

NEW COURSES INCLUDED IN SUMMER CURRICULUM

Only a few weeks intervene before the director of the work will commence his session at Penn State and judging from the magnitude of the plans made by the director of the work it will eclipse all others of former years.

- June 25—Registration for six-weeks courses as follows: Summer Session for Teachers, State School for Librarians, School for Continuation School Teachers, School for Supervisors of Home-making and Industrial Education.

ALUMNI OPPOSED TO AMALGAMATION

The Alumni Club of Erie, at a meeting held June 1st, took the following action, and requested me to communicate it to your publication.

Whereas it has been proposed to the Commission on Revision of the Constitution, that an amalgamation of the University of Pennsylvania, the University of Pittsburgh, and Pennsylvania State College, be effected, the federation to be governed by an over board of trustees, and

Whereas Penn State Alumni Club of Erie, believing that such a move would in every way be detrimental to the best interests of the college, unanimously does hereby declare its unalterable opposition to any corporate union with any other educational institution.

We believe that Pennsylvania State College, as a land grant college of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is big enough to stand alone.

Very truly yours, A. W. Mitchell

Inasmuch as such a movement will mean great things for the county as well as for the state, it is to be hoped that all who so desire will be present. Entertainment will be furnished throughout the day on the large estate of Major Bond and an enjoyable day may be expected.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HEARS TEACHERS' NEEDS

Retiring Head of U. S. Chamber of Commerce Tells Of Present Emergency.

In an address delivered recently before the eighth annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce, Homer L. Ferguson, retiring president of that organization, called upon the business men of the United States to give their active and earnest support to the movement to secure a wage consistent with present costs of living for American school teachers.

Teachers and preachers—and both come within the same category—are so far under-paid at this time that they are only able to make as much in a month as the ordinary laborer makes in two weeks, or even less," declared Mr. Ferguson.

"Years of study are necessary to prepare teachers for their vocation, and a high certificate of character is required. And, yet we wonder about the spread of socialistic ideas when those who teach our children know that under the beneficent plan of education in our great country they are paid one-half of what they ought to make under present conditions."

"Now, we cannot expect them to grow wildly excited about the great benefit of a capitalistic form of property owning and operation of industry, unless we as business men perform the duty which we owe the teachers of the United States to see that they receive a reasonable compensation for their services. And if our taxes must be increased, for heaven's sake, let them be increased for the noble men and women teaching our children; for the people who are giving their lives to an honorable service."

"Our function, as a great business organization, is primarily a function of education. We attempt to exert no force, we make no threat as to vote or ballot, we represent no political party; but we do stand for education. We believe that on the education of our people as to the truth of economics, as to the truth of production, as to the truth of what is the matter with them, depends the future prosperity of this Republic. To impart such truth is one of the functions of the National Chamber. But there are other educators who are as important, if not more important, than we, and they are those who educate the young and impart learning and knowledge to the future citizenry. As a business man it does seem to me that we should give the greatest consideration, each in our own community, to this vital question."

CLASS DAY EXERCISES TO BE HELD ON TUESDAY

The Senior Class has completed plans which indicate a very successful class day. The last class meeting of the year will be held at nine o'clock Tuesday morning and the class will assemble immediately after that meeting in front of Old Main where the class picture will be taken. The class will then proceed in a body accompanied Miss Emma Holman will read the class poem and the Pipe Oration will be made by J. G. Mason. Stan Cohen will make the class presentation. If it comes will dedicate the class memorial and present it to the College. Hon. H. Walton Mitchell, acceding for the college. It is also planned to have the various schools present a stunt representative of their work.

VALEDICTORIAN HAS HAD ACTIVE CAREER

At a recent meeting of the Senior class, A. H. Staud, of the School of Engineering was elected valedictorian. Mr. Staud won this signal honor through his popularity and scholarship. He has taken an active part in the affairs of the college and his class, and has won honors in scholastic work. He is a member of Beta Beta Beta, Phi Kappa Phi, and Phi Kappa Psi Fraternities, and has won both the John W. White and Louise Carnegie Scholarships. He is Vice-president of his class for the Senior year and chairman of the Honor Committee. As a student in the Electro-Chemical Engineering course he was elected to the staff of the Penn State Engineers by the Electro-Chemical Engineering Society.

ALL ANIMAL HUSBANDRY MEN RETURNING TO FARMS

Professor W. I. Tomhave has given out a statement of the positions which have been accepted by this year's graduating class in Animal Husbandry. The demand for men in livestock work greatly exceeds the available supply.

Out of thirty-five graduates, eleven are returning to the home farm, seven have accepted managerial jobs on livestock farms, four are taking farm jobs for additional experience, along special lines, and two are going to Western livestock ranches.

The fact that such a high percentage is returning to agricultural pursuits is significant in connection with the future agricultural interests of Pennsylvania. Five men are in commercial agricultural positions, such as sub-men, one is going with a big meat packing firm, three are county agents, one goes to a State Agricultural College as instructor in Animal Husbandry, four are to teach in vocational schools, and the remaining two expect to continue their studies for advanced degrees in livestock work.

A fact:

At this, the very heart of Wall Street itself, one would naturally expect only high-priced cigarettes to be popular. But Fatima has proved an exception.

Fatima's popularity at the Stock Exchange is, in fact, so great that only one cigarette—a high priced one, of course—equals or leads Fatima in sales.
