DR. ZOOK BACK

Dr. George F. Zook, of the history, political science and economics department, has returned to this college, after spending one year in government service at Washington, D. C. Dr. Zook was a member of the staff of the Committee on Public Information from June to December, 1918, and during that time issued nine illustrated lectures entitled "America at War", for use in the schools and colleges of the country.

From January to September, 1919, he was with the schools section of the War Savings Division, which has been conducting the thrift campaign throughout the country. He is the author of numerous pamphlets for the teaching of thrift in the primary and secondary schools.

work and he has always shown marked ability.

The battlefield team's prospects for the season are excellent and if several of the veterans return who expect to return within the next day or two, everything points to a most successful season. Gettysburg expects to put up a strong fight with Penn State on Saturday and if the daily drills are not interrupted, she will come here with her full squad ready to play her best. What the men lack in weight they easily make up in speed and they have been extremely fortunate in having but few injuries. The exact line-up of the team has not yet been finally selected.

Following is a list of the men Gettysburg will bring here for Saturday's game, the position each will play, and the weight of each.
