

Penn State Collegian

Oh Yes! The Lion is Still the King Of the Forest

Only Three Weeks Until The Xmas Vacation Begins

VOL. XV. No. 10

STATE COLLEGE, PA., WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1919

PRICE FIVE CENTS

PITT PANTHER HUMBLLED BY NITTANY LION 20-0

Penn State's Well-Coached Eleven Out-plays Blue and Gold in Every Department of Game

DARING PLAY RESULTS IN FIRST TOUCHDOWN

THE THANKSGIVING DAY BATTLE
First Downs		Pittsburgh 5
Penn State 12	Punts	Pittsburgh 9
Penn State 9	Average 20 yards	Average 25 yards
Forward Passes		Pittsburgh 9
Penn State 10	Unsuccessful 5	Unsuccessful 5
Unsuccessful 1	Successful 4	Successful 1
Ground gained 125 yards	Ground gained 53 yards
Penalties		Pittsburgh 5
Penn State 6	Loss of 70 yards	Loss of 25 yards
Penn State 75	Yards Gained Through the Line	Pittsburgh 43
Penn State 125	Yards Gained on End Runs	Pittsburgh 25
Penn State 82	Yards Gained Returning Kick-offs	Pittsburgh 5
Penn State 30	Yards Gained Returning Punts	Pittsburgh 20
Penn State 537	Total Yards Gained by	Pittsburgh 141
Long Runs		Way—53 yds and touchdown
Higgins—75 yds and touchdown	Way—53 yds and touchdown
Score by Periods
Penn State	0	7	0
Pittsburgh	0	0	0

With the old Penn State fight and spirit, the knowledge of the faith of the student body behind them, both those watching the game, and those "back in the Auditorium," Coach Bezdek's "boys" exhibited one of the finest, snappiest and cleanest football contests ever witnessed on a college gridiron when they tracked the Pitt panther in his lair on Thanksgiving Day and administered to him a severe defeat. The score, 20 to 0, was adequate revenge for a belated spurt, being completely outplayed by the Nittany Lions. Coach Bezdek's intensive training schedule of the days previous to the contest were well repaid by the wonderful team play of his proteges. Higgins' work, his touchdown, Robb's generalship, Hess's line-bucking, and Way's sprint for a touchdown were little less than phenomenal. Andy Hastings and Davies were Pitt's sole luminaries, with Hastings far above the rest.

"Fight hard and fight clean!" Those words seemed to characterize the entire contest. Not only was this true of Penn State's players, but also of the opponents. Pitt and Penn State men helped one another to their feet, gave them a friendly pat on the shoulder and then went at it again, fighting as hard and as cleanly as ever. So it continued throughout the game, no occasion arising for anything but the friendliest of feelings between the contestants. Such a victory was doubly won, and though losers, Pitt lost cleanly, fighting to the last.

With the opening of the game, Pitt got a flying start at the goal after the Blue and White had tumbled and lost ground by a poor punt. With the ball on State's five yard line, Pitt was unable to take it over and lost the oval on downs.

Then with Hess in back of his own goal line, preparing an end, the untold for, untold of, occurred. Robb called his signals clearly, every man knew what was coming, and Hess, instead of punting, almost surrounded by Pitt men who rushed through the line, Hess hurried on as interference for the end, Hess forwarded the ball through the air to Higgins who availed it on the 25-yard line and was blocked by the timely interference of Cabbage and Way, sprinted the remainder of the distance down the field for a wonderful touchdown. Hastings was Pitt's lone man between Higgins and the goal. Pitt's backs before drawn close to the line, expecting a punt, and he was spilled by big "Bess" and Higgins continued on unimpeded, accompanied by a mighty pun of State's defense.

Another wonderful touchdown, accomplished by a White and Blue representative was the one brought about by the diminutive "Pie" Way. "Charlie" began his gambol towards the Pitt goal on the very first play after State had received a punt in the second half, and carried it to the Pitt 47-yard line. He passed through the maze of Pitt players with swiftness and dexterity, dodging one and slipping by another, until he passed them all, outstripping the last few on his race to the goal. Interference, built by Hugo Bezdek, cleared the way for him in a remarkable fashion and greatly facilitated his 63-yard dash. Then, in the second period, Hess made his touchdown, one which he richly merited. The big ball back tore and landed at the Pitt line, and he sprinted to the goal, thrusting sharply at guard and tackle, battered it to pulp and broke through for large gains. Over the line, through the line he plunged and, being stopped only by Davies, the last Pitt man before him, on the Pitt 46-yard line.

