FORWARD PASSES PROVE TOO MUCH FOR CORNELL

Lightner, in alternate thrusts through right and left tackle, made 137 yards. Hess crashed through the line and made it first down by a bare two feet.

Cornell Fumbles On the next play Hess punted. Shiverick fumbled and Robb recovered for State on the 10-yard line. Lightner and Robb in three tries were able to make but five and a half yards on the fourth down Robb elected to try a forward pass rather than a field goal. The pass failed, however, and the ball went to Cornell on downs on its own 20-yard line.

Shiverick immediately punted Robb fumbled the kick but recovered on Penn State's 45-yard line. A fake kick proved disastrous and Robb was thrown for a five yard loss. Shiverick regained two yards of the lost territory with a 14-foot smash off right tackle. Robb slipped through right tackle for a five yard gain and on the next play dashed around left end to Cornell's 15-yard line. Shiverick failed to gain around right end and through the line. Two forward passes followed, in succession and the ball went to Captain Shiverick's men on downs.

Second Period Shiverick opened the second period by punting to Robb, who received the ball on his 5-yard line and returned it to the 15-yard mark before being downed.

Robb and Hess hit the line for a total gain of six yards. Higgins then punted to Shiverick, who was forced out of bounds on Cornell's 12-yard line. In four attempts to puncture the line, Coach Rush's proteges were able to advance only seven yards and the ball went to Penn State on downs on its own 18-yard line.

Lightner and Hess tore through the Red and White defense for a gain of seven yards. A short forward pass, Robb to Higgins, over the center of the line netted six additional yards. Robb, on the next play, opened up a beautiful piece of open field running and skirted Cornell's left end for a gain of 20 yards. In four powerful plunges through the line Hess, Snell and Lightner advanced the pigskin to the 10-yard line. Shiverick, standing behind his own goal line punted to Robb, who returned the ball ten yards to the Red and White 30-yard line. Hess tore through left tackle for a nine yard advance and Snell made it first down by carrying the ball to the 17-yard mark. Hess got through right guard for two yards on a line buck.

Robb Gets Loose With the oval resting on Cornell's 15-yard line, Robb furnished the first big sensation of the game by whirling around right end for a touchdown.

advanced the ball to State's 47-yard line for a first down. Lightner and Robb skirted the ends for a five yard gain, but the two succeeding plays failed to produce results and the oval went to Cornell on downs on its 48-yard line.

Hess Intercepts Forward Pass Cornell, in turn, met unswerving resistance and, on the third down, Shuler attempted a forward pass. The ball fell into the waiting arms of Hess, who was downed in his tracks on Penn State's 47-yard line. On the first play, Robb hurried the oval in a long forward pass to Higgins, who was not stopped until he reached Cornell's 20-yard mark.

Robb and Hess, in three vicious plunges, carried the pigskin to the Red and White's 9-yard line. At this point the Cornell warriors took a brace, and in four tries the Penn State backfield was able to capture but six yards of enemy territory, with the result that Cornell secured the ball on downs on its 3-yard line. Shiverick sent up a weak punt from behind his goal line, and the ball went out of bounds on the Red and White's 19-yard mark. Robb gained a yard through right tackle, just as the third quarter ended.

The Fourth Period In the opening play of the last period, Robb plowed through left tackle for a five yard gain. A forward pass, Robb to Higgins, missed connection and, on a second attempt to work the same play, the pass was intercepted by Shuler, who was downed on Cornell's 27-yard line. After two attempts to penetrate the Blue and White line had failed, Shiverick punted to Robb, who received the ball on his 25-yard line and returned it six yards. Lightner and Robb denied the line for a two yard gain, and, on the third down, Higgins punted to Shiverick, who ran the ball back twelve yards to Cornell's 37-yard line. A forward pass attempted by Shuler failed. Penn State was permitted ten yards, making it first down for the Cornell warriors on their own 47-yard line. On a series of line plunges the enemy backfield advanced the pigskin to Penn State's 35-yard line. Here, however, the Centre County collegians stiffened their defense and took the ball on downs. Snell cracked out a two yard gain through right tackle and Robb reeled off a run around right end, which placed the spheroid on Cornell's 37-yard line.

Robb skirted first the right, and then the left end for a total gain of seven yards. Higgins punted to Shiverick, who received the ball on his 35-yard line and returned it ten yards before being laid low by Conover. Brown was injured and Ego took his place at left end. In three tries the Cornell backfield gained seven yards and on the fourth down Shiverick fell back to punt. The ball went to one side and finally rolled out of bounds on State's 35-yard line. Shuler plowed through right guard for an six yard gain. Hess in two plunges 37-yard line After Hess had waded through the 10-yard line for a four yard advance, Robb again uncorked the famous "Robb-to-Higgins" forward pass. It worked like a charm, and the Penn State leader was not stopped until he had reached Cornell's 1-foot line. Hess made six inches in a lunge at the line, Robb stopped on his first attempt to push the ball across, found a hole off right tackle on his second, and catapulted over the line for Penn State's third touchdown. Conover kicked a goal.

BEZDEK'S ELEVEN READY FOR BATTLE WITH PITT

from this, the teams would be about evenly matched. However, Penn was defeated by State 10 to 0, and tied Pitt 3 to 3, so that here the Blue and White would have a ten point edge. However, Pitt was unable to place her strongest line-up in last Saturday's game, and this may account for her failure to secure a victory. The Pitt game is the most important on the Blue and White schedule and it is likewise true that Penn State is one of the biggest on the Smoky City card. The Thanksgiving Day battle has been an annual event for many years and at the present time records show that Penn State has won twelve, while Pitt has been successful in nine. Both teams have undoubtedly gone through the present season with the final game in view and a record crowd, including hundreds of Penn State students, will be on hand to witness the grueling contest.

The line-up of the two teams will probably be about as follows: Penn State Pittsburgh Brown (165), left end... Eckert (168) Henry (170), left tackle... Harman (166) Raueh (173), left guard... Meamon (200) Conover (185), center... Stoin (180) Oshorn (163), right guard... McLean (181) Cabbage (185), right tackle... Bond (193) Higgins (185), R. E... McCracken (168) Robb (164), Q. B... Y. M. C. A. CONCERT ATTENDED BY APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE Probably one of the finest concerts that will be given at Penn State this year was rendered last Saturday evening by the American Concert Grand Quartet at the second concert in the entertainment course offered by the Y. M. C. A. A large audience was in attendance and throughout the evening showed its appreciation of the exceptionally fine work of the quartet.

TUTORING CLASSES BEING HELD Tutoring classes in mathematics are being conducted primarily for ex-army men, but all others are welcome to attend. In short, all students who need help in their mathematics are welcome. The classes are being held as follows: I. A Class in Differential Calculus and Algebra combined, meeting Monday and Wednesday evenings from 6:20 to 7:20 p. m. in room 14, Liberal Arts building. II. A class in Trigonometry and Algebra combined, meeting Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:20 to 7:20

p. m. in room 14, Liberal Arts building. These classes will be continued about a month or six weeks into the second semester. Then the Integral Calculus (second semester calculus) will be substituted for Differential Calculus and Analytic Geometry will be substituted for Trigonometry. Thus the classes will continue to the end of the college year. There will be no charge whatever for this tutoring. J. A. SALLADE.
