Playing the next to last contest of the schedule for this year, the Blue and White gridiron warriors were unable to do better than obtain a tie score against the mauling men of Lehigh University in one of the most loosely played games a Penn State team has exhibited this late in the season. The Lehigh men were on edge for the contest and had received a strong example of student backing the night before the game. They were a rejuvenated aggregation and played superbly. The contest was the best that the Brown and White men have played this season. The contrary was true of the Penn State team, and although the first three quarters were very loosely played, the closing minutes of the game marked the real ability of the varsity, both in generalship and in team play. They seemed to have awoken from their lethargy and in but a few minutes, by successful aerial work and good line plunging and end runs marched through the Brown and White men for the inaugural touchdown and its resultant goal. The rally came too late however, and the contest was forced to end with a tie score, absolutely non-indicative of the relative strength of the two teams. The Lehigh touchdown was also made mostly by aerial means, and the whole game was characterized by the fact that they were unable to penetrate the varsity line.

Lehigh had a truly wonderful defense, one which was almost impenetrable in the first three quarters. Their offense was not what may be called good as is evidenced by the fact that they obtained only four first downs. The Penn State line was equally strong on the defense but lacked the punch on the offense. The backfield gained good yardage, their work was good but they lacked the punch when it was necessary.

Individual stars were not out of the question. Springsteen, of Lehigh, played his first varsity game and was a bulwark on the defense and was easily the star of the Lehigh team, the only ones coming close to him for honors being Gullik and Captain Herrington. The former was down the field under every punt and gains around his end were well nigh impossible. Rote at quarter used rare judgment and was feared by the Lehigh line. Griffith and Bents and Rauch next presented a stone wall to all the Lehigh backs. Haines and Lightner were Penn State's most consistent ground gainers and credit is shared by the former and May for the touchdown.

Lehigh's score came in the beginning of the third quarter. Lehigh got the ball on a kick on their own thirty-five line. A first down and penalty of five yards against Penn State brought the ball to their own fifty two yard line. A beautiful forward pass Rote to Herrington took the ball to the one yard line where he was downed. He got up immediately and went over the line but the ball was called back. An attempted buck through center failed and on the next play Killinger ran Rote for an eight yard loss. Savaria made two yards through the line. The next play came as a surprise when Rote hurled the ball across the goal line into the waiting arms of Gullik. The score stood seven to nothing until the last half of the fourth period when the Blue and White team carried the ball by successive line bucks and passed from their own twenty yard line to the goal line. This display of football is the one thing which gives the Nittany warriors the edge on the South Bethlehemites.

A cold northerly wind was blowing across Taylor Field when the teams lined up for the referee's whistle. Penn State had won the toss and had chosen the north end. Herrington kicking for

FRESHMEN WRESTLERS ANTICIPATE BUSY YEAR

Yearlings Preparing for Soph- Fresh Scrap—May Meet Cornell Freshmen in February

Wrestling among the first year men is taking on a different aspect since Coach Lewis took them under his supervision this week. The search of material has made "Doc" very enthusiastic and he has been devoting much time to the tutoring of the prospective wrestlers. In addition to the Fresh-Soph scrap, which is to be held on Saturday afternoon, December the eleventh and the Inter-Class meet, on Saturday, January the fifteenth, negotiations are being made whereby the Cornell Freshmen will appear here on the fifth of February.

One of the most serious handicaps to the instruction of yearlings this year has been the recreation period, which commences at four o'clock, because of a goodly number of the candidates have been unable to appear in time to obtain any real benefit from the practice. The old system of utilizing the night hours commenced last night and this will do much in overcoming the above mentioned difficulty. The schedule which calls for the Freshmen and Juniors to report on Monday and Thursday nights and the Sophomores and Seniors on Tuesday nights, will not be affected by the new ruling. Coach Lewis is especially anxious that the yearlings be put in an appearance and render assistance in coaching the first year men. In this way, everyone will be able to derive the greatest possible benefit in both the theoretical and the practical phase of the work.

