GLEE CLUB PREPARING FOR ACTIVE SEASON

At a rehearsal held last Wednesday night for old members only, the Glee Club began its activities for the coming year. The purpose of this rehearsal was to prepare for the selections sung at the Y. M. C. A. reception on Saturday afternoon, and to give Dean Robinson an opportunity to become familiar with the club members who have returned. A meeting for those applying to please with this musical organization was held last Saturday night at which time a new scheme for selecting candidates was inaugurated. Hitherto, an applicant was required to sing the solo as a test of his ability, but under the new plan all candidates must sing some song and sing it in an intelligent and satisfactory manner. The officers and other men who have been with the club for three years are the only ones sure of a position and those qualifying at the first trials must undergo a second test of fitness at the final trials which will be held soon.

At the Pennsylvania Day concert, the club will have presented some art of national reputation which will render the major part of the program. The feature of the concert, however, will be a number in which the Glee Club will accompany soloist W. Young, manager of the club, is negotiating with Henri Scott, basso of the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York, and also with Reinhold Werrenrath of the same company. This is but one of the organization's activities. With an abundance of material and several big tips which are planned for the coming season, the prospects of the Glee Club are brighter than in any previous year.

Dear Ed—

College is open so suppose you're still publishing the weekly dope-sheet.

An enclosing personal check for a dollar and a half to cover my subscription for the current year.

But hurry up with the first issue—and keep them coming.

Best wishes,
Russell D. Clark '19

FORMER STARS MAKE UP STRONG FOOTBALL SQUAD

The line will furnish the hardest problem for the coaches this year. Converter at center and Higgins at end are about the only men who are sure of starting the season, although Cabbage is beginning to look good at tackle. Rauch, a center is being tried out at the other tackle because of his speed and fighting qualities, but he is still green in his new position. Utery is being shifted from the backfield to guard and he may solve one of these problems. He is big and fast and once he learns the position, he should be a hard man to abrogate. Griffiths, a center, is working at the other guard position, and he may solve one of these problems. He is big and fast and once he learns the position, he should be a hard man to abrogate. Griffiths, a center, is working at the other guard position, and he may solve one of these problems. He is big and fast and once he learns the position, he should be a hard man to abrogate.

ENGINEERING UNITS NEARING COMPLETION

Building to be Known as "C" is Virtually Finished—Unit "A" Being Erected on Ruins

Marked progress was made during the summer in the construction of two additional units for the School of Engineering. Unit A occupies the rear portion of the main Engineering Building which was destroyed by fire last November, and is designed for the Department of Mechanics and Materials of Construction. It will be occupied in part by the Masonry and Highway Laboratories of the Department of Civil Engineering. The Mechanical Engineering Laboratory will be in the basement of Unit A until a new Mechanical Engineering Laboratory is built.

Description of Unit C

Unit C is practically completed and equipment is partially installed. One half of the ground floor will be devoted to a new forge shop with entirely new equipment. This shop is especially constructed with all piping embedded in the concrete floor which makes the room lighter and free from obstructions. The machine shop occupies the other half of Unit C, and it is being installed the new equipment consisting of motor driven lathes, shapers, milling machines, drills, etc. All the equipment so far purchased is motor driven but several old machines may be rebuilt, in which case they will be bolt driven.

Study will be made during the coming year of the relative efficiency of belt and motor driven machines. The second floor of Units A and C will be devoted to office and recreation rooms and the third floor to drawing rooms.

As soon as possible the Freshman drawing rooms will be moved from the third floor of Unit D to the third floor of Unit C, in order to make room for the new courses for Sophomore Electricians, known as Electrical Lab 22 in Electrical Assembly and Installation, which is given this year for the first time.

COLLEGE RECEIVES APPROPRIATION

public school debating lecture courses reading clubs and other forms of organized educational effort.

The sum of $35,000 for maintaining at the college summer session for teachers, including instruction, printing, equipment, supplies, janitor service, etc.

Amount Asked For

The state government was asked by the college authorities for an appropriation totaling $4,211,452, proposed as follows: maintenance and new projects for instruction, research and investigation only, $2,161,000; new buildings, $1,025,000; agricultural and home economics extension, $370,452; engineering, mining and liberal arts extension, $30,000; summer session, $25,000. The only amounts reduced, therefore, were those for general maintenance and new buildings, the former, as stated above, being cut by the Committee on Appropriations and the latter by the Governor.

