County Clubs

A banquet will constitute the Christmas social function of the Cumberland County Club this year. This was decided at a meeting of the club held recently in Room 314, Old Main. It was also decided to have the picture of the club taken for La Vie. The regular meeting night was fixed as the first Wednesday of each month. Professor A. A. Doeland, head of the department of dairy husbandry, who is a native of Mercer county, will address the club at its next meeting. The officers elected are: President, R. J. Whiford '21; vice-president, J. S. Zahniser '21; secretary and treasurer, Meric Talt '21.

Officers were elected and plans were discussed for the annual Christmas dance at the second meeting of the Cumberland County Club held in Room 314, Old Main. It was decided to have the picture of the club taken for La Vie. The president appointed the following to serve as a committee on arrangements for the dance, which will be held in Metzger Hall, Carlisle: C. C. Tritt '21, P. H. Neelby '21, C. G. Miller '23, Walter Stevens '23. The officers of the club are: President, Millard Fitzgerald '20; vice-president, C. C. Tritt '21; secretary, H. E. Schrick '22; treasurer, L. E. McLaughlin '22; and press agent, Marcus McInight '22.

Students from Philadelphia held a recent meeting in Room 314, Old Main, when they effected an organization and made plans for the State-Pittsburgh Christmas "hop". The following men will serve as officers of the club for the ensuing year: President, F. W. Glading '21; vice-president, J. W. Brown '20; secretary, W. B. Shaw '21; and treasurer, A. P. Schoeppe '20.

The initial meeting of the Franklin County Club was held in Room 314, Old Main, where the old and new students from the Cumberland Valley county had a chance to become acquainted. The club intends to be more active this year than ever before and has elected these officers to represent the club: President, Alherton; vice-president, S. L. Greenwald '21; secretary, R. S. Kaufman '20; and treasurer, Linn.

POEM IS REMNANT OF PENN STATE'S PAST

The following poem, entitled "Dedicated to Wilkinson," is reprinted exactly as it appeared sixty-four years ago, when the Pennsylvania State College was known as the Agriculture College of Pennsylvania. Who the author is, to whom it was dedicated, or even the paper in which it was published, are unknown, the following copy having been made from a clipping.

DEDICATED TO WILKINSON
By "Star"

The moon is shining brightly now,
The stars their vigils keep,
The silvery streams doth gently flow,
The song-birds sweetly sleep.

And we are thinking, "Wilk," of thee,
Thy image here doth dwell,
Like a still midnight of the sea
In this enchanting spell.

Dome gently on the summer breeze,
Your voice, it comes to me;
And 'midst the rustling of the leaves
Each note falls tenderly.

For now our friendship's bound to thine,
Sweet thoughts our bosoms fill;
Thy image kindly lingers yet,
And haunts us gently still.

Thou' other forms and scenes shall fade,
And 'er be forgot,
Yet thou--yes, thou alone--shalt live;
We can forget thee not.

We never can forget thee, Wilk,
While memory will last;
What 'er our fortunes be, Wilk,
Where 'er our lot be cast.

Our hearts can never, never stray,
They beat for thee alone,
And ever will, by night or day,
While reason holds its throne.

The sun may cease to shine, Wilk,
The flowers to drink the dew;
The birds of summer time, Wilk,
May cease to sing and coo.

Ah, yes! the earth may cease to move,
The straight things may be;
But while they thro' our hearts will
Their fullness to thee. (Prove)

When far away we roam, Wilk,
Beneath a foreign sky,
Sweet thoughts of thee and school, Wilk,
Will then be ever nigh.

And Oh! wilt thou, what joy 'twill be
To think what 'er our lot,
That we're remembered still by thee,
And shall not be forgot.

Thy pleasant smiling face, Wilk,
In fancy we will see--
'Twill 'er hold its place, Wilk,
Deep in our memory.

'Twill be to us a guiding light--
A star that ne'er will set,
Whose gentle smiles, by day or night,
We never can forget.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Professor C. E. Noll, in charge of the experimental farm crops in the Agronomy Department, has been granted a leave of absence for one year and will study at Cornell University for his doctor's degree in this subject. Mr. R. D. Lewis '19 will have charge of the experimental farm crops during his absence.

Mr. C. D. Degani '19 has been appointed assistant in soil technology at Penn State College. Mr. Degani spent a portion of last summer on soil survey in Lycoming county and assumed his duties at the college September fifteenth.

Mr. C. B. Manifold '19 has been employed in soil survey work since the close of college in June and with the close of the field work in November he will return to Penn State to assist in the experimental farm crops.

Mr. J. S. Cobb, instructor in farm crops, is a graduate of Cornell University and received his M. S. from Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He assumed his duties here September first.

Mr. J. Stanley Owens, former assistant in experimental farm crops, has been transferred to the extension department to assist in agronomy extension.

Six new courses have been added to the correspondence offered by the School of Agriculture. The new ones are: Sewing, Floral Culture, Farm Chemistry, Study of Milk, Silos, and Farm Management.