A large number of candidates on hand are competing for the lightweight class while it is probable that there will be an equally large amount of men present to try for the heavyweight division. In former years, the most difficult departments to be filled were in these weights and "Doc" is anxiously awaiting the conclusion of the first season when it is hoped that a number of gridironers will report. Those who elected wrestling as their fall sport will have an opportunity to continue throughout the winter and those who will desire to come out for this sport may do so with a possibility of securing a position on the team if they will but make an earnest effort. Positions on the class teams are open for all, their eligibility being determined when the elimination trials are held.

The schedule for the Freshmen should prove a big influence in attracting a large number into making this sport their choice. It is undoubtedly the hardest one that any Freshman team has undertaken, the meet with the Cornell yearlings being the first that has ever been planned since wrestling was adopted at Penn State. The elimination trials which will soon be in operation will continue throughout the year, the winners of which will represent the class in the meets. The wrestling season at this college will be ushered in at the time of the Inter-Class meet.

DEAN KNIGHT ACTIVE IN VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE

Penn State played a part in the final organization of the International Vocational Guidance Association at Pittsburgh last week. Dean Knight was elected to the Executive Committee of the Association, which includes five undergraduates, three Deans of Women and two members from vocational bureaus in the United States. Fifty-seven colleges belong to the Association; thirty-five were represented at the recent conference by students and Deans.

PUSHBALL SCRAP TO BE HELD ON SATURDAY

Old Beaver Field Will Be Scene of Initial Scrap Between Sophomores and Freshmen

The first of the scraps between the members of the Sophomore and Freshman classes will be held on Saturday afternoon at one-thirty o'clock when they will contest the honors of the annual push ball scrap on Old Beaver Field. This will be second consecutive time for the match to be conducted since the fall of 1919. The push ball is a ball about six feet in diameter and it is inflated by the Freshmen before the scrap. The members of the Student Council will supervise the work at the scrap and A. E. Kinard '21, the chairman, has announced the following rules which will govern the scrap.

- The field, which is to be seventy-five feet long and fifty feet wide, will be roped off and no one other than the participants will be permitted to enter within this area. The push ball is about six feet in diameter and it is inflated by the Freshmen before the scrap. The members of the Student Council will supervise the work at the scrap and A. E. Kinard '21, the chairman, has announced the following rules which will govern the scrap.
1. The scrap shall consist of five periods, each of which will be five minutes in length.
2. The number of participants in each period shall not exceed one hundred men.
3. All participants shall wear rubber-soled shoes. There are no other restrictions.
4. There shall be no slugging of any kind.
5. The ball must be entirely over the line to count as a goal.
6. Should the ball be pushed outside the side lines, time shall be called and the ball put back in play again within the field.
7. As soon as one side succeeds in making a goal, the ball shall be taken back to the middle of the field and again put into play, until the five minutes have ended. The class making the greatest number of goals in the total number of periods shall be the winner of the scrap.

PENN STATE BOOTERS DEFEAT ORANGE TEAM

Blue and White Soccer Team Wins 6 to 1 Victory Over New York- ers—Traphoner Stars

The varsity soccer team trampled over the Syracuse booters in a hard fought contest by the score of 6 to 1 on the Army field last Saturday. At no time during the entire game was the final outcome in doubt, inasmuch as the team work of Coach Crowell's proteges completely outdid the Orange. Three of Penn State's goals were scored in the first half of the contest while the single Syracuse tally was also obtained during this part of the struggle. Saturday's game and let the second defeat that has been handed the New Yorkers after playing teams of such caliber as Yale, Colgate, Hamilton and Swarthmore.

Syracuse was the team of Referee Walter's English pony and elected to defend the south goal. Traphoner of Penn State, after a few minutes of play took the ball over for the first tally, and within a short time repeated his performance. Checked on by their goalkeepers, another score was added to the list when Meikle, aided by wonderful team work, sent the ball into the Syracuse goal for the third tally. The Orange, however, staged a strong comeback at this juncture of the contest and succeeded in making their first and only point in the entire game. The second half was a much harder fought period than the first, and it was only by sheer good-playing that Traphoner was able to score another goal, it coming after the ball had been booted back into the goal line for more than fifteen minutes of the half. Hazelwood and Traphoner next carried the ball over the Orange goal, thus scoring the last two points of the one-sided score. Hazelwood, Grupp, Traphoner and Meikle were the outstanding features of Penn State's forward line throughout the game, while Coddling, Inglewood, Barr, R. H. B., Worden, M. H. B., Sargent, O. H., Bothenbaw, L. H., Coddling, C. I., Traphoner, Grupp, I. L., Wellington, Inglewood, O. L., Gonak, Inglewood, Grupp, Meikle, Coddling and Traphoner. Time of play, 90 minutes. Referee—Walker, Philadelphia Referee's Association. Substitutions—Penn State, Miller for James, Rahman for Keller.