Pitt Gets Chance

What seemed like a fortune-not chance came to Pitt soon after Way's touchdown. Hastings was punted to one side, and Robb was unable to get him on the ball. The bounding ball hit him on the ankle, putting it on-side for Pitt, and Becker fell on it on the 16-yard line. Then Hastings and Dav-

PRIESTLY HOUSE TO BE MOVED HERE

Home of Noted Chemist Will Be Placed on Campus as a Memorial Building

Announcement was made just previous to the Thanksgiving game that the 123-year-old Dr. Joseph Priestley mansion at Northumberland, Pa., had been purchased by graduate Penn State chemist and that it was the intention of this body of alumni to move the dwelling of the discoverer of oxygen to the campus at Penn State and to make it a memorial to the great scientist.

The home of the eminent scientist after whom the new chemical laboratories have been named was put up for sale at public auction about a month ago and was purchased by the Penn State alumni at the time Dr. G. G. Pond, dean of the School of Natural Science, represented the graduate chemists at the sale and the funds for the removal of the dwelling from Northumberland to State College will be furnished by an as yet unknown donor. This work will probably be started in the spring and will be pushed to rapid completion at that time. The house is one of the best in this part of the country, having been built in 1794-1795, and is located on the banks of the Susquehanna river at Northumberland. It served as the laboratory of Dr. Priestley until his death in 1804 and since then has been the scene of several gatherings of eminent chemists of the country. In 1874 a large number of chemists met there to celebrate the centennial anniversary of the discovery of oxygen and this year the nucleus of what is now known as the American Chemical Society Dr. Priestley, in addition to having discovered oxygen, was the first scientist to work with ammonia, carbon monoxide and hydrochloric acid.

It has not been decided as yet where the dwelling will be located on the campus but it will be thoroughly modernized after its removal from Northumberland and will be adopted to some suitable use by the School of Natural Science. The moving of the house and its location on the Penn State campus is a project which will probably be carried out in the near future and will undoubtedly be the meeting place of many gatherings of eminent chemists of the country.

It will undoubtedly be the meeting place of many gatherings of eminent chemists of the country.

NOTED CONTRALTO HERE THURSDAY

Miss Sophie Braslau to Appear Under Auspices of Department of Music

The second number of the Music Department recital was rendered by Miss Sophie Braslau, the noted contralto of the Metropolitan Opera Company, at eight p. m., Thursday, December fourth, in the Auditorium. Miss Braslau is at present in her fifth season with the Metropolitan Opera Company, having been numerous times reengaged by the Boston Symphony Orchestra. She is regarded by most critics as "one of the greatest contraltos of the century." While singing in conjunction with these renowned musical organizations, Miss Braslau has sung selections from such operas as "Il Trovatore," "Carmen," "Rigoletto," "Crispino," "Thais," "Cavalleria Rusticana," "Shuanev" and other great performances. Such papers as the Chicago American have declared her the "Gull-Cure" of contraltos and the New York Tribune says that "her voice is luscious and that taste, intelligence and depth of feeling speak out of all she does." In addition to all of these qualities, Miss Braslau has the charm of youth and a pleasing personality.

Miss Braslau is an artist of rare merit. Penn State is fortunate to be able to secure such a singer as an attraction. The Entertainment of the evening was 7:00 p. m. to have this noted singer appear here, and who attend will undoubtedly receive a musical treat such as has never before been offered at Penn State. The special benefit of those who do not possess season tickets, and that all students may attend, a special rate of $1.00 will be made for this single concert. Tickets may be procured at Higgins' Variety Store every evening from 6:30 until 8:00 p. m.

The program of the evening has been arranged to suit Miss Braslau's vocal range and to please all genuine music lovers.

