THE PROPOSED MEMORIAL BUILDING

It is with a great deal of pride and pleasure that the COLLEGIAN notes the beginning of actual work on the new eighty-acre athletic field. It is also with a great deal of pride and pleasure that the COLLEGIAN notes the acceptance of plans by the Board of Trustees for a winter recreation building, proposed to the college by a prominent alumnus.

It will be remembered that the COLLEGIAN, as early as January, advocated the construction of a social hall, to be used as a memorial to the Penn State men who gave their lives for democracy and also to be used as a gymnasium in which winter athletics would be adequately taken care of. The proposed building is an outgrowth of that idea and it will serve both these purposes.

However, it should be borne in mind that this building which will be erected is only the first unit of a memorial. To make a fitting memorial building, other units will be constructed later, and it is in this connection that there is work for every loyal Penn State man and woman.

When the idea of a memorial building was first proposed, there were many who said it could not be done, that it was an impossible task. Developments the past few days, however, have shown that such is not the case. The plan is impossible, it is feasible, and the only thing needed now to make it complete in all its details is to carry on the work which has been begun so auspiciously.

And while we are on the subject of this new building and this new athletic field, let us not forget the man to whom a great amount of credit is due, a man whom we believe has won the respect and admiration of every student of the Blue and White. Our hats off to him—Hugo Bezdek!

LADIES FIRST

Another vacation time has come and it would be well now to look ahead one week and make proper arrangements in order that the women students, upon their return next Tuesday and Wednesday, may be able to secure transportation to State College from the Lemont trains before the men. At every vacation thus far, gentlemanly courtesy has been unknown and it is always a case of men first, women second. There have been times when the girls have even had to wait for the busses to make a fourth trip before they were able to secure transportation to State College.

Judging from past experience, the same thing is going to happen this coming week. There is, however, one way to prevent it and that is to have a bus especially reserved for the girls. The chief drawback in the past has been that the bus drivers prefer to take fellows as they can crowd more on a single load. But if proper action is taken by the college authorities, it would certainly seem a very simple matter to have one of the large busses reserved for the women at each train and have a sign to that effect placed upon it. This matter is not only worth considering, but for the good name of Penn State it is worth doing.

PROPER CARE OF THE GYM

In order that the gymnasium may be properly taken care of, there are certain matters of importance which the Department of Physical Education wishes to bring before the student body. During the war and especially during the S. A. T. C. regime at Penn State, the system of conducting the gymnasium was virtually discontinued, and it is now the desire of the department to bring this building back to its pre-war basis. This, however, can be done only by proper cooperation of those who use this gym, and these are naturally the students.

In order to keep the Armory floor in good condition, it is absolutely necessary that every student who wishes to play basketball, wrestle, or engage in any other form of indoor exercise, be properly clothed in a gym suit and gym shoes.

Another serious matter has been that of keys to lockers. During the first semester these keys were given out indiscriminately and no record was kept of those to whom they were given. Recently there was quite an abundance of petty thieving done in the locker room, and those students who have these keys are naturally in the suspected class. It is therefore important that all keys, with the exception of those recently assigned and those to lockers used by athletes, be returned to the Department of Physical Education without further delay.

A third matter is that regarding towels. No student has any right to take away the towels from the gymnasium. However, this is what happened during the S. A. T. C. regime, and of the fifteen hundred towels in stock last fall, there are now only five or six hundred remaining. The Department therefore gives notice that all towels with the words "Penn State" upon them also be returned to the locker room at once.

The final matter is one which concerns the disposition of gym clothing at the end of the year. Any student wishing to keep his gym suit and shoes should see that they are removed a few days before the end of the semester, as the Department is not responsible for any clothing left. In the majority of cases, this clothing is destroyed during the summer, when the gym is thoroughly cleaned and fumigated.

The COLLEGIAN again wishes to emphasize the fact that it cannot publish any letters or articles which come to this office unsigned. Every letter and article must be signed, but if the writer so desires it is signature will not be published.

Recently an article of more than usual merit was received, but it was unsigned, we are unable to print it. The article deals with a "hold yourself straight" campaign and says that a slouch is a disgrace to the college and if everyone stands and walks straight Penn State will certainly present a much better appearance to visitors.

The amendments to the constitution of the athletic association are certainly good and are deserving of the support of the student body. Boxing has assumed a very prominent place in athletics at Penn State and it is only proper that it should be made a minor sport. The proposed rulings concerning athletic insignia are also good, for a man who fulfills the designated conditions is certainly deserving of the recognition which he receives by winning his letter.

On the Corner

WE HOPE THE EASTER BUNNY LAYS YOU AN EGG

The past week has saw a letter come in for our hot-air box. Before we publish it, let us say that it expresses our sentiments exactly.

We must also give warning to the fair sex, to be sure and put on their rubbers, because it may be sort of slushy and slippy.

OUR HOT AIR BOX

State Pen, Okla.,
April 08, 1919.

