One of the best known men on the list of chapel speakers for the year will address the services in the S. H. W. Auditorium next Sunday when Dr. Samuel Charles Black, president of Washington and Jefferson University will visit Penn State as college orator for the day.

The greatest football game in the eastern part of this country will take place tomorrow after at New Beaver field when the Big Green team from Dartmouth tackles Buzzel's Nittany Lions for the supremacy. Both teams are as much prepared for the fray as it has been possible to make them in the time available.

The latest line-up to be received from Hanover came in the form of a telegram from the official paper of that college last night. It places their star halfback, Shaver, a mighty negro and a mainstay of the team on the injured list and not able to take part in the game.

Mass Meeting Friday Evening.

The first event to take place will be the mass meeting in the Auditorium at six-thirty p. m. The team will be announced at this time and a general information bureau will be maintained. Friday evening all the fraternities and clubs including the University Club will have an open house so that the old men will have an opportunity to look up old acquaintances, and make new ones.

The two biggest events of the entire week end will undoubtedly be the football game and the evening Alumni Smoker in the Armory. One of the largest crowds that has ever witnessed a game on New Beaver Field is expected to attend. Twice as many alumni have been secured from Penn State than ever before and a large Dartmouth delegation is expected. Besides the three special cars which are bringing Dartmouth alumni to the game from Ohio, New York and the eastern states, there are a number of Hanover undergraduates that will accompany the football squad. The New Englanders consider Saturday night the game for the Green team and are determined to support their men to the limit. They realize that the Nittany Lion is out for blood and they hope to prevent the Blue and White eleven from getting revenge for last year's defeat.

Lots of Spirit at Smoker.

In the evening at eight-fifteen p. m. the big Alumni Get-together and Smoker will be held in the Armory. Governor Sproull will speak on an appropriate subject and then the evening will be given over to renewing acquaintances. Here the old grads can talk a long-separated college friend and over the elder and protels recount all that happened since graduation. The Freshman Quartette of last year will be there and render several selections. Also song leaflets will be distributed and the old familiar songs will be sung once again. The members of the two upper classes are invited to the affair and will add to the festivity of the occasion. Refreshments in the form of cider and protels as well as smokes have been provided.

Elaborate provisions have been made by the Alumni Day Committee to take care of every returning graduate.

The representatives of the committee will be at the Armory at five and will have a chart of all the rooms in town available for the visitors. In the possibility that these rooms are not sufficient to accommodate everyone, two hundred cots have been secured from the military authorities at Harrisburg and will be set up, with blankets, in the Armory to take care of the overflow. Extra meals will be served at Messalister Hall.

DEAN STODDARD HEADS VOCATIONAL DEPARTMENT

At a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees, Dean Stoddard of the Liberal Arts School was appointed Supervisor of the Vocational Teachers Training in the college. Courses are conducted in the Schools of Agriculture, Engineering, Mining, and Home Economics and are given for the purpose of training teachers in agriculture and the various trades and industries of the country.
