

Penn State Collegian

Published weekly during the College year by students of the Pennsylvania State College in the interest of the Students, Faculty, Alumni and Friends of the College

EDITORIAL STAFF

G. S. Wylkoff '20.....Editor
D. C. Blahodell '20.....Assistant Editor
G. L. Wright '20.....Senior Associate Editor

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

F. H. Leuschke '21.....Men's Editor
Miss Helen M. Zimmerman '20.....Women's Editor

REPORTERS

R. H. Beck '22.....W. A. Pratt '22.....William Decker '22.....C. T. Douds '22
D. S. Leitham '22.....Richard Linnell '22.....G. H. Lytle, Jr. '22.....A. G. Pratt '22
R. L. Rogers '22.....C. B. Schuler '22.....J. W. Selover '22
J. L. Stewart '22.....I. H. Strubel '22

BUSINESS STAFF

R. B. Paxson '20.....Business Manager
H. R. Neim '20.....Advertising and Circulation Manager

ASSISTANT BUSINESS MANAGERS

A. R. Babin '21.....Fred H. Ledwood '21.....R. L. Parker '21

The Collegian invites all communications on any subject of college interest. Letters must bear signatures of writers.

Subscription price: $1.50, if paid before October 15, 1919. After October 15, 1919, $1.75.

Entered at the Postoffice, State College, Pa., as second class matter, Office, Miltans Printing and Publishing Co. Building, Office hours, 4 to 6:20 every afternoon except Saturdays.

Member of Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1919

WE ARE THE ONES WHO ALONE CAN DO IT

In strong contrast to the many opinions which have been expressed on the campus and in the boarding and fraternity houses of the town that the spirit at Penn State during the present year was to be but a repetition of that which was witnessed last year, we regard the reception accorded the team on its return on Sunday afternoon as a strong rebuttal against these opinions. The mass meeting on last Wednesday night, the send off on Thursday morning and the numerous telegrams which were dispatched to the team prior to the game with Dartmouth, were all external evidences of the fact that the student body of Penn State was behind the team.

But great as these things mentioned above may be, the COLLEGIAN regards the reception on Sunday afternoon as one of the big things of the college year to date and certainly it is an argument in favor of the proposition that the old time Penn State spirit is returning. To a certain group of upperclassmen must go the credit for originating this idea of meeting the team in the unique manner which was effected on Sunday, but to the student body of Penn State must go the credit for carrying out the plans and for putting the thing across. The team was undoubtedly greatly impressed by the display of enthusiasm thus accorded it as is evidenced by the talks of Coach Bezdck and Captain "Bob" Higgins immediately after the team had reached State College.

If Penn State spirit is returning, as the COLLEGIAN is prone to believe to be the case, we must all look forward to the time when each Penn State student will love this college as a part of himself. This is an inevitable outcome of the return of such spirit and, we think, should be the common property of each student at Penn State. We are the ones upon whom this spirit depends, we are the ones who can make or break the good name and reputation of the college; we are the ones who in the end reap the benefit for a clean and honorable college spirit and who are pointed to as examples of what real college spirit can do for a group of men and women. It is a life size challenge and one which each man and woman must meet fairly and squarely. The COLLEGIAN believes that Penn State spirit of the good old kind is fast coming into evidence again on the campus of the college we love. The only charge which we would give to each student is to keep up the good work and for each student, man or woman, to give his all to Penn State to make her the best college in the land and one of whom he can readily be proud to be an integral part.

CLASS ROOM HONOR

It would seem that by this time the principles of the honor system should be understood by every member of the student body. Unfortunately, such is not the case. Too many students, apparently, have arrived at the conclusion that the honor system is something to be observed only at the time of examinations, and that for the rest of the time it is to be packed away in a glass case, there to remain until the next examination.

That idea is wrong, absolutely wrong. There is no more justification for a man to sneak into a back row seat in a class-room and then endeavor to keep one step ahead of the instructor by the surreptitious use of an opened text-book or note-book, than there is for a direct violation of the honor system in an examination. A moment's reflection should demonstrate to anyone with even average intelligence that such procedure is not on the level. It is not fair to the instructor, to one's fellow students, and most of all, to oneself.

