

Summer Collegian
Published weekly during the Summer Session in the interests of The Pennsylvania State College and Summer Session students

G. W. Sullivan - - - - Editor
T. B. Foster - - - - Business Manager

This is the official newspaper of the Summer Session
Subscription - - - - $25
Single Copy - - - - .05
Office—Nittany Printing and Publishing Company Building, 10 West College Avenue

Entered at the State College post-office as second class mail matter, June 30, 1915

WEDNESDAY, JULY 7, 1920

THE GREATEST EVER

The expectations of all those connected with the Summer Session were fulfilled last Tuesday, when early on the second day of registration, all previous enrollment figures went by the board and the 1920 session set a new high-water mark for the future Summer Sessions to aim at. From a very meagre beginning eleven years ago, the Penn State Summer Session for Teachers has continued to grow, until this year there are approximately thirteen hundred students enrolled.

The SUMMER COLLEGIAN looks upon such an enrollment with pride, for it is an indication of just what Penn State is doing to further the growth and development of education throughout the state and nation. Such a rapid growth can mean but one thing and that is that this college is performing a much-needed service to the teachers of the state. The COLLEGIAN wishes to congratulate all those who have been responsible for the steady growth of the summer school, and also those who, by their presence, are making this the greatest Summer Session in the history of Penn State.

WHY NOT?

One of the greatest incentives to do things in this world is rivalry. The Great success of our American sports and the resultant enthusiasm in them is due entirely to the rivalry existing between the teams, whether they be college teams or otherwise. There is hardly a campaign or "drive" launched in which rival teams are not selected to strive for the honor of getting the largest returns. In fact, it is almost safe to say that without rivalry and competition the world would be a very dull place to live in.

But to bring this rather general ramble back to State College, who not have a little rivalry here during the Summer Session? By that, we do not by any chance mean rivalry over individuals, although we presume that that is bound to occur in any case. According to the list of dormitories given out there are nineteen fraternity houses being occupied by women, in addition to the houses on the campus and the residences in town. Men, of course, are a little more scattered, so that they would furnish a more complicated problem. But with these twenty-five or more dormitories, what a wonderful chance we have to encourage rivalry.

How is it to be done? The editor feels that there are many ways in which competition between the houses could be developed. In athletics, why not have a tennis tournament with one or two representatives from each dormitory, the winning house to receive some suitable award. Or a general sport program or field meet of some sort, with teams entered from each house, might arouse quite a bit of spirited rivalry. A prize might be offered to the house pulling off the most original stunt during the Session—such as the dramatic production staged at one of the fraternity houses last week. The COLLEGIAN is willing to start up a little rivalry of its own to see which dormitory can get the most notes printed in the paper each week (N. B. The editor reserves the right to censor all such matter, however.)

There are so many ways in which the idea could be developed that it seems a shame to allow the opportunity to slide by. The COLLEGIAN feels confident that the girls in the various houses would be more than ready to enter into the spirit of the idea and to carry it out once it was started. The COLLEGIAN competition will start at once and it is up to the various houses to turn in the notes. They should be left either at the COLLEGIAN office on West College Avenue or at the Summer Session office, 121 Old Main. Can the record-breaking summer crowd of 1920 put it across? Why not?

Campus Colyum

Second Spasm.

Having spent the past week in studying the likes and dislikes of our record-breaking bunch of summer students, we are about to break loose.

We want to go on record as saying that we never worked so hard for a quarter in all our life as we did last Monday and Tuesday!

One thing that made it nice though, All the good-looking girls subscribed!

Honestly, the way some held on to their quarters, you might have thought they were ehying at a gold brick.

Fortunately the weather was hot, for some of those turndowns were exceedingly chilly.

We asked yo editor which house had the nicest girls and he said he didn't know—he'd have to look at the subscription list!

Speaking of girls, we understand that there are some dramatic stars out at the A. D. S. house. That's what our cub reporter says, anyhow!

We thought we would please yo ed, so we asked him to write us some dope under the title of "Little Journeys by the Editor." No luck. He refused.

Ain't It the Truth!
To pick up girls is not good form, You said it!

'Tis best to meet them at the dorm, You said it!
Dut when a nice one passes by, And looks you squarely in the eye, Now 'twould stoop to reason why? You said it!

Reports have it that there are more men here than usual. They must have remembered that it was Leap Year.

Now that the "glorious Fourth" is over, we ain't feel safe in going just the Co-op Corner.

LITE'S CIRCULEST BLOW Over- sleeping on week-day mornings, and then being called early on Sunday!

SUMMER SESSION PAGEANT

'The Golden Dragon' has been selected as the annual Summer Session pageant this year and it will be produced in the Open Air Theatre on Friday, July 27. It is a story of Old Japan, full of beautiful acting, dancing and music, and it promises to be the best pageant staged in recent years. 'The Golden Dragon' was produced during the regular college year under the auspices of the Society of Daughters of the American Revolution, and excited much favorable comment among a large audience. The pageant will be given under the direction of Miss Ethel Sparks.

DANCING CLASSES

Miss Ethel Sparks has announced the following hours for her dancing classes: Beginners' Class, Tuesday and Thursday evenings from seven to eight. Advanced Class, Tuesday and Thursday evenings from seven-thirty to eight-thirty. Both classes will meet in the Armory.

REFRESHMENTS

PUNCH, SHERBET, ICE CREAM, FANCY CAKES

FOR DANCE, PARTY or PICNIC

Harvey Brothers 220 E. College Ave.

CHANCELLOR McCORMICK TO SPEAK TO SUMMER STUDENTS
Chancellor S. B. McCormick of the University of Pittsburgh will give an address in the Open Air Theatre on Friday evening at seven o'clock. Summer Session students are particularly fortunate in being able to hear Dr. McCormick, who is well known to regular Penn State students. The subject of his talk on Friday has not been announced but it is sure to be of great interest. Chancellor McCormick will also deliver the sermon at the Union religious service in the Open Air Theatre on Sunday evening.

LOST—ONE SUBSCRIBER
In making out the subscription cards last week, one subscriber gave a perfectly good address but failed to write down her name. Of course, this may seem like a minor detail, but it is rather a necessary one if she is to get the paper. The address given was Alpha Sigma Phi House. Will the lady in question kindly leave her name at the COLLEGIAN office in the Nittany Printing and Publishing Company Building on West College Avenue.

Club Sandwich a real treat

Sandwiches of all kinds and other Lunches to take out. Steaks, Chops, Roasts, and other good selections.

CAFETERIA

Home Made Candies
Home Made Ice Cream and Ices. Anything that you might expect from a first class Cafeteria and Confectionery.

CANDYLAND and CAFETERIA
Gregory Brothers

The Crabtree Co. Hallmark Jewlers

Watchmakers State College

GILLILAND'S DRUG STORE

THE "SERVICE FIRST" FOUNTAIN

Fresh Fruit SUNDAES and Delicious ICE CREAM SODAS

WHITMAN'S CANDIES and STATE SOUVENIRS

Nittany Inn Block State College, Pa.

Teachers for Positions Positions for Teachers See our Representative Miss Edith Ingley, 216 W. Beaver Ave., State College, American Teachers Bureau 957 Union Arcade Pittsburgh, Pa.

Wm. McEachren Frazier Street

We are Offering the Summer Session Students Our Regular 24 HOUR Service in Developing and Printing Amateur Films.

The PENN STATE PHOTO SHOP
212 E. College Ave.