STATE COLLEGE, PA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 17, 1920

PRICE FIVE CENTS

MRS. PANKHURST HERE SATURDAY

International Figure to Give Lecture in Auditorium on Her Experiences in Russia

Penn State is to have the honor of having the most prominent woman in the world next Saturday evening when Emmeline Pankhurst appears here to deliver a lecture on "What I Saw in Russia". Mrs. Pankhurst comes to State College under the auspices of the Phi Kappa Phi Society and is the second representative of international fame to be brought here by this organization, the first being ex-President Taft.

When she broke out in August, 1914, Emmeline Pankhurst showed the true greatness of her character. From her exile in France she returned to London, declared a truce of all suffrage militancy and offered her services to the government. Her husband had her labor troubles during the war and up and down the length of England and Wales went Mrs. Pankhurst and her daughter, fighting strikes, studying their means and eloquence against the ruminations of labor agitators and German agents.

After the signing of the armistice, Mrs. Pankhurst visited Russia and devoted her entire time to the study of social conditions in the various parts of the empire. She studied the purpose and reason of Bolshevism and is well qualified to tell what it means and its consequences. To make "Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst" a "Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst" as she is in Russia, as she has seen its shadow crossing Great Britain and the United States, is to miss hearing one of the most able, inasmuch as the material which she uses is gained from personal observations.

Relay Team Loses in New York Meet

After seemingly assured of an easy victory in the early stages of the most important indoor season, the Penn State medley relay team, competing for the Senior Medley Relay Championship of the United States at the A. U. Indoor Meet at New York City last Saturday night, was forced to yield to defeat because of an unexpected accident to its anchor man, "Larry" Shields '21.

Freshman Quartet May Go to Panama

Arrangements are under way whereby the Penn State Freshman Medley Quartet may be the recipients of a concert tour to the Isthmus of Panama. If the offer is accepted they will leave at the close of school in June. Professor Robinson applied for the trip recently and very attractive offers from Washington that the authorities are considering the proposition and all indications point toward their selection.

EXCELLENT POSITIONS OPEN FOR TEACHERS

At the present time, there is a number of excellent openings for teachers next fall at very attractive salaries. Any one seeking information on these should see Dr. D. A. Anderson, head of the Department of Education, any time on Thursday or Friday at the office at his office in Room 21 of the Liberal Arts Building. Dr. Anderson is chairman of the Board of Recommendations, and in addition to having a list of excellent positions open for teachers, has also a record of openings in various other lines of work.

COMPLETE BASEBALL SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Games with Yale, Princeton and California Feature Card—Faculty Committee Approves List

Penn State's baseball schedule has been completed and in itself comprises the longest and most difficult ever put before a diamond team. Twenty-five games have been scheduled, twelve of which will be played on Beaver field, a southern trip opens the season and later on, in May, a northern, western and eastern trip will successively be taken. Yale will be met both at Washington, D. C. and New Haven, Conn., two contests, which it is expected will prove hardest on the schedule. Likewise Princeton will be met away and at home, including Fortham, Army, Colgate and Syracuse will be of a type of contest to test the mettle of the local diamond stars.

PRINCETON TO CONTEST IN LAST DUAL MEET

Orange and Black to Bring Strong Wrestling Seven Here—Last Meet Before Intercollegiate

In the last meet before the intercollegiate wrestling meet in Philadelphia, the Penn State matmen will compete with the Princeton team in the Orange and Black dual. The Orange and Black did not enter a team in the intercollegiate for the last two years and this is the first time in several years that the New Jersey team has competed in the dual. At the beginning of the year the Orange and Black aggregation was looked upon as a strong contender for the championship but their success this year has been very doubtful. The meet is looked upon by many as an easy one but the team is not to be despised regardless of their many reversals because several of the winners have compelled men to end themselves to the limit to win. Reversals by Penn, Cornell, and Columbia cannot be looked down upon inasmuch as they give a decided advantage to the team, and inasmuch as two of these teams proved to be suitable opponents for the Blue and White team away from their own floors.

DAIRY PRODUCTION SHORT—HORN'S RETURN TO FAIRMS

An interesting fact is shown from the blanks filled out by the Short-Course Dairy Production students. Or the first ten men entering in dairy work in production, all but three returned to their own farms. This fact has been the source of much encouragement. These men both put into practice the teachings of the college regarding proper methods of maintaining and increasing the fertility of the soil, the proper use of dairy herds and improved methods of dairying, all of which will mean much for the agricultural development of Pennsylvania.