There are no two ways about the matter. Observance of the honor system means but one thing—clean, square and above-board conduct at all times whether it be lecture, practicum, recitation, or examination. For a man of honor there can be no discrimination as to the time and place of fair-dealing.

HOW ABOUT IT?

Penn State spirit at a mass meeting in 1911 founded "The Pennsylvania State College Mission to China", and sent G. W. Groff, class of 1907, as a missionary to Canton Christian College, Canton, China.

Is Penn State going to adequately support its missionary, Mr. Groff, in that far-away land? The answer to this question can be known only when the Directing Committee of the Y. M. C. A. receives the "Weekly Offering" pledge card. In this way, it can be known just how much money may be expected each week from the student body, and the work of maintaining this missionary will be simplified. Do your bit!

Ursinus is the next opponent for Penn State's football team. Incidentally, it is the last home game before the Penn battle at Philadelphia. Let us keep up the good work by turning out en masse on Saturday, in order to show the team we are behind it just as firmly on the eve of the Penn game, as we were the day after the Dartmouth contest.

The Department of Music and the Y. M. C. A. are both to be congratulated upon the excellent entertainment courses which they have arranged this year. Through their efforts, some of the best talent in the country will appear at State College in the near future. It is needless to say that each is deserving of and should have the united support of the entire student body.

ENGINEERING NOTES

John H. Allen, Director of the Experiment Station, recently established by the Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers, visited the college on the twenty-first to confer concerning co-operative experimental work. The Engineering Experiment Station here has been conducting investigations on the loss of heat through insulating materials for several years. Professor A. J. Wood and J. C. Grundhoefer are conducting this work.

The Engineering lectures will probably begin October thirtieth. The best time available for Senior Engineers is at 1:30 in the afternoon. Professor Ketchum, formerly Dean of Engineering at Colorado University, has agreed to speak on December eleventh. He is now Professor of Civil Engineering at the University of Pennsylvania. J. P. Johnson of the Westinghouse Machine Company will present the subject of "Large Steam Turbines". A. Hamilton Church, Editor of Industrial Magazine, has been invited to deliver one of the engineering lectures, but the date has not yet been set.

SOPHOMORES WIN PUSH BALL SCRAP

The Push Ball Scrap which was held on Old Beaver field on Saturday afternoon, was a great success. The Sophomores came out on the long end of a 2-0 score, but not until they had overcome the picky resistance of the veteran Fresh. There was more pep shown in this scrap than in any of the previous ones held last year and great credit is due to the Student Council for reviving it as one of the annual class contests. Jesse Kraft '20 was in charge and the other officials were "Doc" Lewis, Dave and Larry Sidel, "Buster" Due to their careful supervision the scrap was clean fought throughout and the percentage of men injured was almost negligible.

At twelve forty-five the expectant Freshmen assembled in the Gymnasium and were there instructed by the upperclassmen who told them that a game of push ball was to be held at the gymnasium. The game was to be held at the gymnasium and was to be held at the gymnasium. The game was to be held at the gymnasium and was to be held at the gymnasium.

The Scrap in Detail

One hundred men from each class lined up for the first five minute period and at the click of the gun the Sophomores, by a series of end pushes, pushed the Freshmen into the open. The line broke in succession. In the other two periods the fight was more even and the ball remained in the middle of the field practically the whole time. Some of the best plays of the afternoon resulted from the efforts of each class to get their men on top of the ball. Time after time some Freshman in Sophomore would reach the top only to be taken down by a sliding tackle from the opposing side. In the second period, due to an absence of ropes, which could not be obtained by the officials, the men crowded on the field and a count had to be taken before the scrap was resumed.

It was originally planned to have five periods of five minutes each, but due to the returns coming in from the Dartmouth game, this had to be changed to three periods. This arrangement helped rather than marred the contest and everything considered, it was one of the best conducted and hardest fought class scrap held in recent years.

DAIRY HUSBANDRY SOCIETY REORGANIZED

Over fifty students of the Dairy Husbandry Department of Penn State met last Thursday evening in the dairy building in order to reorganize the Dairy Husbandry Society.

