

Summer Collegian

Published weekly during the Summer Session in the interests of The Pennsylvania State College and Summer Session students.

G. W. Sullivan - - - - Editor
T. B. Foster - - - - Business Manager

This is the official newspaper of the Summer Session.

Subscription - - - - $25
Single Copy - - - - 05

Office—Nittany Printing and Publishing Company Building, 10 West College Avenue.

Office hours 8 to 9 A. M., 1 to 2 P. M.

Entered at the State College post-office as second class mail matter, June 30 1915

TUESDAY, JUNE 29, 1920

THE COLLEGIAN POLICY

Another Summer Session opens and Penn State once more welcomes to its campus hundreds of visiting teachers and summer school students. The 1920 session promises to be the greatest ever held here, with more students, more teachers and more courses than ever before. It is the hope of the COLLEGIAN, that the summer will be a success in every way.

In pursuing its policy of furthering the interests of The Pennsylvania State College and the Summer Session students, the COLLEGIAN' hopes to give you an improved newspaper during the coming six weeks. It will be our aim to give you real news in addition to keeping you posted on the routine progress of the session. A weekly calendar will appear on the first page each week and all of the coming events will be listed in advance. It is the hope of the editor that news items of personal interest will be turned in each week so that the paper can be made more of a summer session paper. Such items can be left on the desk at the Collegian office or may be left at the Summer Session office.

In the effort to give you a better paper, no attempt has been made to raise the subscription price and the same rate that has been in effect for the past five years still prevails. For that reason, we ask the support of every summer session student and teacher—not as a favor, however, for we believe that you will be getting value received. We would also like to urge that you patronize the merchants of our town, who through their generous advertising are making this paper possible. They also deserve your support.

SUPPORT AND SUBSCRIPTIONS

The success of this paper depends largely upon the support given it by the students of the Summer Session. The best support that you can possibly give is to subscribe. The SUMMER COLLEGIAN is the official newspaper of the session and has the sanction of both Dr. Sparks and Dr. Smith. In keeping the subscription rate down to that of former years, the publishers feel that they are doing their bit to keep down the high prices and that they deserve the whole-hearted support of all summer school students.

If you are not visited personally, sign up at the Summer Session office. Make sure that you will receive your issue and thus have a complete chronicle of the six weeks spent at State College. Twenty-five cents will do it. Subscribe now.

METHODIST CHURCH

ARRANGING PROGRAM
St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church has arranged two Sunday School classes for the members of the Summer Session. The Sunday School meets at 9:30 a. m. Twenty-five minutes will be spent by the teacher each week in discussing the theme and fifteen minutes will then be devoted to discussion and questions by the class. The following program for the session has been arranged.

Introduction Lesson—Professor J. T. Fay

July 1—Weekly Religious Instruction. Rev. J. V. Thompson, D. D., Supt. Young People's Dept., Board of Sunday Schools, Chicago.

July 11—Can We Believe Both in the Reign of Law and in Prayer? Rev. J. W. Lutz, pastor of St. Paul's.

July 18—Christianity and International Relations. Prof. A. E. Martin, of the department of history.

July 25—Helps and Hints for the Unprepared. Mr. C. G. Simpson

August 1—The Origins of Music. Professor C. G. Simpson, department of mathematics

Campus Colyum

Dear Subscribers and Others

After much effort, we have persuaded the editor to give us some space in his news sheet.

We shall endeavor to fill such space with wise and otherwise sayings each week. Deal with us gently!

Our first hard job was to get a name to work under. We tried most everything, from "breezy bits" to "summer spouts," but finally decided upon the one which adorns the head of this colyum.

You know, we can always tell about these here summer school teachers. The ones who were here last year came in on Sunday, the ones who have been here numerous years, arrived on Saturday, but the ones who never tried to get into this town before didn't come until yesterday.

Yes, it is pretty hard to get here, but we admit that we are worth the effort after you arrive!

Our cub reporter got real excited yesterday. He thought there was a mob scene on the Co-op Corner, but found that it was only boarding house keepers "rushing" the new arrivals.

From our many years of study on the subject, we have found that each teacher, upon deciding to attend our Summer Session goes through the following periods.

- ANTICIPATION
- EMBARKATION
- FLUCTUATION
- PERSPIRATION
- DESTINATION
- APPREHENSION
- DEMONSTRATION
- FASCINATION
- JOLLIFICATION

Couldn't think of any more, so you can add to 'em yourself.

Things you should always do—Register early, attend classes regularly, and SUBSCRIBE TO THE SUMMER COLLEGIAN IMMEDIATELY.

With which good advice, we will consider this enough for one issue!

NEW LANGUAGE COURSE

A round-table course in books and methods of modern language instruction is being offered by Professor I. L. Foster of the Romance Language Department. The class will be held one hour a week at four o'clock in room 226 Main. The first meeting will be held this afternoon.

The purpose of the course is to acquaint those teaching or expecting to teach with methods most commonly used and with the books obtainable for work in different grades of schools. No registration is necessary for the course, and all who are interested are cordially invited to attend.

Ice Cream

and

Cakes

of Quality

Harvey Brothers

220 E. College Ave.

East Nittany Avenue

The PENN STATE PHOTO SHOP

Keep a Photographic Record of Your Summer Session Days at Penn State. Remember we Have at Your Service One of the Best Equipped Photographic Studios in Pennsylvania for Developing and Printing Your Films.

We also Guarantee to Produce the Best Photographs that You have ever Had Taken of Yourself.

The PENN STATE PHOTO SHOP

Twenty-four-Hour Service in Developing and Printing