MISS SOPHIE BRASLAU

WRESTLING SCHEDULE ARRANGED FOR TEAM

The wrestling schedule, announced by Graduate Manager Ned Fleming, is one of the hardest in the country. It is arranged for a Penn State team to include meets with Lehigh, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Navy and Princeton, and at the end of the season the annual intercollegiate meet at the University of Pennsylvania on March twenty-sixth and twenty-seventh. There will be four meets at home and three away.

The schedule will be as follows:

- February 14—Lehigh, at State College.
- February 21—Cornell, at State College.
- February 28—University of Pennsylvania, at State College.
- March 6—Navy, at Annapolis.
- March 13—Lehigh, at South Bethlehem.
- March 19—Princeton, at State College.
- March 26—Intercollegiate at Philadelphia.

passing "Gang" Way! "Charlie," although having trouble in the early part of the game in holding the ball, managed to find the oval and when he did, neatly tucked it under his arm and stroled through Pitt's team for huge gains, and the 63-yard run for the touchdown was an example of the distinctive State back's steetness. Hess, the burly fullback, tore and battered the Pitt line into a pulp. He was aided by the hard work of the four and five yards which he clipped off each time, went a long way to the numerous first downs which the Blue and White piled up.

How It All Began

Hastings kicked-off and Way received the ball on State's three-yard line, returning it to the 27-yard line. Way was hurt in this play but after a few minutes resumed his place amid great applause on all sides. Robb then failed to gain around left end and Hess went back to punt. A fake punt formation, Snell fumbled the oval, but recovered it with a loss of two yards. Again Hess went back to punt, and partially blocked, the ball went straight up in the air and Ewing of Pitt recovered on the Blue and White 23-yard line. Then the Pitt machine began to work. Davies however, failed to gain around right end, while Hastings went through the left side of the line for three yards. Hastings again made three yards off right tackle and Penn State was immediately penalized for off-side play. Thus Pitt gained her first down, with the ball on Penn State's 15-yard line. Davies went through center for one yard. Hastings picked his way through the line for three and two yards respectively. With one yard to go for the first down, Davies failed to gain and it was State's ball on the six-yard line.

On the first play, from a fake kick formation, Hess sent a beautiful forward pass to Higgins who received the oval on the 25-yard line, and with wonderful interference which cleared the way, made a spectacular run for the touchdown. Cabbage kicked the goal. The teams formed for the second kick-off and Hastings sent the ball to Robb on the 10-yard line who returned it to the 25-yard line. Robb was hurt on this play, but stayed in the game. Hess hit the right side of the line for

RECEPTION TO VICTORIOUS ELEVEN ON FRIDAY NIGHT

In order that the student body may have an adequate opportunity to welcome home the team that defeated Pitt, a reception will be tendered to the members of the victorious team Friday evening in the Armory. The committee which has been appointed to make all necessary arrangements for the affair is as follows: J. W. Brown, H. S. Coughlin, J. J. Kraft, S. Cohen, and Miss Elizabeth M. Ewing.

The event will be somewhat unusual in nature and is designed to take the place of the customary mass meeting. The program which has been tentatively drawn up is attractive and one that will fill up the evening, from seven o'clock on. There will be speeches by Head Coach Hugo Bezdek and the assistant coaches, and then the football used in the Pitt game will be presented to the student body by "Fighting Bob" Higgins. The players will undoubtedly be called upon for speeches, and a special attraction, there will be several numbers by the Glee Club. The latter part of the evening will be given over to a dance which will last from nine o'clock to twelve. This is an affair which is being arranged by the student body for the team and hence every student is invited to attend. The members of the team will come to the reception in the evening, and being arranged for the eleven and many other decorations will be put up. Oh, yes, the co-eds will also be there.

VAUDEVILLE MATINEE TO PROVE ENTERTAINING

The women students of the college will present on Saturday afternoon, December thirteenth, at two o'clock, an entertainment which will be the first of its kind ever held at Penn State and which will be in the form of a vaudeville matinee. The production is being conducted solely by the women students for the benefit of the Dea Moines Conference delegates. The entertainment promises to be a rousing success, being very unique in character. Tickets may be secured at the cap and gown next week between 6:30 and 7:00 p. m.