"REHAB" MINSTREL SHOW NEXT WEEK

The men of the Rehabilitation Club are making final arrangements for their initial entertainment, to be staged in Schwab Auditorium on Friday evening, March the twenty-sixth at eight o'clock. A varied and interesting program has been planned with the view of furnishing amusement for at least two hours. Besides the minstrel and an Olio, one act comedy is to be given, that is sure to make a hit. It is entitled, "On the Morn of the Eleventh". Also, Miss Ethel Sparks is to give an "Interpretation" dance. The ability of Miss Sparks as a most pleasing artist of dancing is recognized by all and therefore, this feature promises to be a great asset to the already splendid program.

VARSAITY BOXERS DOWN TORONTO

Canadians Unable to Cope With Superior Ring Tactics of Penn State

Penn State closed its boxing season last Saturday night with a decisive victory over the University of Toronto, by winning all the bouts except the heavy-weight. This is the second time that the Hittite has been here to take part in an athletic contest, having been here with their wrestling team in 1914. The tourney was a fast one and quite decisive. Friedman's bout being the only one where an extra round was required for a decision. Excellent sportsmanship prevailed throughout the evening. The visiting manager made a brief speech during the evening, expressing his thanks for the reception given to him and his men while here at State College and commenting on the excellent spirit and manifestations of sportsmanship which prevailed. Reap, sporting editor of the Public Ledger, acted as referee and judge and filled that difficult position with fairness and accuracy that could not be equalled. Kahley of the 116-pound was the first man to step into the ring. Kahley showed the most aggressiveness during the first round, dealing out to his opponent a ring of blows and a body blow. In the second round the visitor showed more signs of fight which continued until the end. The Nittany man, however, gave the greater number of blows and the extra round was given with an instant counter and was given the decision.

Friedman met Gray of Toronto in the 125-pound class. The first round started with an aggressive fight by both men. During the second round the men were quite often forced to break away. The third round opened with hand hitting on both sides and when the round sounded neither man could be considered superior, so an extra round of two minutes was ordered to take place after the next weight had been loved, Friedman winning the decision. McFadden was the next center county man to add to the chain of victories. In less than fifteen seconds he defeated the man entered in the 145-pound class, to face Black from the first round Cooper gave his opponent heavy blows but almost in every round was met with instant counter. HONOR AMENDMENT VOTE

The vote on the two amendments to the Honor System resulted as follows: For Art. I, Sec. 3 742 Against Art. I, Sec. 3 519 For Art. III, Sec. 1 870 Against Art. III, Sec. 1 926 As a three-fourths majority vote is required to pass an amendment, it will be seen that the first of the foregoing failed, while the second one passed.

DEAN WARNOCK PRAISES STATE'S SPORTSMANSHIP

To the Editor of the COLLEGIAN: I should like to compliment the Penn State students on their sportsmanlike conduct both on the field and in the bleachers during the last several months, and also to congratulate them on receiving the praise of Mr. Reap in his article in Monday's "Public Ledger". This kind of reputation is a good one to have, and it is even better to have it when it comes from underneath.

CONSTRUCTION BEGUN ON NEW POWER PLANT

Building Will Be Erected on Site of Former Engineering Structure—To Be Up-to-date

In the past few weeks, work has been carried on over the site of the old engineering building, which was reduced by fire over a year ago, preliminary to the construction of a modern power plant for this college. The building to be erected will conform with the architecture of the present units and the proposed administration building for the Science Engineering and will be constructed as speedily and with as much endeavor as is possible with the funds at hand. It was found best to rebuild on the old site, first from the standpoint of the student, second, from an economic standpoint. The old foundation, as much as remains of it, will be used with the necessary extensions made from them for the construction of the new building.

REPORTERS NEEDED FOR COUNTY WORK

College Publicity Department Wishes to Secure a Student Reporter for Each County

To have a student reporter for each county in the state is a plan recently inaugurated by the college publicity department. It is steadily taking form as one of the best means for keeping the people of Pennsylvania well informed as to the progress and activities of their college.

The cooperation of the various student county clubs has been sought by the department in carrying out this scheme, and results obtained to date have been excellent. Speaking of this work the director of college publicity says: "We have had a great demand from editors in the past few months for news items concerning the activities of students at Penn State from their respective counties. It is a big proposition to handle for the county. In this way, the county reporter idea has been started. The plan is to have one man from each county to write 200 words every two or three weeks in personal letters to handle for the publicity department. A discussion on three or four students would be enough to carry each letter, and sufficient general college news could be included to make a full news article that all county papers would be glad to print.