It may be interesting to compare the appropriations received for 1919-1920 with that received two years ago for 1917-1919. The distribution of $1,275,000, which was the money granted for the two years just past, was as follows: maintenance, $1,003,000; new buildings, nothing; army, nothing; new farm land, $50,000; agricultural and home economics extension, $102,000; engineering extension, $110,000; summer session, $16,000; and tobacco experiments, $5,000.

To Other Colleges

The appropriations granted to other colleges, universities, and educational institutions in the state for the next two years are as follows:

Univ. of Penna.	$1,000,000.00
Univ. of Pittsburgh	753,000.00
Temple Univ.	300,000.00
Nautical School of the Port of Philadelphia	100,000.00
Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art at Phila.	125,000.00
Tindley Stevens Industrial and Reform School of Pennsylvania at Lancaster	22,713.57
Duquesne University	50,000.00
Philadelphia Museum	50,000.00
Philadelphia School of Design for Women	25,000.00
National Farm School, Doylestown	20,000.00
Philadelphia College of Pharmacy	15,000.00
Chesney Training School for Teachers, Delaware Co.	12,000.00

SOPHOMORES HOLD ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

Woe to the lowly Freshman who thinks that the Sophomores lack pep! The Chemistry Amphitheater was crowded to its capacity on Friday evening, when the class of 1922 held its first meeting of the year.

President Ritz welcomed the new men who are returning to college and explained the following committee to look after their admission into the class: Espenshade, chairman, Shlosser, Boggs, Rangley and Kessler. New men were asked to hand their names in to this committee at the earliest possible date. A financial committee was announced, consisting of Campbell, chairman, Rinkebach, Lynn, Guthrie, and J. Steele. President Ritz selected "Red" Mackenzie as the class representative on the Honor Committee and his appointment was met with unanimous approval. Nominations were opened for the class representative to the Student Council and C. J. Teegan was elected.

RECEPTION TENDERED TO PENN STATE'S FRESHMEN

The annual reception to Freshmen by the Young Women's and Young Men's Christian Associations combined, was held Saturday afternoon on the Front Campus, and from the standpoint of attendance was one of the most successful ever tendered to a class entering Penn State. Virtually the whole Freshman class was present, in addition to many members of the three upper classes.

Refreshments were served by the committee in charge, assisted by ladies of the college and town. Music was furnished by members of the college band, and the Glee Club entertained the gathering with several pleasing selections.

In the receiving line were Dean and Mrs. Pond, Dean Warnock, Dean Knight, and Bishop Israel, of the Diocese of Erie, last Sunday's chapel speaker.

CLASS OF 1918 HOLDS TWO IMPORTANT MEETINGS

A meeting of the former members of the class of 1918 was held in Old Chapel last Friday evening at which several matters of minor importance were settled. A committee composed of D. T. Hill, J. S. Wagner and S. M. Free was appointed to confer with similar committees from the classes of 1919 and 1920 to arrange for the payment of class dues and for nominations for the Student Council. The chairman of the meeting was George Wright, the president.

In accordance with the plan which has been adopted by the classes of 1918, 1919, and 1920, in regard to Student Council representatives, the following men of the 1918 class were elected at a meeting held on Tuesday night: F. B. Sykes, Hale, Coughlin, and E. M. Wagner.

INCREASE IN PHYSICIANS FEES

At a meeting held Sept. 12th, 1919, by the physicians of State College, Pa., when a permanent organization was formed, it was unanimously decided that owing to the increased cost of living and supplies, it is necessary that the physicians fees be raised. It was therefore agreed that the fees in general be increased 25-35% to the minimum fee. This increase makes the minimum office fee $1.00, the visit in town $2.00, the visit for a call that comes in between the hours of 8 P. M. and 8 A. M. $3.00, and the other fees proportionately raised in accordance with the general increase. This change went into effect September 16th, 1919.

POSTOFFICE REMOVED

One of the most noticeable improvements that took place during the summer vacation was the transfer of the local postoffice to its new location on South Allen street. This change was necessitated by the rapid growth of the business and the increased demand for more commodious surroundings.

A new set of letter boxes has been installed and by way of interior decoration some new species of Bermuda ferns have been secured. The present building is three times as large as the old one and the ventilation and heating facilities have been greatly improved.

It is a pliant, straight-up treatment with a tendency toward broadness and it contributes greatly to comfort. Perfect balance has been secured by its use and an appearance of height, which is admirable, has been gained.