BELLEVILLE LOSES AGAIN TO FRESHMEN

Wilson and Rathgeber Score Touchdowns for the Frosh in 14 to 7 Contest

Winning 14 to 7 the Freshman football team had the hardest game of the season on their hands when they came up against Belleville Academy last Saturday afternoon at Belleville. The Academy eleven swept the Frosh off their feet in the first ten minutes of the contest, and pushed over their touchdowns to the tune of seven points lead right at the start of the game. The first year men got their bearings in the second period however and set out to tie the score. They forced the Academy to kick to recover the ball on the 48 yard line and ran it back to the middle of the field and then the drive toward the Belleville goal line. They were successful in driving the line for three yards and then Carson took off fifteen more, with a wide end run. Rathgeber made three yards on the next ten yards stretch and then on the next play Wilson was thrown in his tracks but Belleville was penalized fifteen yards and this took the ball to Belleville's fifteen yard line. The teams lined up again and Wilson was given to Wilson and the speedy half back tore through the Academy's line for a touchdown. Hamilton kicked the goal and the score was tied.

In the third quarter, neither team was able to break the 7 to 7 deadlock. The ball was in Belleville territory nearly the entire time but Penn State Freshmen were not able to achieve another touchdown. It remained for Rathgeber to make the deciding tally in the last period. This score was the result of a steady drive down the field which culminated in a line buck across the white line by the speedy half back, Rathgeber, who then kicked another touchdown in the closing minutes of the game. The ball was put into play on the Belleville quarter yard line and Rathgeber broke a run from the crowd and it looked as if Penn State would be entitled to another touchdown but he was thrown one yard from the line by a tackle and the play was nullified. The Nittany Cubs were minus the services of Mader, the left tackle, and Schoenfeld, the right guard, on account of injuries received in previous games. Johnson and Armbruster, who played these two positions in the first period, the Belleville team walked right through the Freshmen's front rank but after the first quarter the Nittany Cubs showed their training and allowed only two first downs, one of these being the result of a penalty. On the offensive the Nittany Cubs were well opening up big holes for the passage of the backfield men.

Wilson Big Ground Gainer
Wilson, the Freshman left halfback, was the biggest ground gainer and again flipped through Belleville's left line for a touchdown after the Academy men thought they had done him in. He would strike on for three or four yards more. Four times he made over ten yards with the ball, and his touchdowns were a result of a fifteen yard dash. Carson also made big advances and supplied excellent interference. He hits the line hard and is quick as a flash. He has a tendency of running too far out on end runs and getting away from his interference instead of cutting in. This interferes somewhat with his gains, but his speed is a big factor.

Rathgeber Scores Deciding Touchdown
"Ick" Rathgeber, the former Lehigh High School star, was another big ground gainer, for the Frosh. He hit the line hard and is quick as a flash. He has a tendency of running too far out on end runs and getting away from his interference instead of cutting in. This interferes somewhat with his gains, but his speed is a big factor.

The Belleville Academy eleven was a much stronger combination Saturday on the field than they were two weeks ago when the first year men met them in New Beaver Field and defeated them 27 to 0. M. Johnson, the big fullback, was a wizard at line plunging and his ability running stood him in good stead in carrying the ball. Cornwall and Singer who alternated at fullback also played a good game, Cornwall functioning in the first, last, and part of the second periods, and Singer, playing in the rest of the second, and all of the third quarter.