Three students from the Dairy Husbandry Department were present at the thirtieth National Dairy Show at the International Amphitheatre, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, during the week of October sixth. The students were: S. L. Horn, Paul Williams and Mr. Lichtenwalder, and they were accompanied by Professor Bechtel, Boyard and Bean, and Mr. P. D. Jones. Professor Bechtel acted as superintendent of the ring in the dairy show.

By order through the college creamery, patrons of the creamery were able to buy three cartons of sweet cream at a price much lower than the regular retail price. Since this meant a saving of over three hundred dollars on a carton, it is planned to buy cotton seed feed in the same manner.

Doctor F. D. Gardner, head of the Agronomy Department, was judge of cereal exhibits at the meetings of the Maryland Agricultural Society and the Farmers' National Congress at Hagerstown, Maryland, during the week of October twenty-seventh. He was also on the program for an address on fertility experiments on Hagerstown loam.

AG SOCIETY TO HAVE CHARGE OF EXHIBITS

The Agricultural Society will have general charge of the exhibits on Ag Hill, Pennsylvania Day. Practically all of the departments in the School of Agriculture expect to have exhibits at this time. Judges will be selected by the Agricultural Society, who will award a silver loving cup to the department having the best display. The cup is a permanent feature and does not have to be won three successive times to remain in the possession of the winning department.

MILITARY NOTES

Lieutenant Colonel Welch, Head of the Military Department, is at present engaged in temporary service in San Francisco, California. He is expected to return within two or three weeks.

A course in bayonet drill and practice will be given to all members of the Penn State P. O. The work will be in charge of C. W. Robinson '19, and N. G. Morrill '21. Instructions in the fundamentals of bayonet are now being given.

Gillery target practice will commence in the near future. Competition will be held for a rifle team to represent Penn State.

NEWS FROM OTHER COLLEGES

MULLENBURG—The banner scrap was held recently and resulted in a victory for the Sophs. The Freshmen braced themselves around the tree from which hung their coveted banner, but after a few minutes they were crushed by the vigorous assault of their opponents and the emblem was torn down. This atoned somewhat for the Sophs' previous defeat in the pole fight.

PENNSYLVANIA—There is a promising outlook for the swimming team this year. Twenty-five Freshmen have reported in addition to half a dozen veterans. The polo team also has a good supply of material on hand.

GETTYSBURG—The student body has abolished hazing in every form and a petition for closer relationship in every sphere of college activity has been presented to and unanimously accepted by the faculty. The movement was started by the ex-serviced men who have returned to college. It was decided that such action would be a betterment for the college and for the mutual confidence between the faculty and students.

KANAS STATE—Plans are being made for a big smoker which has for its object the opening of a campaign for membership in the local post of the American Legion. The organization is already in existence, but more members are desired.

GETTYSBURG—The Active Service Men's Club has been organized with an initial membership of twenty-four. All students who saw active service

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN IN RELIGIOUS DISCUSSION

The Y. M. C. A. Religious Discussion groups are gradually becoming more numerous. Some twenty groups are now in operation, and it is expected that as many more will be organized within the coming week, and have their first session on Sunday or from 6:15 to 7:00 on a week day evening.

Men who have no religious training or experience are finding these discussions profitable. With eight or ten men of different faiths, or of no faith, in frank consideration of religious questions, all are bound to gain broader and truer conceptions. Most of all they discover what, if anything, is vital in the Christian faith.

These groups have no teacher but just a chairman. The leadership is often passed around the group. Most of the groups follow Dr. Sharnman's

CO-EDS PROTEST AGAINST HAZING OF FRESHMEN

For years the co-eds, with more or less successfully concealed emotions, have stood back and watched the annual hazing of Freshmen. As our numbers have grown, so has our courage, and at last we protest against the time-worn custom. Much has been said about the finer sensibilities of women and bills (2 twenties and 1 ten) and A. A. ticket.

Student leadership has been so successful in some of these groups that some of the fraternity groups are thinking of conducting their groups on this basis, nominating one of their number for leadership, in place of a faculty leader.

Those who wish information in regard to the Discussion Groups should see Arthur James '21 or William A. Arner '20.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB MEETS

The bi-monthly meeting of the Shakespeare Club was held in room 25 Liberal Arts building last evening and at this time three minute speeches on the presentation of the characters in "The Merchant of Venice" were given. The club which is under the joint direction of Professor Marsman and Mrs. Benzhuys is planning to present Shakespeare's "The Merchant of Venice" in the early spring.

The main purpose of the organization is to study and interpret the works of the great dramatist, after whom the club was named. The meetings are held twice a month and at these meetings the different plays are to be read and acted.

LOST—A black folding pocketbook containing $25 in bills (2 twenties and 1 ten) and A. A. ticket.

Finder please return to Y. M. C. A. or to the COLLEGIAN office.
