

Committee to Act on Appropriation

The two bills providing for an appropriation to the Pennsylvania State College, which were recently introduced into the State Legislature, have been turned over to the Committee on Appropriations.

The Board of Trustees has asked for $1,250,000 for general maintenance for the next two years and $1,625,000 to provide new buildings in the School of Engineering, Agriculture, Mines, Natural Science and Domestic Science.

In order to properly carry on the work of the institution as a whole, it is imperative that both these bills be passed. The work that is being carried on through the extension department of the schools of Agriculture and Engineering has increased considerably over what it was before the war.

Just what form the rewards which the War Department have offered will be has not yet been ascertained but some fitting award is sure to be obtained by the ten units in the county which raise the highest amounts in this drive.