ETA KAPPA NU ELECTIONS

C. A. Daugherty '20 H. Weir '21
F. D. Jackson '20 H. A. Dambly '21
D. J. Hickey '21 B. C. Stauffer '21
L. C. Weber '21 A. S. Redenbach '21
H. P. Yerts '21

SKULL AND BONES ELECTIONS

R. L. Foster '20 A. B. Shirik '20
H. M. Parent '21

HARD SCHEDULE BEFORE CAGEMEN

Season Opens at Home on December 20 With Juniata as Opponents—Former Stars Report

With the close of the football season comes the opening of Penn State's most popular indoor sport, basketball. Already a number of former stars and candidates have reported to Coach "Dutch" Herman, and many more are expected to report for the sport. A carefully selected group of approximately fourteen games has been arranged, with an eastern trip in the early part of the month. Penn State's prospects for a championship team this year are exceedingly bright and the material from which Coach Herman can choose his team is composed of some of the best football artists in the collegiate world.

Former Stars Report

The first practice of the 1919-1920 season was held Friday, November twenty-first, when numerous former players from the 1918-1919 team, including "Jimmy" Wagner and "Chuck" Hunter are the oldest stars to report for this season's team, both of these men having been members of the star 1918-1919 aggregation. "Frank" Young of the 1917-1918 team, which was captained by Blakeslee—one of the best centers in the collegiate circles at the time—has also reported and along with Captain Wolfe, Mulligan, Kistner, Repliga, Friedman, MacMillan and Ritts of last year's squad, a remarkable team will be built to represent the Blue and White. Young, it will be remembered, was the highest scorer from the 1918-1919 team, averaging 12.1 points per game, and was also the 1918-1919 team's leading rebounder, averaging 10.5 rebounds per game. He was also a consistent foul shooter, with the close of the football season, such men as Smolinski, Friedman, MacMillan and Ritts of last year's squad, are expected to report. Houston, last year's leading scorer, has also come out with the aggregation of stars, there is expected to be a considerable amount of keen competition for berths on the squad.

One of Coach Herman's greatest difficulties will be the choice of a middle man for his team. Without a doubt he has a sufficient number of excellent floor men for the forward and guard positions, but the big problem this year will be the selection of a center. The only Pittsburgh star, who can safely outstretch any center on the intercollegiate teams, and who, with careful training will also prove a speedster in the indoor rectangle.

Rigorous Training Adopted

The men who win berths on this year's squad will be those who have successfully come through what is believed to be one of the hardest and most rigorous training courses adopted for basketball men. A training table will soon be selected which will probably accommodate fourteen men and daily cross-country runs will be a part of the program. When weather conditions are unfavorable, the track beside the armory will be used for practice. His usual method, Coach Herman will have his candidates work through scrimmages only three times a week, devoting the remainder of the time to practice in floor work and foul shooting.

As yet it is undecided what shall be done with the Freshman team this year. A team will be organized soon following the report for candidates and in all likelihood an assistant appointed to Coach Herman to undertake the yearling's instruction.

The schedule which has been drawn up for this season's basketball contest is as follows:

- December 20th—Juniata—At Home
- January 17th—Dickinson—At Home
- January 24th—W. J.—At Home
- January 31st—Lebanon Valley or Adams—At Home
- February 14th—Penn.—At Home
- February 15th—Penn.—At Home
- February 16th—Swarthmore—Away
- February 17th—Lehigh—Away
- February 18th—Union—At Home
- February 19th—Carnegie Tech—At Home
- February 21st—Carnegie Tech—At Home
- February 27th—Pittsburgh—Away
- March 12th—Lehigh—At Home

NON-FRATERNITY MEN TO HOLD BIG MASS MEETING

Bezdek and Warnock to Present Plan of Organizing 1400 Students at Gathering Monday Night