Professor Botchard called the meeting to order and after a short address the election of officers took place and the following were elected: I. R. Jones '20, president; W. S. Davis '20, vice president; A. S. Boyer '21, secretary; and J. B. Galber '20, treasurer.

Plans were formulated for the putting on of a prize winning exhibit on Pennsylvania Day when the students of the different departments of the School of Agriculture compete for a silver cup, which becomes the property of the winner for the ensuing year. A competent committee of judges will decide which department group of students have the best exhibit.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE COLLEGIAN

First Class SHOE REPAIRING
J. A. Mingle
FRAZIER ST.

BRING YOUR SUITS TO US
Henry Grimm
Tailor
East College Ave.

J. C. Smith & Son
DEALER IN
General Hardware
Builders' Materials, Oils, Paints, Glass, Ammunition, Stoves, Roofing, Spouting, Etc.
State College, Pa.

Hurwitz Store
Just received a large shipment of Bostonians and E. T. Wright & Co. Cordovan Shoes.
Fall and Winter overcoats now on display. Look 'em over.
Your patronage appreciated. Give us a trial
M. HURWITZ, Allen Street

CORELLA-BONELLI GROUP PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE

Under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., the Corella-Bonelli Musical Company rendered a very delightful program in the Schreyer Auditorium last Saturday evening. The company consists of a group of four artists who understand well how to set forth a feast of music in which it seems that each succeeding number is more eagerly awaited and enthusiastically acclaimed by the audience than the preceding selection.

The members of the company were: Miss Pauline Corella, soprano; Riccardo Bonelli, baritone; Miss Ruth Collingbourne, violinist; and Miss Edith Gillenberg, pianist. Miss Corella is an accomplished soprano, who sings with an ease that seems natural rather than acquired. Through all her registers her voice maintains the same evenness of tone and she handles coloratura passages with an libano charm and clearness. One of her most pleasing numbers was her last encore, "The Swan", by Lehman. She was heartily cheered after each selection.

The baritone, Riccardo Bonelli, has a voice of unusual excellence. He is remarkably clear and versatile, and his personality pleasing. At no time did he show his art more convincingly than when he sang "The Swan", which was his most popular number. He was never allowed to obliterate the delicate soprano of Miss Corella. He responded to repeated encores.

The pianist, Miss Edith Gillenberg, was a most accompanist. She is a most accomplished and pleasing artist.

The heart of the evening's entertainment naturally fell to the accompanist, Miss Gillenberg, and her work was greatly appreciated. Besides her piano accompaniment, she also played with great mastery a Chopin number, after which she rendered a delightful encore.

PENN STATE PRESS CLUB
HOLDS IMPORTANT MEETING

An important and interesting meeting of the Penn State Press Club was held in the Attention alcove of the building on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. This was the first meeting of the club since its reorganization. The program of last Monday's evening was in charge of Miss Elizabeth J. Gibbons and all articles submitted are to act as the credentials of each student membership in the United Amateurs Press Association.

Chrysanthemums for Pennsylvania Day
Get your girl a Mum
Bell & Ritts
Call 120

Corona Type-writer
Fold it up—
take it with you—
typewrite anywhere

Weight 6 pounds
Folds up snugly
Ruggedly built
Simple to operate

Always handy
Clear type
In a strong case
$50.00 for complete

The MUSIC ROOM
Agents for Centre Co.

Hurwitz Store
Just received a large shipment of Bostonians and E. T. Wright & Co. Cordovan Shoes.
Fall and Winter overcoats now on display. Look 'em over.
Your patronage appreciated. Give us a trial
M. HURWITZ, Allen Street

PENN STATE FAILS TO HOLD BIG GREEN TEAM

largely responsible for Dartmouth's scoring. At times, the Bealokhms were like a stone wall and on four different occasions the Dartmouth team was held for down—three times when they were on the very play line. But at other times the Blue and White line-men seemed to be unable to check the plunges of Holmstrom and Edmond, and the Big Green backs went through for first down after first down. The chief fault seemed to be that the State line was not changing—they were waiting for the man to reach the line—and the result was that every plunge netted Dartmouth four or five yards.

