

PENN MEDICAL SCHOOL
COMMENTS PRE-MEDS

Professor E. H. Dushman, who is in charge of the Zoology Department at this institution, recently received from Dean of the School of Medicine at Penn a highly commendable letter on the work of students who took up the pre-medical course here and then went to Penn to complete their course. Of the twenty-eight men who formerly attended here, not one has been dropped from the school although four have been dropped out of the class which they started in because of failure. Three of these students reported the year while only one quit. The lowest individual average for the work of former Penn State men in the last eleven years is 72.6 per cent and the highest is 85.7 per cent which show quite plainly the high caliber of work that the men have performed. The class averages for these years run between eighty and eighty-two per cent, and the condensed summary which the Dean sent is as follows:

- 7 men in first year class.
- 14 men above class average—6 excellent.
- 11 men below class average.
- 2 men withdrew in good standing.
- 1 man withdrew with conditions.

35 men.
Since the class average has been so high it can be easily seen that falling below the class average does not necessarily mean failure or a low average.

and foreign-settled districts of Chicago and decided to throw his life energies into the modern social conflict. After receiving his Master's degree from Northwestern, he turned his attention abroad, making four trips to Great Britain where he was prominently identified with labor and religious movements. He took up his residence at Oxford and from there as a center, traveled extensively, delivering scores of addresses, and gaining a unique knowledge of the British labor movement. Had he chosen, he would in all probability have been elected to a seat in Parliament.

Returning to America, Mr. Wilson was elected mayor of Berkeley, California, holding this office for three years and gaining a reputation as one of the foremost public speakers of the Pacific Coast. During the War he was in continual demand for addresses and was a tremendous factor in stimulating loyalty and patriotism. His only son was killed in aviation at Mather's Field.

News From Other Colleges

OHIO WESLEYAN—The Wesleyan football men were recently tendered a unique surprise when they were the guests of honor at an immense informal star banquet. All of the students of the institution took part in the affair, which was something out of the ordinary for this school, inasmuch as it is customary for the Penn-Helvetia Council to give the banquet for the men of the football squads only.

STEVENS—The new library is expected to be completed within a short time. The building is a fine structure and when finished will contain a museum, a complete collection of books, and rooms for the use of the various student organizations.

MITCHELL—Armistice Day was fittingly celebrated by the undergraduate boys. The program of the day included a parade, the annual Freshman-Sophomore football game, and a large number of smokers in the evening.

SACRAMENTO
For two years, his time has been in constant demand for series of addresses to college students, and under the auspices of the student Department of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. he has spoken in the colleges and universities of New England, and the East, the Middle West, the South, the Rocky Mountain States, the Pacific Coast and Canada.

Student audiences numbering thousands have greeted him at both convocations and special mass meetings in such institutions as the University of Pennsylvania, Colgate, Ohio State University, University of Georgia, Tulane, University of Missouri, Texas, Bates, University of California, and many others.

His years of thorough study of social questions, combined with power and directness as a speaker, have made him a prophet of the hour. The addresses form a series on the general theme of "Constructive Christian Democracy."

the calibre of the field entered for the meet, however, it is evident that they gave a good exhibition of cross country running in finishing fourth among the seventeen colleges and universities which were represented at the start-off line.

Freshmen Place Fourth
Before the varsity race was run, Freshman teams representing eight institutions competed in a separate three mile race. This event was won by the Yale yearlings, who made the low score of thirty-six points. Penn State and Syracuse tied for third place with eighty-five points each while Princeton won second place with forty-three points. The other four teams entered finished as follows: Columbia, 114 points; Harvard, 114 points; Massachusetts Tech, 135 points; and Penn, 208 points. The first Blue and White yearling to cross the mark was Deck, who finished tenth. The next Pitt yearling first year man to was hotly contested but was won by the yearling eleven.

Sophomores who proved too heavy for LAFAYETTE—March Field has been the scene of great activity during the last three weeks. Additional stands are being erected to accommodate the record-breaking crowd which is expected to attend the Lehigh-Lafayette game. In addition to the new grandstand which has a seating capacity of two thousand, temporary stands are being built on all the available space around the field.

SYRACUSE—The manager of the varsity debaters has recently announced that the interfraternity debates will be held this month. Eleven fraternities have entered teams and more are expected to do so in the near future. The propositions for the various debates will in all probability be upon some phase of the present industrial disputes. The School of Oratory is offering a beautiful silver loving cup to the successful fraternity.

completes the course was Hamilton, who was thirteenth. The other five men in order named were Wilhelm, eighteenth; Shultz, twenty-first; Keplinger, twenty-third; Wendler, twenty-ninth; and Pierson, thirty-third. The time for the course made by the winner, Douglas, of Yale, was sixteen minutes and thirty seconds.

Intercollegiate closed the season for the Penn State hurriers. It was the desire of the managers to schedule a meet with Carnegie Tech, to be held at Pittsburgh on Thanksgiving Day in conjunction with the football contest with Pitt, but the plans did not materialize. The team has taken part in two meets this fall. The first was with the University of Pennsylvania on October thirtieth, before the gridiron battle with the Quakers. This race the Blue and White won easily by the score of 19 to 29. Another meet was scheduled with Lehigh on the thirteenth of this month but had to be cancelled. The only other opportunity for the hill and dale men to show themselves in action was last Saturday's meet, and here they proved themselves to be one of the strongest teams in the eastern part of the country.

claimed the best in the East. Muhlenberg, Gettysburg, Dartmouth, North Carolina, Nebraska, Penn and Lebanon Valley, have tested d'font at their hands by no mean scores. Lehigh caused a sensation in the football world when it held the Nittany combination to a 7 to 7 tie but did not outplay the Blue and White by any margin. This game has had a beneficial effect on the Penn State training and will send the eleven to Pittsburgh in a fighting frame of mind that should be hard to beat.

Penn State Line-up Decided
Coach Beak announces that Brown and Hurford will occupy the end berth on the Nittany eleven. Beak will be in his old position at left tackle with Dick Hauch as his team mate in the other tackle position. As usual Red Griffiths will play at left guard and Captain Hess at right guard, while Bentz will occupy the center of the team. The backfield will be made up of Killinger, Haines, Way and Snell. This combination has been found to be the best in all ways. The following men will be taken in case any substitutions have to be made: McCullum and Hoppenall, ends; Shuster, Baer, and Roeder, tackles; Legue and Hills, guards; McMahon, center; Williams and Ritzer, quarterbacks; Knabbe and Lightner, half backs; and Rugh full back. A number of other on the squad may also be taken. The line-up will most likely be as follows.

THANKSGIVING NIGHT NOV. 25

A fact:
Day in and day out, at the Pennsylvania R. R. Station, New York, the sales of Fatima exceed those of any other cigarette.

Two things might make you want to change your cigarette

FOR example, you might find straight Turkish cigarettes too rich for steady smoking, because of too much Turkish tobacco.

Or you might find ordinary part-Turkish or Turkish Blend cigarettes "thin" and "flat", because of too little Turkish.

In either case (should you decide to change) the logical choice would be a cigarette containing "just enough Turkish."

The only cigarette that contains just Turkish than the straight Turkish brands and more than any other Turkish Blend is Fatima.

This is the basis for Fatima's claim of "just enough Turkish."

And scores of sales facts such as the one shown above surely seem to justify Fatima's claim.