With the preliminary step toward the organization of the college "Union" as outlined by Dean Warnock in the last issue of the COLLEGIAN, a movement is now under way to form an organization among the non-fraternity men, 1,000 in number. With this in view, a meeting of representative non-fraternity men, as well as the three upper class classes in the Dean Warnock and Coach Bezdek, was held Tuesday evening. At this it was decided to hold a big mass meeting next Monday evening in the Auditorium at seven o'clock, at which all non-fraternity men are requested to be present. The program includes speeches by Bezdek, Warnock, and Harlow. The first mentioned will tell what the Penn State Union will do for the students, how he intends working out his mass athletics system, which has been emphasized so strongly in the past, especially in a magazine article by Sgt. Tanager, recently reprinted in this paper. Dean Warnock will speak of the wonderful opportunity for the success of the "Union" plan at Penn State, and will show how it has succeeded in other colleges. "Dick" Harlow will explain what the "Old-New Penn State Spirit" is and what it is to do. In order that organization may be facilitated the town has been divided into districts and men from each district will be seated together in the mass meeting. Each man is urged therefore to find out what district he is in and its number, and to be ready to reach the Auditorium Monday night. He can readily find his group. These districts and their numbers are as follows: (1) Albion, Beaver, Burrows, College, Haver, Colder, Allen, (2) Beaver, Frazier, Colder, Allen, Burrows, (3) Beaver, Allen, College, Frazier, (4) Beaver, Foster, Allen, Frazier, (5) Beaver, Foster, Frazier, Burrows, Haver, Atterton, Foster, (6) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (7) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (8) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (9) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (10) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (11) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (12) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (13) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (14) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (15) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (16) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (17) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (18) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (19) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (20) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster.

ENGINEERING CLUBS FORM ORGANIZED UNIT

The various engineering societies of the college are planning to form an inter-society organization. This body will take in all the members of the present societies but will not affect the present organizations. The various societies will retain their own officers and will hold their individual meetings, but in addition, joint meetings of all the clubs will be held at various times during the year and officers will be elected for this group. The formation of this larger body is intended to bring the various groups into closer relationship with each other and to bring about a closer union between them. It is hoped that this joining of forces will enable the engineering societies to undertake larger and better work in behalf of the students.

To Publish Magazine

One of the most important reasons for the formation of the combined engineering society is to form a basis for the publication of an engineering magazine. The need for such a journal has been felt for a long time and the present time is thought opportune for the undertaking. Several years ago an engineering magazine called the "Penn State Engineer" was launched but did not meet with much success on account of lack of cooperation and for various other reasons. The proposed magazine will have the backing not only of the Engineering Society, but of Dean Sackett of the School of Engineering as well. Dean Sackett is heartily in favor of the proposed plan and is doing all he can to forward it. The magazine will be devoted purely to engineering subjects. It will contain articles of current interest to the engineering students, articles by the students and outside men on engineering subjects and will in short, be all that a college engineering magazine should be. It is hoped to start publication at the opening of the next year.

(Continued on fifth page)

COLLEGE WOMEN TO HEAR NOTED LECTURER

Miss Helen M. Bennett, of the Chicago Bureau of Occupations, will be the guest of the college on Tuesday and Wednesday, December ninth and tenth. Miss Bennett is a graduate of the University of Chicago and was for many years the chief woman reporter on the Chicago Tribune. When the Chicago branch of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae started the Bureau of Occupations for trained women, Miss Bennett was asked to assume the management.

At two-thirty, Wednesday afternoon, she will lecture to the vocational Home Economics girls on "Home Economics, a Solvent for Industrial Unrest." At eight o'clock, in the Auditorium, there will be a public lecture on "Changed Opportunities for Women since the War." All women students are expected to attend and others interested are also welcome. An admission fee of twenty-five cents. During the day of December tenth, Miss Bennett will hold conferences with women students, appointments for which will be made through the office of the Dean of Women.

REGISTER FINDS IT NECESSARY TO HAVE A PERSONAL INTERVIEW

The Registrar finds it necessary to have a personal interview at once with all Seniors who expect to take their degree at the mid-year convention. Such Seniors are asked to call on Mr. Stephens at his office as promptly as possible.