Dartmouth Line Strong

We must give credit to the Dartmouth line, for while Penn State's play was erratic the Green line showed great strength and they out-charged their opponents during the greater part of the game. While the Blue and White offense was not very strong, it looked well water because the fast-charging Dartmouth line-men were in on nearly every play and broke it up before it had even begun. Way was the only man who could gain any ground at all, and even the elusive Charlie was forced to back up before it had even begun. Way was the only man who could gain any ground at all, and even the elusive Charlie was forced to back up before it had even begun.

With the exception of the opening play of the game the Penn State interference was wonderful and Way did that which happens usually but once in a season—scored a touchdown on the kick-off. Once past the first on-down, and Charlie was more than a match to any Dartmouth man in the open field.

Hess had an off day in his punting and he was greatly out-distanced by Robertson, the Dartmouth star. However, all of the fruit should not be placed at the door of the big State full back, for on nearly every punt he was forced to kick because the Dartmouth line-men were on him. Two of his punts were partially blocked and both were recovered by Dartmouth. Robertson gave a fine exhibition of punting, several of the kicks going over 50 yards and one going for 65 yards. Several went out of bounds, however, and this lowered his average.

Forwards Are Unsuccessful

Neither side was very proficient with the forward pass, each using the aerial route eleven times and each succeeding on three attempts. Dartmouth had two puns intercepted by Charlie Way, but they also gained far more ground on their successful passes than did State. In the last quarter, Killinger directing the team, Penn State tied past after pass in a final effort to tie the score, but to no avail.

The game fully demonstrated the fact that Penn State is a little behind schedule in development this year for the team play that is so essential in winning games was lacking. But when it been satisfactory I have felt that the officers of the class, as well as the leaders, have made a serious attempt to avoid those unfortunate features of holding and loss serape which not only bring disgrace to the institution, but which are often dangerous. I trust that the record of the class throughout its remaining years will be a favorable one.

OPEN FORUM TO BE HELD BY Y. M. C. A. GIRLS

Plans are being made for a Y. M. C. A. assembly meeting to be held October twenty-ninth at six-forty-five in room 25 Liberal Arts. At this time opportunity will be given to all girls to express themselves on all matters pertaining to the Y. M. C. A. It is entirely new idea for the college organization. All the girls are urged to turn out and make this an established part of the work. All members should be present and all those in sympathy with the movement are invited to attend.

IMPORTANT MEETING HELD BY SOPHOMORES

The Sophomore class held an important meeting last Friday in the Chemistry Amphitheatre at which time several matters including the election to the scholarships were transacted. "Doc" Wilson '18, explained the reception which was tendered the football team on their return Sunday and urged the Sophomores to turn out in full force for President Pitts then dispatched a committee of men from the meeting to send telegrams to Dartmouth to Coach Bezdck, Captain Higgins and the 1922 men on the squad. J. E. Paul '18, spoke about the pushball scrap and explained the necessity of saving the old spirit by means of supporting the scrap. W. W. Cohen '20, was then presented with a wrist watch as a token of appreciation for his services rendered in the organization of the class last fall. The meeting was then concluded with a discussion of enforcing college customs by the members of the class.

The secretary read a letter of congratulation which President Pitts had received from Dean Wainlock. The contents were as follows:

"I am willing to congratulate you and the Sophomore class on the record of the class thus far. In general its conduct in handling the traditions and customs of the student body has

Try our Soda Fountain while out College Ave.
J. H. Musser
Corner Banard st. and W. College Ave.

Home Made Candies

The place to get the freshest candy is the place where it is made. We make candy every day and you often buy candy at our store that is still warm—just been made.

Home Made Ice Cream

Pineapple, Cherry, Chocolate, Vanilla, and Maple Walnut ice cream and Orange Ice.

Anything you might expect from a first class confectionery.

GREGORY BROTHERS
Belleville State College

MURAD
THE TURKISH CIGARETTE

You may hunt the world over—but you cannot find a cigarette to take the place of Murad.

The tobacco in Murad is 100% pure Turkish—and Turkish is the most famous of all tobaccos for cigarettes. It is true that "ordinary" cigarettes cost a trifle less.

"Judge for yourself—!"

Synonyms
Masters of the Most Excellent Turkish and Egyptian Cigarettes in the World

MURAD
S. ANARGYROS

20 CENTS