W. and J.—The informal reception which was held in the gymnasium on the evening of the 11th was a very successful event. spirit of the present with that of his time. Earl Hewitt, who played football here twenty-one years ago, told of the defeat of West Point which was celebrated in high fashion and urged all to back the team through victory or defeat. Carl Fox, Freshman '96, who was one of the few who letter men, displayed fine spirit and told all to carry the pep of the evening to the game and to live it always. His slogan was "Never say die until the whistle blows." C. W. Hoppenstull, Sr. expressed the appreciation of the Alumni for the splendid assistance which was given in improving the conditions. He, too, told of the old days when there were but two hundred students.

Next on the list came the one and only Huga Beziek who thrilled everyone with his optimistic words. When Coach Beziek becomes enthusiastic over the prospects of the game, it is time for all to get in the stride and that is just what happened. He said, "We'll take our chances tomorrow. The squad is hitting its stride as is Bill Martin and Ben Johnson. It is of low to try to repay the student body for the welcome which the team received after the Dartmouth defeat in the game. We have lots about the 'Big Green team' but Penn Staters are just as good as the Big Green team. State's eleven is possible. A little better than the other men Dartmouth will have to use every possible ounce of strength in the game. Every good man will be needed. We're not cocky, we're just going to go in there and fight and let the best team win." He then urged all to be patient in respect to the promised improvements and building of the recreation hall and tennis courts, adding that the Alumni are giving those matters careful consideration.

James A. Lyden '14, gave his new song, entitled "The Nittany Lion" its initial trial and it met with much success. Melvin '17, who was a former varsity song leader, led the audience in "Victory" which was followed by the Alma Mater.

MISS POND SPEAKS ON WOMEN'S VOCATIONAL WORK
At a regular meeting of the Women's Student Government Association Monday evening, Miss Millicent Pond spoke on the subject of personal work. Personal experience in industrial occupations, she said, is the best preparation for giving vocational guidance to young women interested in similar work. She entered the factory of the Winchester Arms Company in New Haven and worked from the bottom up in order to discover the peculiar needs of each department of the industry. At the end of this period of apprenticeship, Miss Pond supervised the employment of all the women of the firm.
Miss Pond is the first speaker to appear before the women students in the interests of vocational guidance. This work is in the hands of the vocational guidance committee of the W. S. G., A. who are bringing various speakers here to speak to the women students in order to help them choose their career.