NON-FRATERNITY MEN TO HOLD BIG MASS MEETING

Bezdek and Warnock to Present Plan of Organizing 1400 Students at Gathering Monday Night

MOVEMENT MEANS MUCH FOR FUTURE OF COLLEGE

TAFT DISCUSSES PLAN FOR PERMANENT PEACE

Ex-president's Lecture Pleases Vast Audience—Approves of League Adoption

On the Saturday evening before Thanksgiving William Howard Taft addressed a capacity audience in the Auditorium on the subject of the "League of Nations." Contrary to what might have been expected, Mr. Taft treated it in an entirely non-partisan manner, handling the subject with the ease and simple eloquence that marked his use of artificial sarcasm on the opponents of the plan for peace drew applause from his audience.

Mr. Taft began his discussion by telling the purpose of the League of Nations and showed that it is a plan by which any chance of war is reduced to a minimum. He continued by explaining the functions of the Council and the Assembly. The ex-President then brought forth the four main factors of the League which will serve to prevent war. These factors were the reduction of armament, the prevention of disputes by peaceful negotiation and lastly the use of open diplomacy.

His next discussion made plain that he was strongly in favor of the adoption of the treaty, even with the reservations which will be expected. He stated that the treaty should not form the basis for the coming presidential campaign. His concluding appeal was directed to the young men, to whom he pictured a generation of grand children inquiring as to the stand that grandfather took on the momentous question of the League of Nations.

ENGINEERING CLUBS FORM ORGANIZED UNIT

The various engineering societies of the college are planning to form an inter-society organization. This body will take in all the members of the present societies but will not affect the present organizations. The various societies will retain their own officers and will hold their individual meetings, but in addition, joint meetings of all the clubs will be held at various times during the year and officers will be elected for this group. The formation of this larger body is intended to bring the various groups into closer relationship with each other and to bring about a closer union between them. It is hoped that this joining of forces will enable the engineering societies to undertake larger and better work in behalf of the students.

To Publish Magazine

One of the most important reasons for the formation of the combined engineering society is to form a basis for the publication of an engineering magazine. The need for such a journal has been felt for a long time and the present time is thought opportune for the undertaking. Several years ago an engineering magazine called the "Penn State Engineer" was launched but did not meet with much success on account of lack of cooperation and for various other reasons. The proposed magazine will have the backing not only of the Engineering Society, but of Dean Sackett of the School of Engineering as well. Dean Sackett is heartily in favor of the proposed plan and is doing all he can to forward it. The magazine will be devoted purely to engineering subjects. It will contain articles of current interest to the engineering students, articles by the students and outside men on engineering subjects and will in short, be all that a college engineering magazine should be. It is hoped to start publication at the opening of the next year.

(Continued on fifth page)

NOTED Y. M. C. A. MAN TO BE SUNDAY VISITOR SPEAKER

Mr. Charles E. Hursey of New York will be the speaker at the Y. M. C. A. visitor services next Sunday. Mr. Hursey is a graduate of the University of Michigan and since taking his degree has been widely associated with association work. He was formerly the head of the South American Y. M. C. A. Association, leaving that post to become an associate of John R. Mott on the International Y. M. C. A. Committee. He is at present the secretary of that committee and in charge of the Foreign Students work for America. A man with so varied an experience and who undoubtedly prove a great attraction and have an important message to present.

NOTICE FROM REGISTRAR

The complete list of students' names, arranged alphabetically and according to classes, has been posted on the bulletin board on Old Main. Each student should look and if his full and correct name is not given in a list he has been made, he is requested to go to the Registrar's office and have the necessary correction made. All corrections should be made as soon as possible, not later than December 20th, as the list for the catalog goes to the printer January 1, 1920.

With the old Penn State fight and spirit, the knowledge of the faith of the student body behind them, both those watching the game, and those "back in the Auditorium," Coach Bezdek's "boys" exhibited one of the finest, snappiest and cleanest football contests ever witnessed on a college gridiron when they tracked the Pitt panther in his lair on Thanksgiving Day and administered to him a severe defeat. The score, 20 to 0, was adequate revenge for a belated spurt, being completely outplayed by the Nittany Lions. Coach Bezdek's intensive training schedule of the days previous to the contest were well repaid by the wonderful team play of his proteges. Higgins' work, his touchdown, Robb's generalship, Hess's line-bucking, and Way's sprint for a touchdown were little less than phenomenal. Andy Hastings and Davies were Pitt's sole luminaries, with Hastings far above the rest.