Dear Corny —
I just saw that you run a hot-air box in your paper, I that I would like you something for it. Dear Corny, do you realize that ere long we shall be going home, tomorrow in fact, and they you realize that you can go and see the boys every Wed., Thurs., Fri., Sat., Sun. (all day), Mon., Tues., Wed., Thurs., and Fri. nights (provided you pay five buets of course and run a chance of going permanently), and you can sit on the sofa, and you can look into two deep blue eyes with their indeterminate depths of azure such as you may April sky brings to one's view, and you can have adoration written all over your mug, and you can tell her how much you ad (ah! infinitum).

Guess we'd better stop before some little short guy gets drowsed.

Any way, the above doesn't apply to us, because we're doomed to eat our hard-boiled egg in this borg.

Not that we care, however, because we got job on the engineering floor, (that was) building stones. Oh yes, we've had plenty of experience.

Did you say where? Please don't get personal. That's none of your business.

Well, ye of little faith we might as well fess up.

Whis, we were a free boarder for some time at the sister institution several miles down the pike.

Yep! Told our wife's mother's neighbor's son's great-aunt's sister's niece's pettifolous bollerin' infant to shut his mouth while we were trying to create thunder by the same method, and when he wouldn't we said we wish he was in that place where every asbestos wouldn't do any good, and then—

We got PLEASCHED for larceny and TWO YEARS IN THE COOP.

Some whinnan have horrible temper. Shilly can't lead 'em anywhere, but just think 'n pencil must always be led.

We are very glad to announce that no poems have been submitted to this column as yet. It would gratify us to receive some.

We asked a guy this week what to do when you get stuck. He said to tap a guy on the beam if we wanted to get stuck, but we've been sitting here for THREE hours in a most belligerent attitude, but we haven't yet been struck with AN IDEA.

From an extensive survey of earth, sea and sky, we beg leave to predict that it will SNOW some time before the first of APRIL.

Now, there isn't any use of your getting scared or of having this paper incriminated or quarantined or anything like that, but we feel it our proper duty to give you fair warning, and we therefore state that the infant prodigy of the 1874 editor of this column has contacted the measles.

A merry Christmas and a happy New Year!

SOPHOMORES ELECT TENNIS MANAGER

At a meeting of the Sophomores in the Chemistry Amphitheater Friday night, several important affairs were brought before the class. Announcement was made that the 1921 hat would be given out immediately after the Easter vacation.

Election was held for tennis manager and J. W. Sell received this position. Announcement was made that those men who had been in the service would be compelled to pay last semester's due, but not the fine.

MINING NOTES

This week the Junior mining engineers and mining geologists are on a trip through the anthracite mining region, accompanied by Professor W. H. Chodsey, of the Mining Department. Stops will be at Hazleton and Lansford, with the last half day of the week at Lebanon where the men will visit a magnetic concentrator.

The Junior metallurgists will also be away this week from Monday to Thursday at the Steelton plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company, and Friday at the Lebanon plant of the same company. The "Stets" will be accompanied by Mr. C. A. Knight, of the Metallurgy Department.

Next week all the Juniors in the School of Mines will have geology field work, with headquarters at Lebanon, Pa., under Dr. H. S. Moore and Professor C. A. Hinkle, of the Department of Geology.

LOST AND FOUND

The Y. M. C. A. has a number of articles which have been found on the campus among which are an officer's hat, a pocket knife, a fountain pen, a note book and several school books. The persons who lost any of these articles can obtain them by calling at the "Y" Hut. Among the articles which have been lost are two pocketbooks, an overcoat and a pair of gloves.

Czarnecki Wins Wrestling Honors

Honor again came to a popular Penn State man when S. J. Czarnecki '18, last year's intercollegiate heavy-weight wrestling champion, won the national heavy-weight championship of the Amateur Athletic Union in a hot struggle in Birmingham, Alabama. Czarnecki was in no good condition at the time of the meet owing to the fact that he was out of training, and it was with a considerable handicap that he met his opponent, Victor Tenczers, of the New Orleans Athletic Club.

At the very beginning of the bout Czarnecki fell into a scissors and was held for six minutes. At the end of that time he freed himself and with a fine exhibition of his old time fight got the advantage and held the New Orleans champion for a decision. Czarnecki is at present associated with the Gary By-products Company of the United States Steel Corporation, located at Gary, Indiana. Another Penn State man at Gary is "Pete" Marthe '18 a star of the football squad during the season of 1912. Other men from this college who are taking an active part in Gary athletics are H. C. Jester '16 and N. G. Smoler '18. While Jester was on the "arsity" basketball and track teams and Smoler was a varsity wrestler.

LEHIGH-NORTHAMPTON MEETS

The Lehigh-Northampton county club held its meeting recently on at this time officers were elected for the remainder of the year. G. S. Behler '20 was elected president, L. M. Roberts '22 vice president, H. S. Davis '21 secretary, and H. Feldman treasurer. It was decided to hold another meeting of the club April thirteenth when dates for the regular meetings will be set and further plans made.

SEMI-FINALS IN RHETORIC CONTEST TO BE HELD SOON

Eliminaries in the extemporaneous speaking contest have been completed in the class rooms of the Sophomore rhetoric classes and were a decided success. Representatives have been selected from each class and plans are being completed for the semi-final contests.

These semi-finals will be held before May fifth in those sections in which the classes in rhetoric eight are represented. There are four of these sections and one member will be selected from each section so that there will be four speakers in the final contest. The finals will be held on or after May fifth.
