, Dentz, Rauch, and many others are all expected back in the fall and they will all be eligible for the team. The one-year rule will be resumed next year and a Freshman team will be formed to groom the men for the following season.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS MEET HERE THIS WEEK

The officers of the Eastern Union of Student Volunteers are as follows: W. J. Jones, Penn State, president, Miss Emma Schwolger, Ursinus, vice president; Miss Grace Seem, Penn State, secretary-treasurer.

PITT TO CLASH WITH STATE FIVE

Hart, stars on the Pitt five for the past three years, have both been lost through graduation but their places are being filled by competent veterans from last year's squad.

The record made by the Pitt quintet so far this season has been successful and only one defeat has been met up to this time. The strong five from the University of West Virginia managed to nose out a victory in the contest with the Panthers, but this is the only reverse which has been met so far.

Western Trip Next Week

The contest on Saturday evening will be the last one in which the Penn State five will be seen in action on the Army floor until March 4 when the team from the Great Lakes Naval Training Station will come to State College in the last game of the present season.

Tickets for Saturday night's game will be on sale every night this week and can be obtained from any of the assistant managers.

entertainment for the visiting farmers but also something of some didactic value in showing rural problems and their solutions will be presented.

Those who are taking part in the play are being coached by Mrs. Emerson Miller. The part of Mr. Hollenbaugh is being played by S. W. Cohen '20 and M. W. Thomas '21 is the country school teacher.

The play is being presented primarily for the benefit of the visitors and in order that they may all be accommodated admittance will be by ticket only.

BOXERS FURNISH EXCITING BOUTS

jobs, but Friedman was the better with long punches, by means of which he obtained the decision.

The heavyweight bout between Hollis '21 and Stein '22, was a surprise. As a rule, heavyweights are slow, and neither of these men showed up very startlingly in the semi-finals, but in this bout, they were aggressive, and exchanged vicious blows throughout the encounter.

The heavyweight bout closed the meet, which is the first of a number which have been planned. "Doc" Lewis refereed the bouts, and Yergler and Nell Fleming acted as judges.