With the opening of the game, Pitt got a flying start at the goal after the Blue and White had tumbled and lost ground by a poor punt. With the ball on State's five yard line, Pitt was unable to take it over and lost the oval on downs.

passing "Gang" Way! "Charlie," although having trouble in the early part of the game in holding the ball, managed to find the oval and when he did, neatly tucked it under his arm and stroled through Pitt's team for huge gains, and the 63-yard run for the touchdown was an example of the distinctive State back's steetness. Hess, the burly fullback, tore and battered the Pitt line into a pulp. He was aided by the hard work of the four and five yards which he clipped off each time, went a long way to the numerous first downs which the Blue and White piled up.

How It All Began

Hastings kicked-off and Way received the ball on State's three-yard line, returning it to the 27-yard line. Way was hurt in this play but after a few minutes resumed his place amid great applause on all sides. Robb then failed to gain around left end and Hess went back to punt. A fake punt formation, Snell fumbled the oval, but recovered it with a loss of two yards. Again Hess went back to punt, and partially blocked, the ball went straight up in the air and Ewing of Pitt recovered on the Blue and White 23-yard line. Then the Pitt machine began to work. Davies however, failed to gain around right end, while Hastings went through the left side of the line for three yards. Hastings again made three yards off right tackle and Penn State was immediately penalized for off-side play. Thus Pitt gained her first down, with the ball on Penn State's 15-yard line. Davies went through center for one yard. Hastings picked his way through the line for three and two yards respectively. With one yard to go for the first down, Davies failed to gain and it was State's ball on the six-yard line.

ETA KAPPA NU ELECTIONS

C. A. Daugherty '20 H. Weir '21
F. D. Jackson '20 H. A. Dambly '21
D. J. Hickey '21 B. C. Stauffer '21
L. C. Weber '21 A. S. Redenbach '21
H. P. Yerts '21

SKULL AND BONES ELECTIONS

R. L. Foster '20 A. B. Shirik '20
H. M. Parent '21

With the preliminary step toward the organization of the college "Union" as outlined by Dean Warnock in the last issue of the COLLEGIAN, a movement is now under way to form an organization among the non-fraternity men, 1,000 in number. With this in view, a meeting of representative non-fraternity men, as well as the three upper class classes in the Dean Warnock and Coach Bezdek, was held Tuesday evening. At this it was decided to hold a big mass meeting next Monday evening in the Auditorium at seven o'clock, at which all non-fraternity men are requested to be present. The program includes speeches by Bezdek, Warnock, and Harlow. The first mentioned will tell what the Penn State Union will do for the students, how he intends working out his mass athletics system, which has been emphasized so strongly in the past, especially in a magazine article by Sgt. Tanager, recently reprinted in this paper. Dean Warnock will speak of the wonderful opportunity for the success of the "Union" plan at Penn State, and will show how it has succeeded in other colleges. "Dick" Harlow will explain what the "Old-New Penn State Spirit" is and what it is to do. In order that organization may be facilitated the town has been divided into districts and men from each district will be seated together in the mass meeting. Each man is urged therefore to find out what district he is in and its number, and to be ready to reach the Auditorium Monday night. He can readily find his group. These districts and their numbers are as follows: (1) Albion, Beaver, Burrows, College, Haver, Colder, Allen, (2) Beaver, Frazier, Colder, Allen, Burrows, (3) Beaver, Allen, College, Frazier, (4) Beaver, Foster, Allen, Frazier, (5) Beaver, Foster, Frazier, Burrows, Haver, Atterton, Foster, (6) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (7) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (8) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (9) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (10) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (11) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (12) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (13) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (14) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (15) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (16) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (17) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (18) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (19) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster, (20) Beaver, Foster, Atterton, Foster.

With the opening of the game, Pitt got a flying start at the goal after the Blue and White had tumbled and lost ground by a poor punt. With the ball on State's five yard line, Pitt was unable to take it over and lost the oval on downs.