FRESHMEN SELECT TRIAL PRESIDENTS

Russel Armbruster, James Campbell, David Foster, James Frank and Harry Hoehner were the five freshmen elected as trial presidents at the meeting held last Wednesday evening in the Bull Pen. These men were the choice of forty-two original nominees. The number was then cut down to eight candidates and finally five men. Arthur Feinbach was elected manager of the Freshman wrestling team and Charles Wolf was elected manager of the lacrosse team.

The next meeting of the class of '21 will be held the latter part of this week. Armbruster will have charge of this meeting and the other men will have charge of the four successive meetings following their names as printed above. After each man has had a trial as president of the class the final election will be held. The treasurer of the class will be elected at a later date. This date has not yet been set but it will probably be some time during the present month. The class is being formed along the same line as the Class of '22. President Rauch of the Junior class has presided at all the class meetings and Secretary Cupp of the same class has had charge of the minutes and the secretary's books.

DEBATERS PLAN TRIANGLE MEETS

Twenty-four Hour Tilt With Princeton Will Be Held Next February

Present indications point to one of the most active seasons in debating that has ever been experienced at Penn State. Over twenty-five men are working under the tutelage of Professor J. W. Miller of the Department of English under this direction, and it is hoped that within a few weeks, the Blue and White debaters will have acquired the fine points of the art and will be ready to meet the teams of other institutions. Two triangle debates and a twenty-four hour one with Princeton have already been arranged and at the present time the questions to be discussed in the two former ones are under consideration.

The first of the triangle debates is to be held on February twenty-fifth and at this time three institutions, Penn State, with each other for a contest. Each school will have at least two teams representing it, the one team upholding the affirmative side of the proposition selected and the other team arguing from the negative viewpoint. The teams competing in the first triangle include Dickinson, Bucknell and Penn State. Although several institutions are under consideration at the present time, no single one has been selected as yet, and as a result actual work can not be started on the selection until such a time as the proposition is decided upon.

The University of Pittsburgh, Colgate and Penn State are the institutions that will take part in the second triangle debate which is scheduled to take place on March fourth. On that date one of the teams representing Pitt will meet Colgate, a Colgate team will travel to Penn State to debate with the Nittany debaters, while the other Penn State squad will go to Pitt for a contest with that institution. Three questions have been submitted by these schools for the three evening debates and work on the selecting of the one proposition to be used by all the teams is progressing at a rapid rate. Colgate is reported to be in favor of the proposition "Resolved: That the Federal Government should own and operate the railroads in the United States, constitutionally waived." Pitt declared for the proposition, "Resolved: That the United States Government should enact a right Japanese Exclusion Law." Before the voting is to be used in the selection of the subject.

Later on in the season, a twenty-four hour debate with Princeton will be held. This type of debate is much more interesting at the institution than any other, much as it is a title of the contest, that the subject of the debate shall be announced to both teams until twenty-four hours before the contest is to be held. The Orange and Blue debaters have a crack debating team and this debate will in all probability be one of the best that is on this year's schedule.

GIRLS HOCKEY TEAMS IN INTERCLASS GAMES

The first two matches in the interclass competition in field hockey among women students were played Saturday afternoon, Nov. 13th. The senior Freshman contest resulted in a defeat for the seniors, 6-0. The Senior team has been hampered by a serious number of players in this sport. The Freshmen showing plenty of enthusiasm and promise. A contest between Juniors and Sophomores was better played, the Juniors being better than the Sophomores, but the latter, in the absence of their captain, Maxton, played at center half. This game resulted in a tie, 2-2, which may be played out later.

BEZDEK REFUSES TO TALK OF POST-SEASON CONTEST

Coach Bezdek refuses to discuss the possibility of a post-season game between contest with Notre Dame. His entire time and energy is being centered on but one thing, the contest with Pitt on Thanksgiving Day and according to a recent statement he will not entertain a thought in reference to post-season work until the day after that game has been played.

One of the eastern newspapers recently brought out the fact that several prominent New York sporting men were desirous of staging a contest between Penn State and Notre Dame at the Polo Grounds on December fourth. At the present time it is not known as to what stand the westerners have taken or may take on the matter. One fact is certain Penn State is not thinking about it until the regular season has been completed.
